Women of First Church, Newton Centre, Observe Unusual Anniversary

On Tuesday, April 29th, the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the Woman's Benevolent Society, the old First Church of Newton Centre was a beautiful sight. The tables, seating about 200, were decorated with jonquils and forsythia, while at each speaker's place was a bouquet of flowers. The Sunday School orchestra in the gallery furnished the music.

When all were seated, at the tables, Madam Noyes, mother of the pastor, offered grace. The banquet, a very bountiful one, lasted about an hour. Near its end the Birthday cake resplendent with candles was brought on. Mrs. S. C. Morse, President of the Society, then said that she was sorry that she could not give all her children a piece.

After the banquet, members of the Society and their guests rose and sang, "Onward Christian Soldiers," and "Auld Lang Syne." Mrs. Morse then introduced the first speaker.

The first speaker was Mrs. Albert L. Harwood who gave the History of the Society for the last 100 years. She said that it was in the 15th year of the existence of the church that the Woman's Society was formed. It was first called the "Ladies' Friendly Society" and looked after the needy. She gave an excellent account of the work of the society in both home and foreign fields.

At the conclusion of her speech, a Missionary Service Flag was presented to the Rev. Edward Noyes for the Church. It contained 13 stars for Foreign Missions, and 7 for Home Missions. In accepting the flag, Mr. Noyes called attention to the fact that the flag had always stood for unity and devotion, and he felt sure, he said, that it would continue to stand for these qualities.

Mrs. Morse the introduced Mrs. Henry Bally, the chairman of the Hospitality Committee and the Toastmistress. After several humorous allusions to her position as toastmistress, Mrs. Bally read the following original poem:

"You know the tale of the one hoss shay
That was built in such a wonderful way,
It ran a hundred years to a day.
How the parson had tried with all his might
To make his flivver strong and tight,
In fact—he thought it perfectly right

When all of a sudden—but you know its fate,
How 'twas a wreck on the very date
That the parson expected to celebrate.

You have heard, if you've listened, my dears,
What we have done in a hundred years.
In this old First Church in Newton town,

'Twas church of great and wide renown.
At first our numbers and mites were small,
Just how much we can't recall.

But we know they were credited all,
And when, a hundred years from now,
Our children's children are telling how
Their grandmothers did in olden days.

May our record be in many ways
Like the poor parson's perfect chaise,
But we'll warn you now—before its too late

What will be the terrible fate
Of our high record up to date
If we should stop in our rapid flight,
And not look upward toward the light
That rises far beyond our sight.
From the parson's gig we'll a lesson take
And not like him make the great mistake
Of settling down and our comfort take,
But, on we'll work, sowing the seed
That when the children the records read
May it be of many a loving deed."

She then introduced Mrs. Theodore Holmes, wife of former pastor of the church. Mrs. Holmes said that she had been a member of the society for 36 years, and that she had always thought the members of the society a remarkable group, and that her love for the grand old society was still warm.

Following Mrs. Holmes, Miss Maria Furber Wood, in a costume of "ye olden time," gave a tribute to Mrs. Maria Furber, the beloved wife of Dr. Furber, a former pastor of the church. This woman whose portrait hangs upon the walls of the church beside that of her husband, was in many ways a remarkable character. Before her marriage she taught school in Hanover, N. H. It was of her school that the popular book "What Katie Did At School" was written. Miss Wood called attention to her intellect, her

MEMORIAL SERVICE

St. John's Church of Newtonville Honors Its Heroic Dead

The members of St. John's Church, Newtonville, the Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector, crowded the church last Sunday morning to pay tribute to the memory of the men who gave their lives in the Great War. The order of service, arranged by Bishop Lawrence himself, was particularly fitting and inspiring. The choir was at its best, and sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Souls of the Righteous," and "Hark, Hark, My Soul." In the latter anthem the alto solo was beautifully sung by Mrs. Theodore M. Reed. The Rector said in part: "The star of gold! How many such stars there are in our land alone. Seventy thousand stars in seventy thousand homes. And each and every star reminding us of how in this world light and darkness, joy and sorrow, are wonderfully mingled. So it was on Friday last when amid the elation incident to the home coming of our men, there was a sobering side which those best understood who looked in vain for some familiar face. Not all were there to whom we waved farewell, and whom we hoped—hoping sometimes against hope—to see again. Three there were from this parish for whom we looked in vain—Arthur K. Atkins, Paul Jones Barnum, Edwin Hayden. For them we looked. But they were not there. And so it will be the whole world over as fathers and mothers, sweethearts and wives, watch returning soldiers passing by. Not there! But only because they did their full part. They bore the hardships of the camp and of the march. They helped to stem that tide which moved on and on and ever on toward Paris. They kept their rendezvous with death. And just as yesterday we paid our tribute to the living, so now we pay our tribute to the dead. We commemorate their courage of self. We commemorate their noble example. And as we lay our wreaths upon their graves we are proud to know that humanity, with all its faults, can yield such men as they. God bless those men! God bless them every one!"

Dr. Martin, former Professor at Yale, spoke at the Lasell chapel on Tuesday.

POP CONCERT

Successful Community Affair at Temple Hall, Newtonville

One of the most successful community events ever held in Newtonville was the Pop Concert and Dance held Saturday evening, April 26th, at Temple Hall, for the benefit of the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service, in place of the Newtonville May Breakfast. Society turned out en masse. Four hundred guests participated in the festivities, and the number was limited only by the size of the hall.

The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion and the tables were adorned with flowering plants which were later sold to the highest bidder. The forty waitresses were very attractive in their white dresses and caps as were the candy girls with their pretty wreaths and dainty baskets. The latter cleared $100.

The entertainment consisted of selections by the orchestra, stories by "Buck" Chandler, the well-known Dartmouth entertainer, duets by Miss Gladys Avery and Mr. Elisha Avery, cornet and trombone selections, songs and dances. Knight's orchestra furnished the music.

After the entertainment the tables and chairs were quickly cleared away, and there was general dancing till 12 o'clock.

Soft drinks, "smokes," candy, nuts and ice cream and cake were sold during the evening. About $400 was cleared for the Junior League. This amount is over $100 more than the Newtonville May Breakfast has ever brought, and it is hoped that some entertainment of this kind may be an annual event. The committee in charge were: Mrs. Raymond Tucker, Mrs. J. Mervin Allen, Miss Mary L. Rolfe, Mrs. Harold B. Sherman and Mrs. Clinton B. Willey.

The committee wishes to thank publicly all those who aided in any way as waitresses, candy girls or helpers; also those who gave cake, candy, nuts or money. Special thanks are due to the Masons for the use of the hall (and to Mr. Snyder in particular, for his helpful work); to the Newton Club, for the use of the small tables; to Mr. Vose for the tickets and to Mr. Hayward Rolfe for the programs; to Mr. Mills and Mr. Gregg for their chairs, to Mr. Orr and Mr. Bridgman for the plants lent; and to the artists in particular, without whom no concert would have been possible.

THE VICTORY LOAN

Newton's Quota About One-Third Filled $1,444,100 Total To Date

During the first half of the time allotted to the canvass for the Fifth or Victory Liberty Loan, only a third of Newton's minimum allotment of $4,335,000 was secured, the total amount reported by the local banks and credited from outside banks being less than $1,900,000 through Wednesday.

Doubtless all sorts of reasons that may seem good to the man or woman who does not want to subscribe may be advanced but two things remain facts:

First, the money represented by these notes has been spent or contracted for; it has been used to finish the war, to bring the soldiers home or will be used to feed and clothe our boys overseas and fetch them home. To help in doing these things is the duty of every true American, just as much his duty, as it was before the fighting stopped.

Second, The Victory notes are the best investment of all the loans for these reasons:

The interest is high and not one cent is taken for any income taxes, except the so-called sur-taxes, which apply only to the larger incomes.

Third, Because of the rate of interest and the short time the notes run there is every reason to believe that they will remain at or very close to par. Therefore, you can count them as ready money, which you can get at any time you need to use it.

Fourth, You do not have to pay for them all at once. There are six dates for payment, counting the first one, and the last is not until next November. What an easy way to save for the rainy day, for the boy's education, for the girl's wedding and

In saving for yourself, you are helping your country, the best, the freest, happiest country under the blue sky. The total subscriptions to last night follow:

MR. COBB'S FUNERAL

Following a house service for Darius Cobb, the artist, which was conducted by Rev. George G. Phipps there was a largely attended funeral at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church Saturday afternoon at which two ministers officiated, Rev. Geo. T. Smart giving the scriptural reading and prayer, and Rev. Stephen H. Robin, D.D., delivering an eulogy on the long and active life of Mr. Cobb.

The Lotus Quartet sang several selections, "Just Beyond the Hilltop," "In the Garden," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Tell Me the Story of Jesus," which the Lotus Quartet often sang at Mr. Cobb's studio. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," a favorite hymn with Mr. Cobb and all his family, was sung by the congregation. John H. Loud was the organist, and before and following the service he played the Chopin and Mendelssohn funeral music.

At the conclusion of the regular service William H. Smart Post 30 of Cambridge performed the G. A. R. ritual. Members of Charles Ward Post of Newton also were in attendance on the church as were members of other organizations to which Mr. Cobb belonged, and many of his fellow artists. There were no pallbearers, but serving as ushers were Messrs. Leonard Boyd, John Webster, William O'Connor and William B. Wood, all of Newton Highlands. The burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

strong democratic views, her hospitality, and her kindness. She showed a small portrait of her which she had with her, and spoke of a pin Mrs. Furber had given her.

The second speaker was Miss Elizabeth Smith who spoke of the Maria B. Furber Missionary Society which was founded in September 1883, for the young ladies of the church. Dr. Holmes who was heartily in sympathy with the organization, gave a lecture on "Cavalry Life during the War," which netted $100 for the society. On that occasion, Miss Smith recalled the singing of the Civil War songs by the gentlemen led by Col. Kingsbury. Mr. Bishop presided and the Charles Ward Post marched to the tune of "Tramp, tramp, tramp." Miss Smith concluded her speech by repeating the prayer with which the meeting of the society used to close.

The third speaker, Mrs. Joseph Colby, said that she had joined the society when she was 11 years old. She said that she remembered the people of the church as being remarkably good-looking. As a girl she said that she had stood somewhat in awe of Mrs. Furber who had, on one occasion, reprimanded her for not rising promptly. She called attention to two things, the increase in the spirit of tolerance at the present time, and an increase in community spirit. The latter, she said, was due largely to the pastor, Mr. Noyes.

Mrs. Edward Hincks, formerly Besie Clark, then gave three incidents from her childhood days. She told first of the time when deserted by her brother, Col. Kingsbury found her crying and comforted her. The second incident was of a time when she was a teacher in the Mason school which she had never forgotten. The third incident was of the time when she braved Miss Corneli's wrath (Principal of the Select School for Girls) by confessing that it was she who rang Miss Corneli's door bell on May 1st.

Following Mrs. Hinck's, Mrs. Miles B. Fisher of Cambridge gave impressions of the church as she remembered it. She agreed with Mrs. Colby that the people were particularly good-looking, but she added that she found them exceedingly competent, and more reserved than in the West. As an example of the reserve of New Englanders she told the story of two farmers meeting and greeting each other. One then told the other that he had given his sick horse kerosene, but he failed to add the information that the horse had died from its effects. She said that she believed the people of the West liked to make changes, while those of the East were more reluctant to adopt new measures.

Mrs. Otis Cary of Kyoto, Japan, then spoke of the splendid work of the Japanese Mission which will celebrate its 50th anniversary next month. She gave some amusing incidents of the economy of the Japanese people. She said that they would open their fans only half way to save the fan, and one had even suggested that a still better way to save the fan would be to move the head back and forth instead of the fan. In concluding, she spoke of three ways of writing 100.

One might write it in words, or write it in figures, or use Roman numerals. As for herself, she said, she preferred to write it "I owe, owe all to the Master."

Mrs. Edward Noyes was then called upon to speak of the children's "Shine Society." She said that in the last 13 years, the society had had nearly 200 members, and had raised about $1,000.

A vote of thanks was then given to the committee in charge of the celebration. The committee included Mrs. C. Peter Clark, chairman; Mrs. C. L. Harwood, Mrs. Charles E. Kelsey, Mrs. George A. Holmes, Mrs. Daniel T. Kidder, Mrs. Fred Lesh, and Miss Eva Ransom. The afternoon closed with the singing of "America the Beautiful."

THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER

In this day of sensational "Movies" it is a relief to discover a really suitable entertainment for children of school age, and for this reason the Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston are meeting with universal favor. Next week, the club will produce under the direction of Miss Ethel Hale Freeman of West Newton, a dramatization of Mark Twain's famous story, "The Prince and the Pauper" in Jordan Hall on Thursday and Saturday afternoons, May 8 and 10 at 2.15 P. M. for the benefit of the Smith College Relief Unit and Home Relief Work.

Helen Gansse Head, who delighted her audiences last year in Little Lord Fauntleroy, will play the double role of Prince Edward Sixth and the Pauper, Tom Canty.
The cast includes the following: Helen Gansse Head, Annette Symmes Hughes, Ethel Hale Freeman, Margaret Taylor, Edna Woodruff Hubbard, Helen S. Eyster, Bonnie M. Jarvis, Sylvia S. Burdett, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Priscilla Ordway, Marguerite Collins, Edith B. Gardner, and Margaret Arnold, Ora Crotchet, Harriet Ellison, Anne D. French, Katherine Gansse, Edith Gardner, Dorothy Gray, Fannie Gray, Elizabeth Hartshorne, Bernice Hodges, Ethel Howland, Ruth Johnson, Eunice Leonard, Edith May, Julia McGuire, Elizabeth Newhall, Mary Newhall, Lillian Prudden, Barbara Rich, Dorothy Seaborn, Katharine Stone, and Charlotte Whittlesey.

SURPRISE PARTY

A pleasant surprise party was given on her birthday, to Mrs. Edward W. Pingree of Avon place, Newton, by relatives and friends, who presented her with a parlor rooster and a beautiful bouquet of carnations.

As Mrs. Pingree has just recovered from a recent illness, the evening's entertainment was devoted chiefly to music followed by refreshments. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Pingree, Misses Ruth and Doris Pingree, Mr. Arthur Pingree, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Black, Miss Empey Furgerson and Mr. Gordon Fowler of Newton, Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler, Mrs. Fowler and Miss Esther Stalling of Brighton, Mr. and Mrs. William Fessenden of Newton Lower Falls, Mr. and Mrs. James Fessenden of West Newton, Miss Winifred Henderson, Watertown, Mrs. Severance and daughter and Mrs. Charles Barker of Abundant.

Demonstration Home Garden

It's the first head of lettuce, the first tomato, or the first cucumber that the home gardener relishes the most. But the little extra care required to produce these early vegetables is well worth while. The seeds are first planted in a hotbed or seed flat in the house and then placed in their new environment through the process of transplanting when the weather conditions become suitable.

Transplanting is an operation that any one can perform with success provided attention is given to a few essential considerations such as hardiness of the plant itself, its development, the physical condition of the soil and weather conditions.

When transplanting be careful not to disturb the root system. The small rootlets are very tender and to break these off only lessens the chances of the plant to live. So take up as much of the adhering dirt as possible along with the plant.

Water the plants thoroughly a few hours before transplanting. It is a common practice to dip the roots of the plants before they are set out into a thin paste made by mixing equal parts of garden soil and water.

The plants should be set a little deeper than they were before. With a dibble or trowel make a hole in the ground just deep enough to insert the root system of the plant, insert the plant and firm the soil around it.

Thoroughly soak the soil around the plant with water and next morning loose dirt should be pulled over that portion of the ground to preserve the moisture.

Select a cloudy or rainy day for transplanting. To protect the plants from the sun use shingles, strawberry boxes, or newspapers.
Tomatoes, eggplants, peppers, melons, squashes and cucumbers should not be transplanted to the open ground until about the first of June. Early cabbages, lettuce, young beets, onions or any of the other hardy vegetables can be set out any time now.

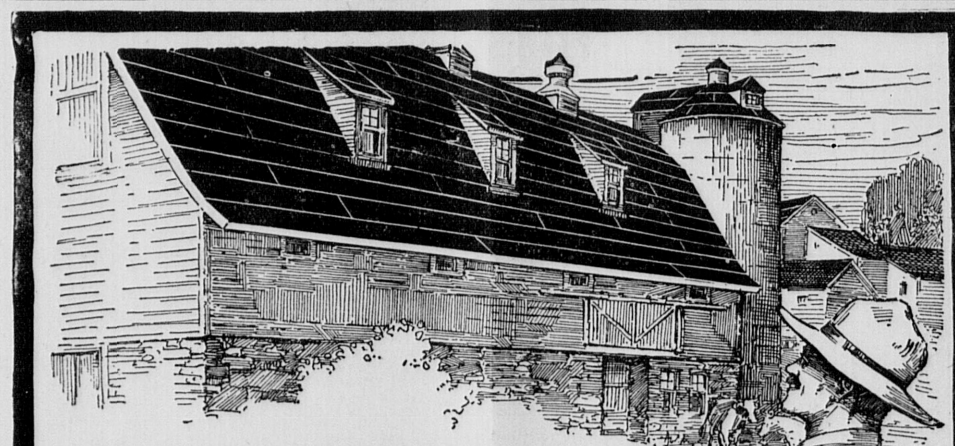

Next week cutworms and their control will be considered.

NEWTON AMATEUR OPERA ASSOCIATION

Members of the cast which recently gave such a fine production of "Miss Independence" held a most enjoyable reunion at Players Small hall, West Newton, on Tuesday evening. About fifty were present and the original and unique stunts pulled off aroused great amusement. Mr. L. D. G. Bentley made a great hit as "Buster Brown" and as the leader in a "kid's party."

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE OF THE VICTORY DRIVE

Booths for the selling of Liberty bonds have been established by the Woman's Committee in Waban, Lower Falls, two in Chestnut Hill, one under Mrs. E. S. Webster and under Mrs. Radway, and in Newton Highlands, in Newton the committee have established their headquarters in Newcomb's store, and in the banks. The women in Abundant are selling bonds in the bank. The hours are 9 to 4.30 and 7 to 9 P. M.

Look to Your Roof

When you roof farm buildings use the material that is going to give you the best service per dollar expended. If you buy cheap roofing you will never get more than you pay for, and many times you get less. Poor roofing on your buildings is bad economy for a leaky roof will make a good building practically worthless. So see to it that your buildings are covered with a roofing that has stood the test of time—cover them with

RU-BER-OID ROOFING

Ru-ber-oid was the first and for many years the only prepared roofing on the market. For more than twenty five years it has stood the severest tests that Nature could put upon it. It has been used in every climate from the Arctic to the tropics and under the most trying weather conditions has proven its remarkable worth.

The Standard Paint Company, manufacturers of Ru-ber-oid, have always striven to put into this product the benefit of their long experience in the manufacture of ready-roofing. Ru-ber-oid has never been cheapened to meet price competition. Therefore it is more expensive than other brands of roofings. But the wise buyer gauges the value of roofing by its lasting quality and not by its first cost. In terms of years' service, Ru-ber-oid is the cheapest roofing that you can buy.

You should know more about Ru-ber-oid Roofing. Phone us today for samples and prices.

DEATH OF MR. JONES

Mr. Frederic W. Jones, for over twenty years a prominent and well known resident of Auburndale, died last week Wednesday, at his home on Chaske Avenue in that village, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Jones was born at Ashland, Mass., April 10, 1860 and had just passed his 59th birthday.

For the past 44 years Mr. Jones has been employed by the B. & A. R. R. Co. and was one of the best known engineers in the service.

He served as Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and had just resigned the position of secretary-treasurer of the order. He was a past warden of Riverdale Lodge N. E. O. P., and was a charter member of Bethesda Lodge I. O. O. F., of South Boston. He was a member and at one time chairman of the Ward 4 Republican committee and served as ward alderman in 1911-12-13.

Mr. Jones was twice married and is survived by his second wife and a son and daughter by his first marriage, Frederick H. Jones, no win service in France and Mrs. Amy T. Newton, of New Jersey.

The funeral services, held on Sunday afternoon at the Auburndale Congregational Church, were attended by many friends and associates, including Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Representative Bernard Early, former members of the city government, and delegations from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Allston Division, 367, Kennison Division of Worcester, 224, the Odd Fellows and Riverdale Lodge, N. E. O. P. The services were in charge of Rev. Dr. Edward P. Drew, pastor of the church, assisted by the former pastor, Rev. Dr. Wm. C. Gordon, who delivered the eulogy. A quartet sang "God is Love," "Passing out of the Shadow," and "Crossing the Bar." The Odd Fellows' burial service was also held under direction of Noble Grand Edward Sampson of Bethesda Lodge of South Boston. The ushers were Messrs. W. B. Smith, A. L. Cummings, A. C. Harper, H. L. Curtis and Myron King. The bearers were Messrs. O. W. Clapp, Ashton Harris, C. W. Adams, G. T. Austin, H. M. Gates, Arthur Morrison, W. L. Lancaster and H. B. Lovell.

The interment was at Ashland, Mass., where the burial rites of the Brotherhood were held at the grave.

CARD OF THANKS

We are exceedingly grateful for the many expressions of kindness and sympathy and the many beautiful flowers which have been tendered to us during illness, death and funeral of Mr. Frederic W. Jones.
MRS. F. W. JONES and FAMILY.

DEATH OF LUCY J. MITCHELL

To the people of Newton Highlands, pupils, teachers and parents there has recently come a great loss in the death of Lucy Jane Mitchell, for over sixteen years teacher in the Hyde School.

An eminent educator has recently said that mere facts in education fade but it is the spirit which "carries on" into life, and to all who knew Miss Mitchell this will seem a living truth. It was the spirit about her of helpfulness, sympathy and understanding which, aside from efficient teaching, drew outsiders constantly to her school room. It was that spirit which her children absorbed unconsciously. Hardly a single session could have passed during all these years without Miss Mitchell giving some concrete lesson in politeness, unselfishness, kindness to those younger or weaker, obedience to parents, generosity to those less fortunate. They were not studied, pre-arranged lessons, there lay their charm, but they slipped into the day's work unconsciously because they were the outcome of her own character rich in these very qualities.

Her generous, loyal attitude toward other teachers must remain with us always. She seemed more pleased when another teacher received praise from supervisors or parents than when it came to herself. A discouraged teacher always knew where to go for sympathy and encouragement. To how many a weary, troubled mother she has given council sometimes, but more often just her loving sympathy. There lay the charm which will "carry on" with us as long as memory shall last.

Loving, understanding, sympathizing with our joys and sorrows, giving to us all of her buoyant spirit of friendliness, she has left us saying as in one great chorus "How we loved her!"

LECTURE ON BIRDS

An unusually interesting meeting was held under the auspices of the Audubon Society last Sunday evening in the Central Church. Last week was set apart by many schools in Massachusetts as animal week, so that a lecture on birds came at an appropriate time.

Colored slides gave a very good idea of the habits and habitats of our bird neighbors. The speaker made it evident that in our patriotic endeavors to aid our government by planting gardens and thus raising food to feed the needy, we should seek the aid of the birds.

When we realize that 21,000 bushels of insects are destroyed daily by our insect-loving birds, one cannot afford to lose a chance of having birds as neighbors.

A lady upon whose grounds the rose-breasted grosbeaks have built their nests noticed that she had far less potato bugs than formerly, as these birds devour great numbers of potato bugs.

The speaker proved that birds appreciate and abundantly repay man for all efforts on his part in protecting them by building bird-houses, and feeding them.

The lecture concluded with an appeal to the women not to use negligees on their hats because the getting of this plumage causes untold agony to the birds themselves and death by starvation to the young.

At the close of the lecture records of the songs of the different birds were played.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—The trick has been turned. The engagement of Al Jolson, the greatest entertainer in the world, in the Winter Garden's most opulent extravaganza, "Sinbad," has turned out to be the greatest success in the theatrical history of New England. The beautiful Boston Opera House is crowded at every performance, from the last row in the orchestra to the last row in the gallery. "Sinbad" is a combination Arabian Nights spectacle and Fashion Show in which the opulence of the Orient is merged with the sorcery of magnificently robed and unrobed sirens and the lit of seductive tunes. Plaintive ballads of the East alternate with shivery jazzes, and the sense is constantly assaulted, battered and stunned by the swirling kaleidoscope of gorgeous settings, brilliant costumes and flashing flesh. It's revelry gone mad, and a tremendous hit!

COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

New officers for the 1919-20 Country Day School Dramatic Club have been elected as follows: President, Rhodes Lockwood, '20; secretary-treasurer, James J. Phelan, Jr., '20; manager, Milton Thompson, '20; stage manager, Morgan M. Harris, '20. The club has contributed 250, representing the net proceeds of its recent presentation of "The Private Secretary" to the French Fund for the Relief of Children of the Frontiers.

Members of the seven upper classes will take part in a public program of French recitations, songs, and plays to be given wholly in French, on Friday afternoon, May 9, under the direction of Mr. Edmund Whitten of the French department. The two special features will be the play "La Grammaire" given by Robert Sumner, Richard Dwight, John Houghton, John Toulmin, and Daniel Low of the third class, and a recitation, Daudet's "La Dernière Classe" given by Joseph Demiere, and illustrated in tableaux by Edward Goodale, William Soule, Philip Fowler, and William Brewster of the fifth class.

One of the bronze medals offered by the National Society of Colonial Daughters for the promotion of patriotic education has been presented to the school to be awarded by the faculty to the boy who has the best record of patriotic service during the current school year.

Members of the school faculty were the special guests at the annual dinner of the Country Day School Club of Harvard at the Thorndike, Wednesday evening. Plans were made at this meeting for the formation of a general alumni association.

The baseball team lost its opening game of the season at Concord with Middlesex Saturday, by a score of 6 to 0. Saturday, the nine is to meet Milton and hopes to make up for last year's reverse. Tuesday afternoon, an alumni game is to be played with Buck Butterfield, crack Harvard pitcher and an old school captain, in the box.

Telephone Rates Increased

ADDITIONAL revenue is imperatively necessary to meet the heavily increased costs of operating the telephone service.

The officials operating the property of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company have therefore recommended, and the Postmaster General has approved, changes in rate schedules which will apportion the necessary increases equitably to all classes of service.

These changes may be summarized as follows:

An increase of 50 cents a month to all flat rate or measured service business subscribers, the latter, however, being given an additional allowance of ten calls per month.

An increase of 25 cents a month to all flat rate or measured service residence subscribers, the latter, however, being given an additional allowance of five calls per month.

An increase of one cent per call on excess business measured service calls, as follows:

Annual messages in excess of minimum guarantee when the total, including the minimum, does not exceed 6,000, 4 cents each.

Messages in excess of 6,000, 3 1/4 cents each.

Messages in excess of 12,000, 3 1/2 cents each.

An increase of 25 cents a month for extension sets, unlimited service, and of 17 cents a month for extension sets, measured service.

Private branch exchange switchboards charged for at a graduated scale based on size of equipment. Private branch exchange measured service calls charged for on the same basis as individual line measured service calls.

Flat rate business private branch exchange stations increased 50 cents per month, each; flat rate residence private branch exchange stations increased 25 cents per month, each.

Subscribers to season service at certain summer resorts, who have service any time between July 1 and September 30, charged for a minimum of seven months.

Mileage rates increased to the standard of other telephone companies, the distance from the central office to be measured on airline basis instead of on route basis.

Charges for measured service computed on the basis of monthly contracts.

District rates abolished in a number of communities, mainly in Central and Western Massachusetts.

Unlimited business flat rates abolished in Boston (Central District), Worcester and Springfield; likewise the 2-party residence flat rate in Boston (Central District) and the 2-party business flat rate in Suburban districts.

Further information or complete schedules of new rates will be furnished on application to the Manager.

The Postmaster General has authorized the schedules containing the above changes to be effective May 1, 1919.

THE BIRD CLUB

The fifth walk of the Newton Highlands Bird Club was from the Beaver Brook Reservation at the Waverley Oaks, along the highway as far as the golf club, then across country to the Lexington car line. Tuesday failed to fulfill its threat of rain, but the sky was overcast, and a cold northwest wind, while it made the air beautifully clear, was not favorable to bird study. As usual, the swamp sparrow was singing near the old piggy but no rails or bitterns could be found. A grey marsh hawk, two brown thrashers, and a flock of myrtle warblers migrating with pines and ruby-crowned kinglets, were the other new birds. Only twenty-four varieties were listed, five of them sparrows, song, field, vesper, chipping and savanna, and the rest being the common spring list, including a sparrow hawk. On Thursday, the Junior Class for Boys had a full attendance, but they were obliged to cut short the walk on account of the heavy rain. They saw about a dozen species, however, and found several nests, besides gathering specimens of early spring flowers for their school work. Their next walk will begin at Longfellow's Pond.

PRIZE DEBATE

The Aquinas Debating Society of the high school of Our Lady, Newton, held their ninth annual prize debate last Tuesday evening in the school hall, before a large and interested audience. The subject was: Resolved: That National Prohibition is for the best interest of the people. The debaters were, John E. Murphy, '20, Edward A. Hickey, '20, and Lewis F. Kearn, '20, for the affirmative; Francis B. Driscoll, '20, Richard J. Leonard, '19, and James P. Akins, '20, for the negative. The judges were Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery, Rev. Walter J. Roche and Rev. Conrad J. Quinichell of the Church of Our Lady. The prize, a gold medal, was awarded James P. Akins.

The debate was followed by a short concert of readings by John Mahan and Miss Anna C. MacDonald and vocal solos by Walter Kearn and Paul Ryan.

NEWTON IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Newton Improvement Association was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Monday, April 28th. There were 135 people present. Dinner was served by the lady members of the Improvement Association under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Henry.

The following officers were unanimously elected for the ensuing year, president, Joseph B. Jamieson; treasurer, Fred W. Stone; secretary, W. L. Graves.

Executive Committee, the above, and F. H. Tucker, C. V. Moore, Mrs. R. C. Henry, Miss Martha L. Lathie, Edward Burbeck, J. H. Sellman and Stephen W. Holmes.

Mr. Raymond W. Sweet, teacher of Agriculture in the Newton Vocational High School, and formerly Supervisor of Gardening on the Newton Committee on Public Safety, gave an interesting talk on the "Back Yard Poultry Flock." Mr. Sweet's lecture was illustrated with lantern slides. Mr. Sweet advocated that poultry be kept in houses. He also advocated the building of hen houses without windows, but said that they should have a certain number of openings bearing a certain proportion to the area of the floor space.

Mr. Alfred MacDonald, Supervisor of Gardening in the City, told about his work among the school children. He stated that in grades 4, 5, and 7, gardening was now being taught as part of the school work. All children of these grades have instruction in the school room in gardening. This classroom instruction is further supplemented by out-of-door work in grade gardens. Gardening is correlated with drawing, language, and other nature study.

Mr. MacDonald further stated that the purpose of Nature Study should be to teach appreciation, and gardening is one of the best means to this end. School and home gardening among the children has had many beneficial results on the character and application of many children in keeping them from the streets during the summer.

Mr. MacDonald showed a motion picture of gardening at the Mary Hemenway School at Dorchester, where a plan similar to the Newton plan has been adopted. It was stated that the Newton schools have been pioneers in the work of teaching as part of the school work and that other nearby cities and towns are following the plan started in the Newton schools.

Land for the Bigelow School garden has been secured on the Hibbard Estate at Newton.

Y. M. C. A.

The Annual Banquet of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the Association Hall on Monday, May 5th, at 6:30. All Y. M. C. A. members who have seen service will be guests of the Association. The speakers will be Captain Wm. Duncan Reid, Lieut. Theo. R. Lockwood, and E. N. Huntress of Boston. Mr. J. J. Brines will be the song leader. Secretary H. W. Bascom will present the report of the year's work.

At nine o'clock a one-act play will be given under the leadership of Miss Ethel Hale Freeman of West Newton. This banquet will be a welcome home to our members who have been in the service, and it is expected there will be a large number out to make this welcome an enthusiastic one.

The first "get together" of our discharged soldiers and sailors will be at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Hall on Thursday evening, May 8th at 7:30 P. M., to hear Dr. Robt. L. Webb on the "Choosing of a Job," and to see a good movie and hear some good music. All ex-service men are invited to come around and discuss their problems.

This coal and gas range with two ovens is a wonder for cooking

Although less than four feet long it can do every kind of cooking for any ordinary family by gas in warm weather or by coal or wood when the kitchen needs heating.

There is absolutely no danger in this combination, as the gas range section is as entirely separate from the coal section as if placed in another part of the kitchen. By using both the coal and gas sections of the top, pine large utensils may be heated at one time.

A Large Roast and other baking can be done at the same time in the coal oven. The advantage is plain—Two Ovens give double capacity and allow the cook to complete the baking in one half the usual time.

—COPELEY REPERTORY THEATRE—The success of "The Thunderbolt" has deferred the production of "The Critic" at the Copley Repertory Theatre until next Monday. Richard Brinsley Sheridan is famous as the author of "The Rivals" and "The School for Scandal," both of which have been acted by the Henry Jewett Players, and next week will be presented for the first time on the Copley stage another play of his, "The Critic," which is a travesty of the methods of playmaking and playacting in its author's day. It was once called by the poet Byron the best farce in the English language, and undoubtedly he was right. Since "The Critic" is not a long play, a one act drama, entitled "The Monkey's Paw" will precede it.

NEW CAPTAIN

Some important changes have been made within the past few weeks in the official personnel of the Newton Company of the State Guard, Co. A of the 11th Regiment. Capt. Charles M. Ford, whose business takes him to New York has resigned and former Lieutenant Henry W. Crowell has received his commission as captain. Former Lieutenant Ellis Spear, Jr., has been commissioned as first lieutenant and John MacCleave of Wattham is a new second lieutenant. The appointment of the new non-commissioned officers have not yet been made.

Capt. Crowell is exceedingly anxious that the Newton Company shall be among the first, if not the very first company in the state to be re-organized as a national guard unit under the recent proclamation of Gov. Coolidge and has inaugurated an active campaign to re-enlist as many former members as possible of old Company C. There will be a meeting at the State Armory on Monday, May 12, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to which former members have been invited to attend.

On the Job in Hunland

Sooner than we had even hoped, the Armies of God and Humanity reached their appointed goal. Do you stop to realize that the American fighting men are still in that far land, policing their holy cause? Stand back of them to the twelfth hour.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The subject of war memorials has already been touched upon in this column. A suggestion has come that the one for Newton take the form of a municipal gymnasium for upbuilding the health not only of the children of the three high schools, but also that of the young people of the whole community. That the gymnasium equipment of our schools is far behind that of other cities and towns of the State is a well known fact and Newton has even been pointed to with derision in this matter. The revelations of the draft have been anything but flattering in the rejection of more than half and in some cases even three-quarters of the young men from physical defects. It is certainly time that something be done. This sort of a memorial would seem the most fitting thing which could be thought of. Ask the boys who have come home their opinion. Let them have their say in the matter. At least give this suggestion a place in the list already being considered and pass it on.

State Federation

As has been already announced the annual meeting of the Federation will be held at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, June 3, 4 and 5, opening on Tuesday evening, June 3rd, and continuing through Wednesday and Thursday forenoon. Arrangements have been made whereby a considerable number of delegates will be provided for in private homes in South Hadley, while those who desire the conveniences of a hotel will find the Nonotuck at Holyoke very comfortable and even the hotels in Springfield will be easily accessible for those who go by automobile. For accommodations in South Hadley, address Mrs. Louis E. Smith, 25 Woodbridge street, South Hadley, and for hotel reservations apply directly to the hotels.

A special train will be provided if the Federation guarantees 125 persons from South Station. This will leave at 12:34 and run directly through to Holyoke without change at Springfield. Luncheon will be served for all who attend the meeting in the large dining room in Student Alumnae Hall, where the sessions are to be held. In order to make proper provision for the comfort of all, those who expect to attend are requested to notify Mrs. W. E. Rowe before May 10th:

- (1) How many members from your club go by train from Boston?
- (2) How many luncheon tickets you require for Wednesday noon?
- (3) If any who plan to stay in Holyoke or Springfield wish dinner in South Hadley on Wednesday evening?

The committee and the College are both desirous of making everybody comfortable that the meeting may be a success from all points of view. In order to do this the co-operation in these details of those who plan to attend will do much toward bringing it about. Watch this column for further plans.

W. C. T. U.

A meeting in the interests of the Katherine Lent Stevenson memorial will be held at the W. C. T. U. headquarters, 541 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, Thursday, May 8, at 2:30 P. M. Miss Alice Stone Blackwell and Dean Sarah Louise Arnold of Simmons College will speak. The response to the request for gifts has been very gratifying and it is expected that the full amount will be pledged on that day, which is the anniversary of Mrs. Stevenson's birth.

Newton Federation

Plans for the Newton Federation annual meeting are now complete. Tuesday next will doubtless find the Central Congregational Church vestry filled to overflowing judging by the demand for luncheon tickets. The morning session opens at ten-thirty and will be given up to the regular business of the annual meeting, including reports of officers and committees, the action upon the proposed revision of the constitution and by-laws and the election of officers. Luncheon will be served at 12:30, after which there will be a short program of toasts. In the afternoon there will be vocal solos by Mrs. Raymond R. Fuller, and violin solos by Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley Hastings accompanied by Miss Lillian West. The two new clubs, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club and the Newton Community Club will be presented for membership. The President's report and the presentation of the new officers will also come at this time. A short play, "Lonesome Lake," by Harold B. Briggs will be presented by the following cast: Mrs. Allan Hubbard, Miss Dorothy Taylor, Miss Sylvia Burdett, and Mrs. E. C. Sands, members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Luncheon tickets will be available up to Saturday evening of this week.

Master Paul Chesley gave a splendid speech on the Victory Loan, after which a collection was taken, enabling the club to buy a $50 Victory Bond. Another $50 bond is to be bought with money left in the treasury of the Classes Committee. It

TO WELCOME THE BOYS HOME

That there is widespread interest in the plan to give a city-wide welcome to the soldiers, sailors and marines who are returning to their homes in this city was manifested at the meeting of the general committee at City Hall on Monday night when over 70 well known and prominent ladies and gentlemen were present.

During a general discussion of the matter, it was the opinion of those present that it was unwise to attempt to hold an all-day celebration and a program was tentatively approved which included an automobile parade thru every village in the city in the afternoon, leaving the guests at Norumbega Park in time for a short formal program in the theatre at which it is expected that Gov. Coolidge and General Edwards will be the principal speakers. After the speaking there will be a short entertainment on the stage followed by a substantial dinner, which will have to be served in a marquee in the ball field. The men will then be taken to the State Armory, where a ball will be given in their honor.

It is expected that there will be from 1500 to 1800 of the men who will be the guests of the city on the date selected, Saturday, June 7th.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

The Special Aid has now re-organized its work rooms on a permanent basis, with the object of meeting all demands for sewing or knitting which may come to the community as a whole, whether from local organizations or from state or national societies.

The rooms will be under the direction of the following committee:

Chairman, Mrs. E. M. Moore; vice-chairman, Mrs. L. D. Towle; director of sewing, Mrs. M. J. Irving; cutting, Mrs. L. S. Drake, Miss Braman; home work, Mrs. W. B. Clarkson, Miss Leah Bailey; "Salvage," Miss Emma A. Page; Special Aid Headquarters (Serbian and Polish relief), Mrs. J. A. Curran; Italian War Relief, Mrs. Frank A. Day; Devastated France, Mrs. W. R. Dewey; Woman's Seaman's Friend Society, Mrs. C. M. Ferris; Newton Hospital, Mrs. A. R. Weed; District Nurses' Association, Mrs. F. E. Stanley; Newton Welfare Bureau, Mrs. C. B. Beason.

It is hoped that anyone who is interested in sewing for any of the above organizations will come on Monday or Thursday to the Y. M. C. A. and "lend a hand," whether she is a member of the Special Aid or not. In spirit if not in name this is a community work-room, and the active support of the women of the community is earnestly solicited.

was announced that the proceeds of the "Waffle Luncheon" are to go toward the support of the club's French orphan. Between the reports, Miss Frances Mont, of the Melrose Woman's Club, led the singing of patriotic and popular songs. The following officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. Henry S. Dawson; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. R. Draper; 2nd vice-president, Miss Louise Peloubet; recording secretary, Mrs. H. L. Hardy; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. W. Peters; treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Winslow; directors, Miss Mabel Eager, Miss Eva Morse.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, the retiring president, presented the gavel with a particularly appropriate speech to Mrs. H. S. Dawson. The club then adjourned and went in a body to Auburn square to see the tank and to join in community singing, led by Miss Mont with her cornet.

The Newton Community Club at the meeting on April 24 elected the following list of officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith; first vice-president, Miss Jessie M. Fisher; second vice-president, Miss Edith Jamieson; third vice-president, Mrs. Sterling Elliott; recording secretary, Miss Edith R. Fisher; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen F. Hull; treasurer, Miss Emma E. Walker; auditor, Miss Rose Loring; directors for one year, Mrs. Clarence E. Allen, Mrs. Alfred W. Fuller; for two years, Miss Kate W. Fox, Mrs. Vernon B. Swett; for three years, Mrs. George B. Ryan, Mrs. William G. Soule; nominating committee, Mrs. George Agry, chairman, Mrs. Clarence E. Allen, Mrs. Walter R. Andrews, Mrs. Dale E. Brown, Miss Martha L. Lathe.

It was voted to join both the Newton and the State Federations. A delightful and unexpected feature for a club so young was the spirited singing of the newly organized chorus of about twenty voices, led by Mrs. F. A. Wetherbee. Katherine Ridgeway made an appeal for buying Victory Bonds.

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, president of the State Federation, made an earnest address in which she showed how in the earlier stage of club life the women sought to study for themselves, but this was only preparing the way for the later stage, that of doing for others; both stages are absolutely necessary to the development of the women of the country. She gave many bits of advice, which may be profitably used in the development of the new club, one of which came home to all, namely, the elimination of the use of the word "they" and the substitution of the word "we". She urged her audience to think clearly and to think things through to a logical conclusion, to think in terms of humanity and not in terms of classes, to keep ever the broad spirit of humanity in their minds, and never endeavor to be foremost as individuals, but rather always shoulder to shoulder.

The enrolment already approaches the five hundred mark, a clear demonstration that the time was ripe for the undertaking.

That the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands has had a successful year was brought out in the reports of officers and committees at the annual meeting held on Tuesday, April 29, in the Congregational Church. The club has given $479 to philanthropic work of various kinds, this having been secured for the most part from the sale of guest tickets supplemented by a sum from the treasury. It was voted to invest $250 in Victory Bonds. Miss Dorothy Turnbull, a daughter of one of the club members, who was one of the first Red Cross nurses to go to France, gave a thrilling account of some of her experiences. She saw service way in the front line trenches and though very modest in her story, those who heard her knew that she had bravely met the test under fire many times.

About two hundred enjoyed the joint supper of the Woman's Club and the Men's League of the Church and afterwards attended the community meeting when Lieut. Orlandi spoke of Italy's part in the war, giving what seemed to be a very fair-minded presentation of the present situation.

The following officers of the Woman's Club were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Harry B. Walker, Mrs. Wallace M. Leonard; recording secretary, Mrs. Grosvenor D.W. Marcy; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Emory W. Clark; treasurer, Mrs. Fred G. Sanford; auditor, Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson; new directors, Mrs. Charles H. Clark, Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood.

The annual meeting of the Social Science Club held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Wednesday showed that the work of the club has gone on with more or less interruption owing to the war crisis, but that much work has been done by the committees and a large amount of money has been given to many objects. The various philanthropies to which the club has made gifts include the War Children's Relief Fund, Stearns School Centre, Welfare Bureau, Junior League, Newton Hospital, Hampton Institute, West Newton Music School, American Committee for Relief in the Near East, and for Hospital Social Service, the amount totalling over $600. It was voted to invest $200 in Victory Bonds.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. W. H. Mitchell; vice-presidents, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. George E. Merrill, Mrs. Everett E. Kent, Mrs. Charles B. Gleason, Miss Helen M. Cobb, Mrs. Sterling Elliott; recording secretary, Miss Miriam Drury; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. F. Hollings; treasurer, Mrs. John M. Woodbridge; auditor, Miss Georgia H. Emery; board of directors, Mrs. F. E. Smith, chairman, Miss Ethel S. Gilman, Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins, Mrs. Percy N. Kenway, Mrs. Howard R. Mason.

Following a delicious luncheon served in the sun parlor Miss Grace Weston was toastmistress and toasts for the most part in a humorous vein were responded to by Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, "Our Club;" Mrs. Warren Lewis, "New Impressions;" Mrs. W. F. Hollings, "The High Cost of Living;" Mrs. F. H. Tucker, "Conservation from a Humorous Point of View;" Mrs. Everett E. Kent, "The Problem of Dress;" Mrs. Sterling Elliott, "The New Club."

The singing of "America the Beautiful" closed a very delightful occasion.

ENDOW TWO BEDS

The response to the appeal for money to equip the hospital in Rheims, France, in commemoration of the work of the American Fund for French Wounded has been so generous that the city of Newton will be able to endow two beds.

$4,454.00 was realized from the Rummage Sale held in Newton Centre from March 22 to 29 and the committee in charge, composed of Mrs. H. O. Marcy, Jr., as chairman, Mrs. A. E. Alvord, Mrs. George Angier, Miss Mabel T. Eager, Mrs. H. J. Ide, Mrs. Leland Powers, Mrs. Grace Rice and Mrs. Guilford M. Stuart desires to thank most cordially all who contributed in any way to the success of the enterprise.

NEWTON MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1919.

TERMS, $2.50 A YEAR

MORE PAY FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN

$100 a Year Added to Salary of Men in Both Departments Beginning July 1st

Every member of the board was present at the meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening and considerable important business was transacted.

No one appeared at hearings held on Edison Co. poles on Oakwood road, on petition of the Newton Machine Screw Co. for gasoline permit on Crafts street, or upon constructing a sewer in Manomet road.

Mr. Ralph M. Griffin favored the laying out of Carlton road, Waban, under the betterment act and there was no opposition.

At the hearing on taking land for a sewer off Linwood avenue, opposition was expressed by Mr. Charles F. Avery and Mr. George Jenkins.

A sewer in Avondale road was favored by representatives of Alice M. Goodwin, Mary Orrell and Gertrude Ireland and opposed by Miss E. J. James.

Mayor Childs sent in a number of important matters including appropriations of $7500 for welcome to soldiers and sailors, $500 additional for Memorial Day, $300 for legislative work, $300 to settle claim of Edgar G. Frost, payment of Workmen's Compensation to Edward Quinn, $2965 for curbing on Cook street, $7500 for new sidewalks, and $250 for new curbing, and $340.95 for laborer's pension for William Pendergast.

Petitions of Masten & Wells for freeways on Needham street, of Wm. F. Plant, Franklin street, Samuel Boudrot, Taft avenue, Dr. C. D. Ansley, Fern street, and F. P. Buckins, Valentine street, for private garages, Samuel W. Tucker, and A. Dudley Dowd for auctioneer licenses, Frank Russo for victualler license and Morris Greenwald for a wagon license were granted. Other petitions were received from A. Avantaggio for a victualler license, Solomon Ruben for junk license, for curbing on Chapel street and Murphy court, Mrs. Della Delahanty for increase in Soldiers' relief, claim of Henry E. Wry for damage caused by Forestry department, for sewer in Priscilla road, and sidewalk on Hammond street.

On recommendation of Committees, hearings were assigned on the laying out of Rossmore road with a building line, for street sprinkling on Eliot street, for a sewer in Eliot street, granting compensation to Edward Quinn, appropriating $300 for legislative expenses, $7500 to Welcome Home soldiers, $300 to settle claim of E. G. Frost, $460 for contribution to M. & E. St. Rwy. Co. and granting location for pole on Playstead road to the Edison Co.

Private garage permits were granted Philip Shriberg, on West street, and Ellen J. T. Orr on Washington street, and Intelligence office license to Olivette Cooper on Prospect place, and junk license to L. Greenspoon, and an automobile license to J. R. Robertson.

Wm. A. Sweatt & Co. were refused permits to keep gasoline and to build a multiple garage corner of Commonwealth avenue and Washington street, and Benj. Joyner was refused a junk license.

For the first time in many months, two committee reports were overruled, one of them in spite of the efforts of the committee and the other because the committee virtually abandoned its recommendation.

The first matter of this kind was the report of the Public Works committee recommending that the proposed rule of the board stipulating that the Planning Board should be given an opportunity to make a report before final action was taken on such matters as street lay out and widenings, the taking of land for playgrounds, parks, etc., should be laid on the table pending passage of pending legislation at the State House.

This report was opposed by Aldermen Nichols, Cole, and defended by Aldermen Forknall, Goodwin, McCarthy, and Blake. Mr. Forknall did not approve of the board tying its own hands by requiring a report from an outside body like the Planning Board. Alderman Nichols pointed out that the rule only gave the Planning Board the opportunity to make a report and if they did not do so, the Board need not delay its action.

Alderman McCarthy wanted the Planning Board to be required to file its report within a week after notice, but his amendment to this effect was overwhelmingly defeated. The board by a vote of 11 to 8 refused to accept the recommendation of the Public Works committee and subsequently adopted the new rule with Aldermen Forknall, Heathcote, and McCarthy voting in the negative.

The License committee had, by a majority vote, recommended leave to

FATAL ACCIDENT

One Man Killed and Two Injured in Automobile Collision

One man was fatally hurt and two men received serious injuries on Sunday when an automobile, owned by Morris E. Temple of 4 Devery street, Natick, and driven by Harry Orr, 28, of 236 Cherry street, West Newton, crashed into a telegraph pole at the corner of Washington and Prospect streets. Orr was accompanied by Frederick Donahue, aged 22, single, of 1229 Washington street, this city, who died on the way to the Newton Hospital from a fractured skull, and Richard A. Dalton, Jr., 22, single, of 27 Chestnut street, West Newton, who is suffering from a fractured leg and multiple injuries.

It is stated that the automobile was going at a fast rate of speed, and when it approached the corner of Washington and Prospect streets, Orr lost control of the machine, causing it to hit the pole and completely demolishing it.

Orr and Donahue were pinned beneath the machine. Dalton, who was riding in the rear seat, was hurled from the machine and was found by the police lying in the road.

All three were sent to the Newton Hospital. Orr is suffering from bad cuts and bruises about the face and body.

The wrecked automobile is the property of Morris D. Temple of Natick and was left on Saturday night at a public garage in West Newton, where Orr was employed. The police say that after hours Orr took this machine out without permission and, after inviting Donahue and Dalton to go with him, started on a joy ride.

Donahue, the dead youth, recently returned from France, where he served as a member of the 301st field artillery.

GIRL GYMNASTS

Interesting Annual Exhibition at High School Won by Sophomore Class

It was a very large and enthusiastic audience which greeted those who took part in the gymnastic meet of the girls of the Newton High School last Friday afternoon.

The exhibition began promptly at 2 o'clock with marching by the different classes. This was very well done, and showed much careful drilling. Then followed the individual work, hand-travelling, rope climbing, vaulting, and jumping. It was hard for the spectators to follow all of this, but here and there bursts of applause followed some girl of unusual excellence. The parallel bar vaulting was the most spectacular. Surely young ladies who overcome obstacles in their path so easily need not fear the future.

The games created great excitement, especially the relay races where one class competed against another. The difficult part seemed to be to get the ball into the basket. Again and again, it would touch the rim only to bound off. She who successfully got it in won great applause.

The dancing was sufficiently varied to be interesting. Pierrot and Pierrette quite captivated the audience with its unexpected ending.

The athletic pageant was so well done that one did not need to consult the program in order to understand its meaning. One easily recognized the throwing of the ball, drawing of the arrow, paddling and rowing.

The Russian Dance was very characteristic of that northern race while the Daffodil Mazurka was exceedingly delicate and graceful.

The names of those who won in the contests follow.

Rotatory Hand Travelling—Won by Eleanor Wheeler, Senior; 2nd, Kathryn Park, Senior.

Everyone in Newton Must Help to Put the Victory Loan in Newton Over the Top

The local committees on the Victory Loan are working day and night to put Newton over the top, and with everyone taking hold as they should, it can be done. Figures up to last night indicated a subscription of about 75 per cent of the quota, and village committees report a still larger amount, which has not yet come thru the banks. A large factor in the receipts this week, was the published statement of ex-senator John W. Weeks in aid of the loan.

The star performance among the village teams has been that of Mr. M. H. Gulesian, covering the Waban Hill section of Chestnut Hill. The completion of the house to house canvass showed purchases of $90,000 but when Mr. Gulesian found that the district had subscribed $139,000 on the fourth loan, he formed a special committee of two other men and two ladies and started out to go over the ground again. The result was that he has already passed the mark of the fourth loan, reaching $140,000 and more is expected.

Again this week the Women's Committee for the Loan have been busy. Probably their most important service has been the work done in the various banks. Other activities have been a meeting on May 1st, at the Newton Community Club, at which Mrs. Katherine Ridgeway Hunt addressed over four hundred people, making a rousing appeal for the Loan. Monday was Newton Day on the Common in Boston, and sixteen young women from the different villages were on duty. Pershing's Band and fine weather were a great help. On Monday evening in Upper Falls the Women's Club and Improvement Association ran a highly successful Mass Meeting, which was addressed by Mayor Childs, Dr. Shanahan of Somerville, and Miss Gertrude Osborne, chairman of the Women's Loan Committee of the village.

IN MEMORIAM

The death of Mrs. Horace W. Fernald was a shock to her many friends in Newtonville. She removed to Bedford several years ago but always retained a warm place in the hearts of those who knew her here. A college woman, she took an eager and intelligent interest in civic affairs and was an ardent church worker, but her crowning talent and joy was as a home-maker. Although of limited physical strength, her mental grasp was broad and "in her tongue was the law of kindness."

Dawson's words interpret the effort of her living.

Just these things * * * seem worth while:
How to make Life more wondrously sweet;
How to live with a song and a smile,
How to lay our lives at Love's feet.

Are You Thankful the War is Over?

Are you thankful that half-a-million or more of our boys are returning who might not have come back if the war had lasted six months longer?

withdraw on petition of Nicholas Tucci for a pool room license at Upper Falls. Alderman Hollis in opposing the report of his own committee said that the opposition made to this license was a general opposition to the whole pool room situation and not specific to this applicant. There would have been no objection to granting this license had it been filed with all the others a month ago, and because it had come in a little later, was no reason for refusing it now. Aldermen Clement and Whidden also opposed their own committee recommendation, while Alderman McAuslan believed the committee report was correct. The report was then rejected and the Tucci license granted.

The Finance committee reported adversely on the request of the Mayor for $500 additional for Memorial Day and the board accepted its report. This money was intended to give a dinner to returned soldiers from the late war, who had been invited to act as an escort to Charles Ward Post on Memorial Day.

The policemen and firemen of the city were glad to hear the news that the board approved $2400 for the Fire department and $3850 for the Police department for the purpose of increasing their salaries at the rate of $100 a year beginning July 1st.

The city treasurer was authorized to issue and sell $50,000 in 30 year sewer bonds.

Alderman Allen explained that the delay in reporting an appropriation of over $50,000 for new service buildings at the Crafts street yard was for the purpose of allowing Alderman Whidden an opportunity to straighten out one or two matters of detail in the contract.

Alderman Nichols called attention to the need of classifying all steel garages as fire proof, within the meaning of the Building Code, and his amendment to that effect was approved.

The board adjourned at 9.40.

On Monday of this week, the annual meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., of Newton, was held at the home of the regent, Mrs. E. J. Pessenden, at the Fessenden School in West Newton. The annual reports showed a year of activities in branches of work for which the chapter stands and to which it has given financial aid. The "Old Bury house" at Newton Lower Falls, now the permanent home of the chapter, has been restored, renovated and nearly furnished within the past year. Many treasures of historic value have been given to the chapter for safe keeping. The election of officers to fill vacancies of those whose terms expire in 1919 resulted as follows: Treasurer, Mrs. Annie E. Sherman, re-elected; directors, Alice D. Salinger, Harriet Lord Baker, Julia D. Lucas, Elizabeth D. Jones and Caroline C. Holmes. The chapter is to hold receptions with tea on the afternoons of May 25 and 26 at the chapter house in Newton Lower Falls, and all friends of the chapter are cordially invited to visit this interesting house on those days.

POLICE NOTES

An abandoned automobile was found on Commonwealth avenue near Rowe street, early Tuesday morning, by patrolman Forristall. The car is registered in the name of Richard Wilcox Company, 132 Pearl street, Boston. It is believed that the car was stolen and was left on the roadside when it became disabled.

SHUBERT THEATRE—A new bidder for popular favor, "The Eyes of the World," has its first showing at the Shubert theatre next week, beginning Monday, May 12. "The Eyes of the World" is the first work of its kind, dealing in a big way with California life in the present day, and putting into pictorial form the most phenomenally successful romance of the times, while its characters are fresh in the minds of several million readers. The new production is based on the book of the same title by Harold Bell Wright, who personally took an active part in putting his famous characters before the camera. "The Eyes of the World" is exhibited with a pretentious musical score which is played by a large augmented orchestra.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

On Friday morning Mark Noble N. H. S. '16 spoke to the three upper classes in the interest of the Victory Loan. The response of the students was remarkable. Bob Garrity, the president of the junior class was the first to step up and subscribe. He was followed by more than 150 whose subscriptions amounted to well over $6000. Noble was given an enthusiastic reception as has ever been accorded a speaker in the assembly hall.

Monday morning Mr. Bailly, chairman of the board of assessors spoke in the lecture hall to the boys of the senior class about the methods of assessing and collecting taxes. All property in Newton is assessed on April 1 by the board of assessors which consists of three assessors and ten assistants. The tax rate is based on recommendations of the mayor and the heads of departments. These recommendations are laid before the finance committee and the board of aldermen and accepted or amended. Mr. Bailly explained that the Newton like all cities borrows money that it is a very rich and well managed city.

Wednesday morning Mr. Bishop, the city solicitor spoke to the boys of the senior class about his duties. Mr. Bishop started by saying that boys who are thinking of becoming lawyers should know that a lawyer's duties have changed from those of an advocate to those of a legal advisor.

Wednesday Mr. Marvin of the Technical High School spoke to the senior girls. He explained why they should take a post graduate commercial course at the Technical High even if they intend going to college.

The tennis team won the first game of the season from Worcester Academy at Worcester on Saturday. The score was 4 to 1. Fairfield and Mandell starred for Newton. In the singles, Crosby, Newton, beat Murdoch, Worcester 6-2, 6-8, 6-1; Hill, Newton, beat Brimwood, Worcester 7-5, 7-5; Mills, Worcester, beat Fairfield, Newton 6-2, 6-2; Persons, Worcester, beat Mandell, Newton 6-3, 6-2. In the doubles Mandell and Fairfield of Newton beat Mills and Persons of Worcester 8-6, 13-11.

The baseball team beat Bumkin Island 2 to 0 at Newtonville on Tuesday. Owen was shifted to third base and Kerrivan played right field. Capt. Sawyer pitched three innings, Cowing and Shea finishing up. Ayres and Richmond played their usual good game in the infield.

This year the proceeds from "If" the senior play which will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, May 16 and 17 in the assembly hall of the Classical High School will be used to erect bronze tablets in memory of the Newton boys who have given their lives in the great war that we might live on, a free nation. The support of every patriotic Newton citizen should be given to this play for besides the good cause to which the proceeds will go the play itself is an exceptionally good one.

In the Triangular league debate held on Friday night Somerville won the championship by winning from both Newton and Brookline. Newton won from Brookline however, for the first time in several years. Ford and Lane excelled for Newton. The debate was not a great financial success as there was no dancing held afterwards.

SERVICES APPRECIATED

The following letter has been received by Mrs. George H. Talbot, captain Motor Corps, A.R.C., from the New England Division Headquarters of the American Red Cross.

April 30, 1919.

My dear Mrs. Talbot:—
Cecil B. DeMille has asked me to express to every one of you who drove in the Parade, his appreciation of your work, and I think I can best do so by quoting his letter:—

"To my mind, although comparisons are invidious, the participation of the wounded in the splendid marching past of the 26th Division was the feature of the parade. The smiling faces of those wounded lads showed the morale that was typical of the Division."

I have never seen automobiles better handled or more pleasure given to a lot of lads than did this fine body of women and other chauffeurs who drove the motors that day.

Won't you express to each and every one of them the obligations that I and my headquarters feel for the work that you all accomplished; otherwise these lads could not have seen the crowds and could not have participated in the glorious day."

Very truly yours,
Robert J. Clark,
Director, Motor Service New England Division.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"A Sleepless Night," that hilarious farce of bedroom complications which has been so delighting patrons of the Wilbur Theatre the past few weeks, will move to the Plymouth Theatre (Boston), next Monday, May 12, to continue its successful Boston run there. It will be seen with the same cast and production. A farce, like any other play, is built for entertainment, and there has been every evidence that "A Sleepless Night" fills that bill. At least those who pay their money at the box office like it. They have plainly demonstrated that, and there is further evidence that they will continue to give evidence of their approval the coming week, the fourth of the engagement in Boston.

WILBUR THEATRE—Listen folks! I am going to sneak into the Wilbur Theatre on May 12 and I expect to stay there a couple of weeks if the management will let me. You know I have a little play—it's musical—called "Ladies First" that I am bringing along. This play of mine has made some thousands of people laugh, some uproariously. You know it held the stage at the Nora Bayes Theatre in New York for six months. It is supposed to be a funny play. I think it is. I'm funny anyway. Lots of people think I am funny in a lot of ways. Maybe I am. But I do like to make people laugh and that is what "Ladies First" is for.

Your loving son,
NORA BAYES.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

Cecil B. DeMille's latest production "For Better, For Worse" which is to be shown at Gordon's Cambridge Central Square Theatre next Monday Tuesday and Wednesday was written by Edgar Selwyn, one of America's foremost dramatists, who has nearly a score of successful plays to his credit.

The usual five big all-star vaudeville acts include Smith & Austin Comedy Singing and Dancing check-full of 'pep'; Harry & Anna Scrantom, in "1919 Capers"; Grindell & Esther in a comedy sketch, "A Study in Thimology"; El Cleve in "A Little Bit of Scotch"; and Ritchie & St. Onge, in a variety of fun.

Pathe News—screen magazine—the latest Mack Sennett Comedy, "When Love is Blind," and an organ recital by A. J. Martel complete this most remarkable bill of entertainment.

Next Saturday a Movie Cut-out Doll, representing the delightful star "Anita Stewart" will be presented to every child, under 12 years of age, attending the performance at Gordon's Cambridge Central Square Theatre.

There will be an entire change of program Thursday, Friday and Saturday and on those days Ernest Truex and Louise Huff will appear in "Oh! You Women!"

COPLEY REPERTORY THEATRE

The continued success of "The Thunderbolt" has deferred the production of "The Critic" at the Copley Repertory Theatre until next Monday. Richard Brinsley Sheridan is famous as the author of "The Rivals" and "The School for Scandal," both of which have been acted by the Henry Jewett Players, and next week will be presented for the first time on the Copley stage another play of his, "The Critic," which is a travesty of the methods of playmaking and playacting in its author's day. It was once called by the poet Byron the best farce in the English language and undoubtedly he was right.

"The Woman in the Case"

Your sympathy turns to the unfortunate Cinderella who drudges in a stifling kitchen with its old fashioned coal range.

The heroine, cool and unruined, is telling her the advantages of the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove—how it keeps the kitchen clean and cool, how it eliminates the drudgery of fire tending and ashes, how it gives comfort equal to gas at kerosene cost.

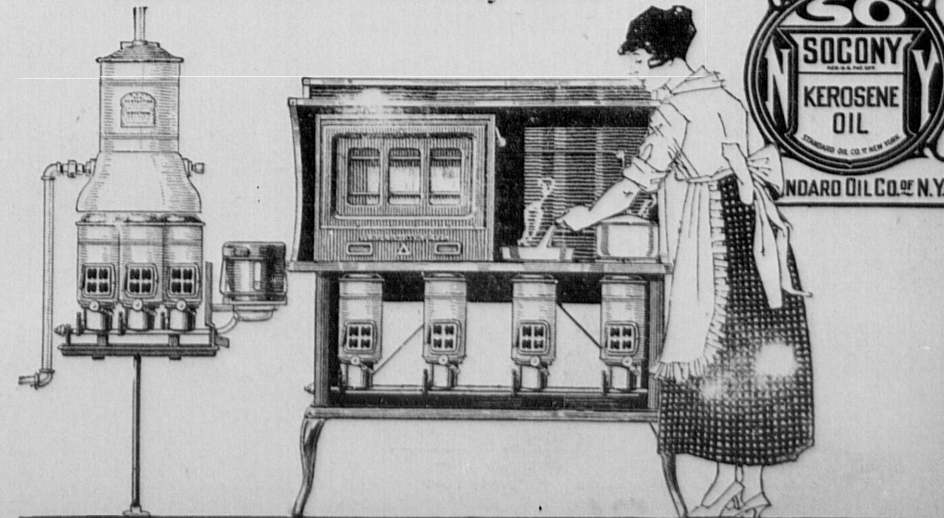

Its Long Blue Chimney turns all the oil into odorless, smokeless heat instantly. The flame is regulated like gas—on or off, high or low. And it cooks perfectly.

You, too, should have a New Perfection stove. Also, a New Perfection Water Heater. It means steaming hot water without a hot range. At all dealers.

EDITORIAL

The residents of Walnut street in Newtonville, south of the railroad track in particular are not at all far-sighted in opposing the establishment of a building line on that street. While it is true that that part of the street at the present time is residential in character, yet it is also certain that business will sooner, or later extend in that direction. Business blocks built to the street line are possible in the vacant land already on the street, and it is always possible that present residents may sell their property for similar purposes. People, on Centre street, Newton, have an ever present illustration of the need of a building line in the crowded condition existing near George street, and people of Newton will also recall the efforts needed to prevent a cheap business block from being erected at the corner of Centre and Church streets. Residents of Newton Centre were also put to considerable expense when an attempt was made to build a small ice cream shop at the corner of Centre street and Commonwealth avenue. With these facts before them, residents of Walnut street ought to be strongly in favor of an immediate building line on that street.

The devotional service of the afternoon was opened by Mrs. Edward S. Tead. Mrs. Edward D. Gaylord of Dorchester, then gave a very stirring address on "Teaching the Child Patriotism." This was followed by music by Mrs. Carrie Gilman Edwards, and an address by the pastor, Dr. Edward Payson Drew, on "The Citadel of the Nation's Strength and Glory." At the business meeting it was voted to urge the managers of the moving picture houses to present better films, and it was further voted to bring more pressure to bear upon the censors so that there might be a more thorough censorship of the moving pictures.

A Cold Blooded Business Proposition

YOU'VE heard people say it. "The American public are tired of patriotism now that the war is over. The only thing that will appeal to them is a cold-blooded business proposition."

Do you believe it? Do you think the American people are going to buy this Liberty Loan only because it's a "bully good investment" that shows sound business sense?

Sixty-five thousand Americans went to France and "invested" all they had in Liberty and were killed before their "dividends" came due.

THAT was a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Two million other Americans went to France, too, and tried to get in on the same "investment." And they knew they'd never "clip a coupon."

THAT was a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Thirty million other Americans here at home got in on that "investment"—saved and went without things for a year and a half to do it.

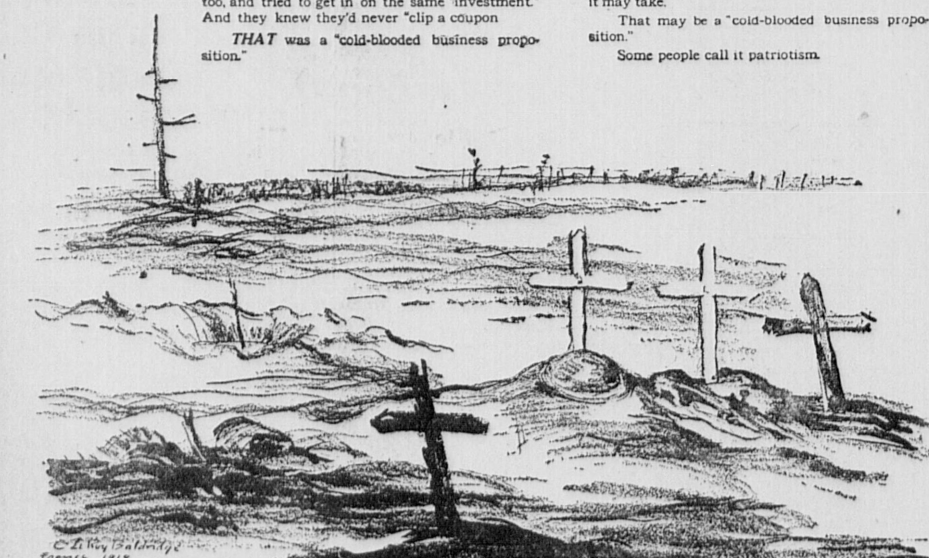

THAT was a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Well—we've still got a job to finish. And we're still Americans. Do you believe we're not going to do it in the old American way?

The only "cold blood" we care about is the American blood soaking in the battlefields of France. We're going to see to it that that blood was not shed in vain.

And the only "business proposition" we're interested in just now is the proposition to see the job through right—to a finish—with whatever American dollars and whatever American energy it may take.

That may be a "cold-blooded business proposition." Some people call it patriotism.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Council Meeting

Sunday, May 25, the New England party leaves Boston for the Council Meeting of the General Federation at Asheville. A number of Newton women are considering going. The delegates will travel by day to Washington and arrive in Asheville on the afternoon of Monday, the 28th, and will remain there until Saturday, probably taking the trip to Mount Mitchell on Saturday.

According to preliminary announcements the program promises to be reflective of the times with the subjects of Reconstruction and Americanization emphasized. Morning and afternoon sessions will be given entirely to Federation leaders and chairmen of departments with full and free discussion from the floor. Distinguished speakers of national reputation will be heard at the evening sessions.

All club women are invited to attend. The presidents of the clubs belonging to the General Federation are a part of the Council, but other than that there are no delegates.

State Federation

Opportunity is being offered for an early morning bird-walk at South Hadley under the leadership of Prof. Anna H. Morgan, head of the zoology department of the Mount Holyoke College, for any delegates to the Annual meeting who may care to rise at dawn and embrace the opportunity. Tramping boots and skirts will be a requisite.

Local Happenings

The members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. enjoyed luncheon together at the home of Mrs. C. Peter Clark of Newton Centre on Monday. After which came the annual meeting, when these officers were elected for next year: President, Miss Josephine Ayres; vice-president, Mrs. S. D. Whittemore; secretary, Mrs. C. P. Clark; assistant secretary, Mrs. S. E. Whitaker; treasurer, Miss Marion Morse. Much fun was had from the debate of the question: Resolved that the United States would be better off, if all the women were deported for a period of five years and all management of affairs were left to the men. The affirmative was upheld by Mrs. Hiram A. Miller and Mrs. Emory W. Clark and the negative by Mrs. S. E. Whitaker and Miss Adelaide R. Webster. The affirmatives carried off the palm.

Miss Cora S. Cobb, chairman of the work committee for next year, has prepared a remarkable miscellaneous program, covering a wide variety of subjects and promises to be full of interest.

Miss Ella B. Smith, president of the Christian Era Study Club, entertained the members at her home on Monday for the annual meeting. The new officers are: President, Miss Ella B. Smith; vice-president, Mrs. N. L. Grant; secretary, Miss Abbie Hall; treasurer, Mrs. Edward Edmonds. The program as laid out for next year includes more of the study of literature than some of those of previous year, there being some of Shakespeare's plays as well as others of the Elizabethan period.

After the usual reception and chorus singing, the members and guests enjoyed a most delicious luncheon followed by unique and original toasts.

Mrs. S. L. Eaton, as toastmistress, sounded a military key-note and "The Bugle Call" was responded to by "Rear Admiral" St. Amant, "Mess Call" by "Sergeant" Wells, "Furlough" by "Lieutenant" Jordan, and "Drill" by "Top Sergeant" McLean. A May-basket of beautiful roses was presented to Mrs. Gurney, and the retiring president, Mrs. Gorton, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jordan also received May-baskets. Delightful music by an orchestra was played during the luncheon and Mrs. E. F. Snell, one of the members, gave two piano selections, which were greatly enjoyed.

At the business meeting which followed these officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President, Mrs. Bernard Early; first vice-president, Mrs. Olin D. Dickerman; second vice-president, Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton; recording secretary, Mrs. Guy C. Holbrook; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Willard C. Church; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe; and Mrs. E. F. Snell; directors, Mrs. Robert Gorton, Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan, Mrs. Fred B. Young.

Newton Federation

The women of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs put themselves on record at the annual meeting on Tuesday as being unanimously in favor of making the memorial to our boys of the army and navy a building which shall be both municipal and school gymnasium and a center for the social agencies of the city and headquarters for the G. A. R. and other kindred patriotic organizations to be erected upon the Claffin grounds.

Promptly at ten-thirty the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, the president. The morning session as usual was given up to business. The annual reports of the officers showed the Federation to have done much good work and to be in a good financial condition. Considerable time was spent in considering the revised constitution and by-laws, this being the first thorough revision since the founding of the association.

Mrs. George W. St. Amant reported for the Education committee the improved conditions in the lunch room of the classical high school and the gratification at the slight increase in the teachers' salaries. She urged more scholarship funds among the clubs. The introduction of the Girls' Health league work into the playgrounds this summer was reported, for which the Federation is providing the equipment. At her suggestion the baby doll was named "Mary" in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. Palmer.

The Civics and Social Service committee according to the report of chairman, Mrs. C. D. Kepner, has been studying the various social agencies of the city with a view to keeping the clubs informed as to the needs arising in our midst. The opportunity for increased usefulness of the Dental Clinic through its transfer to the Board of Health, was commented upon with satisfaction. Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden proved most successful. Speaking of what the clubs have done in common she said:

"Of course the war with all its needs and standards has left its impress on the clubs this year. If you have felt a bit dissatisfied with your club program, perhaps you are not alone in your dissatisfaction for conservation seems to be the watchword in most of these reports, the idea being to economize on the programs and help, help, help in the war work. The clubs have contributed to a long list of war philanthropies and patriotic work. Eight of the clubs together with the Federation—all from which I have data—have made the splendid showing of nearly $7,000 for philanthropies and war work." That the personality of the club president, might not be lost through this method of report the presidents were seated upon the platform and each rose as her respective club was enumerated.

The heads of the associate organizations reported as they did formerly, Mrs. F. E. Stanley speaking for the District Nursing Association, Mrs. Clinton Willey for the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service, Mrs. H. H. Carter for the Hospital Aid, Mrs. Irving U. Townsend for the M. C. A. Auxiliary, Mrs. W. M. Mick for the Newton W. C. T. U., Miss Sherman for the Welfare Bureau.

A delicious luncheon was prepared and served by the social committee under the direction of Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, the chairman, more than three hundred being seated at the tables. A short after-luncheon program was in charge of Mrs. C. G. Webster, as toastmistress. Four subjects which have been much in the minds of people during the war were chosen for the toasts and were responded to as follows: "Efficiency," Miss Burt; "Service," Mrs. H. H. Longfellow; "Conservation," Mrs. D. E. Baker; "Democracy," Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson.

The afternoon session opened with the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic, Mrs. Raymond P. Fuller singing the solo and the audience joining in the chorus. Then came a group of violin solos by Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley Hastings, accompanied by Miss Lillian West.

The two new clubs, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club and the Newton Community Club were presented to membership. Mrs. Earl Smith spoke for the former, a club of 125 members, and Mrs. Franklin E. Smith for the Community Club, which has now 490 members.

Mrs. Palmer, who was retiring from office with this meeting, summed up the work and growth of the Federation in the three years of her term.

The new officers were presented, the new president, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, coming last presided over the remainder of the program.

While preparations were being made for the little play Mrs. Fuller sang the verses of "The Long, Long Trail", all joining in the chorus.

"Lonesomelike" was presented by the following cast: Mrs. Allan Hubbard, Miss Dorothy Taylor, Miss Sylvia Burdett, Mrs. E. C. Sands of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, with Miss Priscilla Ordway as coach. The parts were all well sustained, but special mention must be made of Miss Taylor as the stupid boy.

The afternoon closed with a solo by Mrs. Fuller.

These officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Auburndale Woman's Club; vice-presidents, Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, Newton Social Science Club, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, Waban Woman's Club; recording secretary, Mrs. J. C. S. Taber, Woman's Club of Newton Highlands; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan, West Newton Woman's Educational Club; treasurer, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, Monday Club of Newton Highlands; auditor, Miss Lilla A. Rider, Auburndale Review Club; nominating committee, Mrs. W. A. Corson, Newtonville, chairman, Mrs. Sterling Elliott, Newton, Mrs. Henry K. Burdison, West Newton, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, Auburndale, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Newton Centre, Mrs. William M. Mick, Newton Highlands, Mrs. James R. Chandler, Waban.

Secretary with the Allied Forces at Gallipoli, the Sudan, Palestine, Syria, Southern Arabia, and Egypt, will speak at the Elliot Church Sunday morning, May 11th. Through the kindness of Mr. Alfred MacDonald, the entire list of some three thousand names were addressed and sent out.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A Memorial service in honor of Sergeant Frank Haskell Chivers of Maple Avenue, Newton, was held in the Newton M. E. Church on Sunday evening, Sergeant Chivers, who was a member of Battery B, 101st Field Artillery of the 26th Division, was mortally wounded at the battle of Chateau-Thierry by a piece of a gas bomb which struck him in the leg. He did not think the wound serious and kept right on with his work of directing the men under his charge.

The services were in charge of the pastor, Rev. Henry H. Crane and addresses were made by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Major Erland F. Fish and Capt. C. Sinclair Weeks. High praise was given Sergt. Chivers by his commanding officers for his splendid work for which they said he was in line for a commission at the time of his death. Capt. Weeks said that Sergt. Chivers was one of the three or four men in the Battery who was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery.

Mr. Frank Hawkins, president of the Edworth League, presented the church with an American flag in memory of Sergt. Chivers, and Mr. Walter H. Kidder sang several solos.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

Monday morning Mayor Childs spoke to the boys of the senior class about the various department of the city of Newton. Mr. Childs started with the comptroller of accounts who pays and audits all the city's accounts. He then spoke about the building department headed by a commissioner whose duty it is to see that the building code is enforced; the charity department which spent $46,000 last year in addition to state aid given to needy mothers; the city clerk who has charge of all deeds and records; the fire department which is wholly motorized; the forestry department which cares for the city's parks and trees; the department of health which inspects stores and dwellings; the library, police, and the school department whose teachers are most inadequately paid. The water department is the only one which yields a profit. Newton uses about 3,000,000 gallons of water a day which is obtained from wells in Upper Falls and Needham. This supply will probably last until 1935 when Newton will enter the Metropolitan Water District.

Mr. Meserve who is recovering from his recent illness will spend a short time in Atlantic City.

Tuesday morning those who are taking College Entrance Board examinations met in the Assembly Hall where Mr. Adams explained the requirements.

There has been considerable complaint recently of the conduct at the baseball games of some of the younger boys. When spectators from Newton and even from neighboring cities entered the grandstand or crossed the field it has been the custom to hip, hip, hip until they have reached their seats. Wednesday morning Sawyer, captain of the team, spoke to the three upper classes, saying that the noise not only rattled the players but that Newton could not expect any different treatment when playing in other cities. Ted Learnard, the manager of the team asked the students to exert their influence to stop it if for no other reason than that it would lower the gate receipts if continued. Bob Garrity, the president of the junior class appealed to the school spirit to help stop the unpleasantness.

The receipts for the senior play will be used to erect bronze tablets in the assembly hall in memory of the Newton Classical High boys who have given their lives in service.

The tennis team will play the first game of the season with Worcester Academy at Worcester on Saturday.

The first of the triangular league debates will be held Friday evening, May 2. Newton will be represented at home by Ford, Lane, and Fuller, and at Somerville by Donovan, Spaulding, and Martin.

The base ball team won two important victories this week, beating Malden High on Clafin field on Monday by the score of 10 to 1 and Somerville High at Somerville on Wednesday, 9 to 4.

The second team won from Natick High school Wednesday afternoon on Clafin field by the score of 10 to 2.

NEWTON TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

"Bachelor Hall," the 9th Senior play, was given with great success. All three performances were well attended, and the audiences were enthusiastic in their enjoyment of the fun. All the parts were well taken. Miss Wetherbee, who coached the play, the cast, and all who worked so hard to achieve success deserve great credit.

On Friday, the eleventh, the Junior class entertained the Seniors in the library. A very interesting program was followed by delicious refreshments. The party was concluded by dancing until five o'clock.

Mr. Luckey, the arithmetic and commercial law teacher has resigned to take a position in Boston. Mr. George Skillin of Medford is his successor. He is a graduate of Colby College, and has been nearly one year in the Tank Corps as a sergeant-major. Since then he has been teaching in Medford and Boston.

April 14th at the Dynamo staff meeting, Majorie Burnham was elected editor-in-chief, to succeed Edward Harrington, whose term had expired. It was also voted to allow the Juniors to carry on the work for the next five issues; because so many of the Seniors on the staff are leaving school to take business positions.

Under the supervision of Miss McGregory, the Fine Arts and Commercial girls have been painting rag dolls made by the eighth grade pupils of the grammar schools, for the Belgian and French children. These dolls have been dressed by the sewing classes in the grades. 500 of them are now on exhibition in room 37. They are remarkably attractive.

AN ATTRACTIVE REAL ESTATE OFFER

Wellesley, the suburb of beautiful homes, is situated in a location favored by nature among a cluster of hills. It has the advantages of every modern improvement and is one of the richest towns around Boston. Good streets, fine schools and beautiful homes add to its attractiveness as a place of residence.

Longfellow Woods is situated on elevated land, near the junction of Washington and Walnut streets, Wellesley Hills and comprises a large tract of land, about 75 acres, most of which is beautifully wooded with pines, and birches and oaks. Many of these are unusually fine specimens. The elevation of the land ensures a healthful situation and furnishes a view of the surrounding country.

It is an ideal home-site because it is healthful, attractive and convenient. An excellent investment is assured because of the present low purchase price when nearly land is selling for about double our price. Furthermore, the high character of the development and construction of beautiful homes will increase the value of the lots.

Lots will be sold for cash or on very favorable terms. Liberty Bonds accepted in place of cash at their full face value. For further information, plan of lots, and inspection of property, apply to the Town & Realty Company, 68 Devonshire street, Boston.

Burr School

At the meeting of the Home and School Association held Thursday at the Burr School, Mr. U. G. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools, spoke on "Democracy and Education, and the Forward Look." He said that the last four years of war had brought about many changes in the school system, and asked the parents to prepare for the new outlook. He said that a school curriculum was only valuable in so far as it led to training in citizenship. The Burr School Chorus under the direction of Miss Ruth Woodbury, did splendid work, and there were other songs that were greatly enjoyed.

On May 1st the Burr School Baseball Nine played the Emerson School nine, Burr winning.

Miss Charlotte Kingman, Principal's Assistant of the Burr School, who has been recently operated upon at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, received on May Day a beautiful basket of fruits and candies from the pupils of the 8th grade. She also received a flowering rose tree from the pupils of the 7th and 8th grades.

Stearns School

The following letter has been received from Marie Robert the older sister of Bernadette Robert the little French orphan for whom the children of the school have brought their pennies.

Celino en Baden,
26 March 1919

Dear Miss

I am going to thank you for my little sister for the nice letter you sent her, in the name of the children of your school. And as you wish it, I send you our picture.

We are happy to see that you do not forget the little orphans of the Great War and we ask God to bless our benefactors in America.

My little sister, Bernadette, is still too young to go to school, she is only five years old. My little brother, age six years, does not go any more for he is not very strong and the school is at a distance. My older brother goes every day.

Where we live in the country there is no Kindergarten and the teachers do not take the children before they are six years old.

I am thirteen but I don't go to school any more as we have only the allotment to live on. I help my mother in her work to bring up my little brothers and sister.

We go to church every Sunday but my little sister does not go as the church is too far away and the roads are too bad in winter.

In regard to friends my little sister has only us, we live in a lonely village. As to playthings we do not know anything about them as our parents have never been rich enough to pay for them.

My little sister does not know how to sing. My mother is too sad to teach her. She only teaches her her prayers. The little orphans of Brittany send their grateful kisses to their little American comrades and also to good Miss Maude.

Marie Robert.

The children of the Horace Mann School have adopted a little French orphan.

COLONIAL THEATRE—"La, La, Lucille"

"La, La, Lucille," which begins a two weeks engagement at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, next Monday night, is attracting considerable attention from the fact that its contributors, both as regards author, composer and producers, have been identified with only the very best musical comedy. "La, La, Lucille" promises to be one of the fastest and most sparkling musical comedies presented in recent years. It is a departure from the usual present day offerings being more pretentious as to plot which, while leaning to the farcical, carries an interesting story through its two acts, concerning principally the complications arising from a young married couple who find it necessary to separate temporarily in order to frustrate the sinister intentions of a narrow minded relative. The musical numbers have been put on by Julian Alfred, who has figured in the same capacity in many Broadway successes. The staging of the piece is in the capable hands of Herbert Gresham who has been identified with most of the Klaw and Erlanger successes.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Unique Entertainment by Women of the Central Church, Newtonville

The Birthday Party of the Woman's Association of the Central Congregational Church Wednesday was a most brilliant affair. Each lady sat at the table which represented the month of her birth. The tables were so attractive that it was hard to choose between them. January was represented by a snow man in miniature surrounded by snow bells; February by a hatchet and cherries; March by shamrocks; April by daffodils; May by tiny figures around a May-Pole; June by full-blown rose favors; July by flags and snow bells; August by nasturtiums and hovering butterflies; September by autumn leaves; October by a large yellow pumpkin with tiny pumpkin favors; November by a large paper turkey—a most realistic bird—with tiny pumpkin pies which looked good enough to eat, and December by a tiny Christmas tree and poinsettias. Before a hearty lunch attended by about 150 people all but two of whom were members of the society, Mrs. Weeden, wife of the acting pastor, offered prayer. The festivities proper opened by singing led by Mrs. Augustus Wakefield and Mrs. H. Belden Sly. Mrs. W. C. Boyden of the Red Cross, then told a story which held her listeners breathless only to find that it was all a dream.

Representing February, Miss Barton told of a boy when asked if he didn't want to be a second George Washington replied that it was too late—he had already told too many lies. Mrs. Gibbs then gave a toast to Miss Barton whose birthday came in February in verse called "To Alice and George and Abraham." For March, Miss Roberts sang an Irish song accompanied by the guitar. This was followed by a violin solo by Mrs. Hastings accompanied by Miss West. "Kerry Dances" was then sung by Mrs. Crawe, Mrs. Sly, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Wakefield, and Mrs. Jewett, accompanied by Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Allen then read a delightful story full of humorous incidents called "Who Laughs Last." Mrs. Irving O. Palmer called the attention of those present to the fact that the Birthday party was also the wedding anniversary of two of the members of the society, Mrs. Binney and Mrs. Kelley. She said the society felt it fitting to present these ladies with some token appropriate to the occasion, and as Miss Abby Miller, President of the Society, had long held some very valuable views on matrimony, the society had requested her to publish these views in book form, and that she, Mrs. Palmer, took great pleasure in presenting each of these ladies with a copy and with flowers as well. Mrs. Binney was not present, but Mrs. Kelley received her gifts with appropriate words.

The ladies chorus then sang "To Thee, O Country," and since Miss Abby Miller's Birthday came in July the ladies sang a rondo to her.

Miss Butler then suggested a few names for committees for next year such as a brace-up committee, Mrs. Strong, Mrs. Wakefield, and Mrs. Bolster; garden committee, Mrs. Fairfield, Mrs. Rose, and Mrs. Weeden; luncheon committee, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Savory; treasurer, Mrs. Price; publicity, Mrs. Puffer.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Newton's Quota is $13,000 and Will Be Raised by an Active Committee

Newton's quota in the drive for the Salvation Army Service Fund, which will begin next Monday and continue until May 26, is $13,000 while Greater Boston is expected to raise at least $900,000 and the goal for the whole country is set at $16,000,000. There is no question regarding the splendid feeling which exists throughout the whole country towards the Salvation Army for its great and whole souled work on the battle front and the letters printed below from General Cole and Capt. Weeks only prove what everyone already knows. And there should be no question but what this feeling should be capitalized in dollars and cents to enable the Army to do equally good and important work in this country.

Dear Mr. Nichols: It has occurred to me that in the forming of your committee, which has for its purpose the raising of money for the Salvation Army, it might be of some assistance to you to have a good word for this organization from one who has had an opportunity to see something of the work it has done for our troops in the field.

The work done by the Salvation Army first came to my attention at the time we were occupying the Toul sector, last Spring. At that time, the organization was of great comfort and assistance to our men and was universally well spoken of by all who came in contact with it and its work. It must be remembered that the Salvation Army worked on a considerably smaller scale than the other welfare (Continued on Page 10.)

SERVICE RECOGNIZED

Commemorative Scroll Presented to Every Man Who Served in the Late War

City Clerk F. M. Grant has sent this week to every man who served in the army and navy of the United States during the late war, a handsome scroll expressing the thanks of the City of Newton. Enclosed with the scroll is an invitation for the recipient to be the guest of the city at the Welcome Home celebration planned to take place on Saturday, June 7th.

The Memorial is printed in three colors with an ornamental design, the name of the recipient printed in Old English script in the appropriate place, and is signed by Mayor Childs, City Clerk Grant, and by the members of the committee of the aldermen who were in charge, Aldermen Justin A. McCarthy, Ernest G. Hapgood and Philip Nichols.

It reads as follows:— CITY OF NEWTON Massachusetts

Pursuant to an order adopted by the Board of Aldermen, December sixteenth, nineteen hundred and eighteen, in recognition of the illustrious service rendered to our country by the young men of Newton and in appreciation of the many sacrifices made by them in the righteous cause of Liberty and Justice, with pride in their untarnished record and the undying fame bestowed upon her by their valiant deeds, the City of Newton by these presents, express to (Blank) her heartfelt gratitude for his services in the armed forces of the United States during the Great War, so that it may be known that now, as in former days, the people of this city are not forgetful of the patriotic spirit of her sons

SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

Public Hearing to be Given Next Thursday at the City Hall

Next Thursday evening at City Hall, West Newton, the Commission to investigate the matter of a suitable Memorial for our soldiers and sailors and the desirability of erecting a New City Hall will give a public hearing to obtain the sentiment of the city on these important matters.

A strong movement is now under way to present to this commission a project to erect on Claffin Field, Newtonville, a Memorial building to contain a memorial hall, headquarters for various community welfare work, and a hall for physical training which could be utilized also as an auditorium. The physical training features to include gymnasiums, for both sexes, swimming pools, for both sexes, shower baths, and rooms for other athletic purposes. The committee, of which Mr. Everett E. Kent of the School committee, is chairman, and Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds is secretary, believe that such a Memorial should be erected by funds from popular subscriptions and should be owned and maintained by the city for the benefit of all its citizens.

WAY OVER THE TOP

By a Great Eleventh Hour Finish Newton Exceeds Its Quota in Victory Loan

Newton won a "Start to Finish" flag last Saturday, when in the closing hours of the Victory Loan Campaign, subscriptions were received which carried the city well over its quota of $435,000. One resident of Chestnut Hill took a half million in bonds and several others took large subscriptions, five subscriptions making a total of $800,000.

The villages of Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Waban, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill, all exceeded their quotas and were awarded the Victory flag. The Start to Finish flag has a white field, with four horizontal bars in blue, crossed diagonally by one other blue bar. This flag is now flying from the City Hall. The Victory flag has a large blue "V" in a white field.

The local banks took a goodly share of the bonds, the Newton Savings Bank taking $320,000 or 4 per cent of its total resources.

The subscriptions and number of subscribers were divided among the several banks as follows,—

	Amt.	Subscribers
Newton Savings Bank	$428,150	601
West Newton Savings	169,250	674
West Newton National	265,250	381
Newton Centre Savings	66,900	97
Newton Trust	1,616,650	3,694
Outside credits	3,704,150	1,031

Totals $6,250,350 6,478

It is interesting to note that 59% of the amount raised comes from outside credits, while the other loans were about 53 and 54% from that source.

JOINT MEETING

The joint annual meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association and the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service was held in the parish house of the New Church, Newtonville, on Tuesday.

After the business meeting of the Hospital Aid Association, the Junior League meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Dorothy Taylor. Annual reports were read by Miss Marion Sherman, the secretary, and Mrs. F. W. Webster, Jr., the treasurer. Miss Grace E. Miller, the social worker of the League, then gave a somewhat detailed account of her interesting work for the past year, showing a great deal of relief and constructive work done. This increase in the number of families served is in part due to the fact that last fall the League purchased a much needed automobile for the use of the social worker.

After a brief speech by Miss Taylor who resigned after three years' service, Mrs. Harold B. Sherman, chairman of the Nominating Committee, proposed the following nominations which were accepted unanimously:

President, Mrs. Curtis Delano, Newtonville; vice-president, Miss Margaret Flanders, Newton Centre; secretary, Mrs. Clinton B. Willey, Newtonville; assistant secretary, Mrs. J. Mervin Allen, Newtonville; Treasurer, Mrs. F. W. Webster, Jr., Waban; assistant treasurer, Miss Mary L. Rolfe, Newtonville.

Mrs. George H. Talbot, the new president of the Hospital Aid Association, then introduced the speaker of the day, Dr. John D. Adams, of Boston. He spoke interestingly on the subject of "Reconstruction Work with Disabled Soldiers and the Curative Value of Occupational Therapy in both Army and Civilian Hospitals."

Dr. Adams told of the great good that has been done in the military hospitals by teaching the disabled soldiers occupations during their convalescence. He showed many attractive samples of such handiwork and told of the practically new field open to workers of teaching such occupations as weaving, designing, painting, bookbinding, carving, manual training, etc., to the convalescent in civilian hospitals, especially to those thousands yearly who, through industrial accidents, are necessarily unfitted for their former work. It is a wonderful field of usefulness, and it is hoped that all hospitals will sooner or later (preferably sooner) employ a "reconstruction aide," as these workers are called, and that many women will take up this new and helpful work. 130 aides were recently graduated from the Boston School of Occupational Therapy, of which Dr. Adams is a director. As soon as funds are again available, this good work will be continued. Though these schools were started at the request of the government, no financial help was given.

A delicious luncheon was served to members of both organizations, under the direction of Mrs. F. S. Webster.

NEWTON TECHNICAL HIGH

The first reunion of the class of 1917 was held in the library on the evening of May 3. Dancing followed a program consisting of music, recitations, and short speeches made by the faculty, guests, and graduates. The committee in charge consisted of: President Murphy, Herbert McGill, Lawrence Sullivan, Dewey Bennett, John Farnan, Margaret Gilligan, Margaret White, Edith Carver, Margaret Matthews, and Hazel Chivers, while Mr. Kidder acted as the arrangements at the school.

Charlie Parlin, 1915, visited the school May ninth. He graduates this June from the U. of P., and is planning then to enter the Harvard Law School.

Among the gifts presented to the library during the last month is a set of Roosevelt's works, given by Mr. Caldwell, and Readings from English and American Literature, given by Mr. Thurber.

The divisions of Freshman girls have just completed the short course Miss Bigelow gives on "How to Use the Library and its Reference Books."

On Friday, the second day of April, a class of eight Seniors from Simmons College visited our library. The girls declared that the library was a great credit to our school. They were much interested in looking at the different book cases and gifts, and were impressed to learn that so many of them had been earned by the pupils of the school.

This is the second year that students have come from Simmons College to visit our library which is considered a model of its kind, and one of the finest school libraries in all New England.

The last dance of the season was held in the library on May 16, from half-past two to five, under the management of the Senior Class, but open to the entire school. The committee consisted of the following: Chairman, Leslie McNeil, assisted by Sadie Goldrick and Alice McBride. Proceeds from this dance will be used to pay for the Senior number of the "Dynamo."

Members of the ball team from Technical High School are Captain Fred Sawyer, who is considered the best pitcher in the suburban league; Peppard, who is playing first; Dan Kerrihan, E. Shea, and G. Harris.

The reunion will include former members of all of these camps. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Salads

They deserve much wider recognition than is properly accorded them, for, properly made they offer a variety of food combinations that are particularly wholesome and very appetizing—especially during the hot weather.

Lettuce is generally given the first place as a salad plant but there are numerous other possibilities such as endive, chicory, cresses of all kinds. It is not necessary to confine oneself to any special plant, almost any young crisp leaves of herbs or vegetables can be massed into a tasty salad if properly mixed with oil and vinegar and seasoned with salt and pepper.

Four Things Essential in Salad Making

A salad must be served cold, the greens in it crisp and the ingredients in the dressing proportioned carefully and so blended that it shall be neither oily nor acid, and the whole well mixed. If these suggestions are carefully carried out, a handful of lettuce leaves dressed with salt, pepper, oil and vinegar is in its way a perfect dish. It is sometimes more desirable to dress the lettuce at the table rather than to have it brought to the table dressed.

Preparing the Ingredients

Lettuce is used as a bed for other salad. As soon as it comes into the house, sprinkle it, and put it in the ice box, in a covered pan, if you can. To prepare it for use, cut off the stem, separate the leaves, discard the outside ones, and let the others lie for at least fifteen minutes in cold water.

Wash them clean, taking care not to break the leaves; look sharply to see that no insects cling to them; shake carefully then wipe them with a soft cloth. If left wet dressing runs off them. Other salad leaves may be freshened and dried in the same way.

Reasons Why Salads Should Be Eaten

While the food value of a green salad is not large, the salts it supplies as well as its refreshing quality make it a most wholesome food. The oil or butter used in dressing it furnishes fat in a digestible form. The acid, vinegar helps to digest the cellulose. Salads are easy to prepare and there is no expense for fuel. Some vegetables suitable for salad can be obtained all the year round, even canned ones making, with fresh greens, an acceptable dish. If you can not have salad every day, have it as often as you can. Some people often have salad instead of dessert and if you can not have both at the same dinner, it is well to substitute salad for pudding two or three times a week at least.

Plain French Dressing

Salt ½ tsp.
Pepper ¼ tsp.
Olive Oil 3 tbsps. or more
Vinegar (Malt or tarragon) 1 tbsp.
Onion juice (if desired), or rub the salad bowl with a clove or garlic.
Stir the seasonings into the oil, add the vinegar, and stir vigorously until the dressing thickens slightly.
Cooked Salad Dressing (without oil)
Mustard ½ tsp.
Salt ½ tsp.
Pepper ¼ tsp.
Cornstarch 1 tbsp.
Sugar 2 tsp.
Egg 1
Milk ¾ c.
Butter 2 tsp.
Vinegar ¼ c.

Mix the dry ingredients in the top of a double boiler, stir into them the egg, butter and vinegar then add the milk. Stir the mixture over hot water, when it begins to thicken beat with an egg beater. When it is as thick as heavy cream remove from fire and cool.

Marguerite Salad

One hard cooked egg cut crosswise. Remove yolk. Cut white in slices, petal fashion, arrange on lettuce leaf like a marguerite and fill the center with the yolk which has been put through the potato ricer or strainer. Garnish with parsley and serve with French, boiled or mayonnaise dressing.

F. N. S. Salad

½ lb large prunes
1 stalk celery
1 green pepper
Wash prunes and soak in cold water till plump. Remove stones and fill prunes with celery, pepper, chopped fine mixed with French dressing. Garnish with potato ricer or strainer. Serve on lettuce leaves, and add more dressing if desired.

Mock Lobster Salad

½ c Mayonnaise dressing
½ c chopped celery
3 c cooked haddock
¼ c chopped pimento
Clean and cook fish until tender, remove skin and bones and flake it into pieces about one inch in size. Mix with celery and chopped pimento, and add the mayonnaise dressing. Arrange on lettuce leaves and put extra dressing on top.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Unusual interest attaches to the coming Christian Science lecture at Players' Hall, West Newton, next Monday evening, from the fact that it is to be given by a woman—Miss Mary G. Ewing of Chicago, Ill. Miss Ewing is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church in Boston, and is well equipped by education and experience in Christian Science to give an authoritative and interesting exposition of its basis and teachings. The topic she will select is one to awaken and to appeal to those who are seeking for a clearer understanding of those teachings of the Bible on which Christian Science is founded and operates.

LASELL NOTES

Miss Helen Webster of Wakefield, Massachusetts, will give a song recital at Lasell Seminary on Wednesday evening, May 22nd, at eight o'clock. Miss Webster is a popular member of the senior class at Lasell. She will be assisted by her classmates, Miss Olive Chase of Laconia, New Hampshire, and Miss Alice Phillips of Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts, pianists.

The pupils of the Music Department of the Woodland Park School will give a recital on Friday evening, May 23rd, at seven-thirty o'clock. The public is invited to both of these recitals.

C. E. Silloway read an original poem on the Birthday Luncheon beginning, "Listen, my children, and you shall hear."

Of the Birthday Lunch of Central, dear.

She told of the conception of the idea in the mind of Miss Abby Miller and of its working out, and concluded with a description of some of the members as follows:

"One of the dearest of our ladies I'm sure you'll agree Is modest Mrs. Butler, A blessing all can see.

The tiniest of our members

Is Mrs. Wakefield dear, Yet there's nothing small about her She's a worker through the year.

The tallest of the company

Is Mrs. Brewer Eddy, She's great at home and in the church And also in the city."

Mrs. Salinger then recited, "The Visit of Mrs. Perkins," and "I'm lost-ed," and Mrs. Moore sang.

Miss Miller, President of the society, then spoke seriously of the work for the coming year. Thanking the ladies for their hearty co-operation in getting up the luncheon and in making the decorations, she called upon them to help raise $1300 to be spent for missionary work next year. She said that of this sum $750 would be necessary to support their missionary in Turkey. It seemed, she confessed like a large sum of money, but she had confidence that the ladies of the Central Church would be equal to the task. Bags in which dimes for holidays and holy days were to be put during the summer were then distributed.

The program concluded with the reading of the following poem on "Newtonville Abby" by Mrs. H. R. Gibbs:

Abby has a little pet, a very hungry bird, It gobbles pennies by the peck, as you no doubt have heard.

It follows her to bed at night, it wakes her up at dawn, And if in wrath she casts it out, it settles on her lawn.

She knows it is a worthy bird, and does a noble work, To do its work, it must be fed, its mistress is no shirk.

She truly loves her little pet, and so she takes it in.

She gives it every waking thought, and all her ready thought.

Her money gone does Abby cry, "Alas! What shall I do?" Oh, no, indeed, and that is why I write this Billet-doux.

Her pennies gone, she says to us, Ladies, it's up to you My pet must eat, it's work is yours, Your pennies are its due.

We long have loved the little beast, and under Mabel's rule, Our pennies offered like yeast, and bubbled in her pool.

But, Abby dear, you're not content with pennies, dimes or quarters On green backs too your mind is bent, and many a check you slaughter, And well we know the end's not yet.

'Tis sure your schemes are many To feed your pet, I'd like to bet you'll bag each hidden penny.

When you in your triumphant voice say, "Ladies, let's talk large."

We know you mean, "Come, hustle please, if you'd ride in my barge."

Your barge runs swift, you are not slow, your wheels make dizzy rounds, Each wheel has many spokes, we know your outlook has no bounds.

Dear Lady with the greedy pet, you shall have all our money, We will run round in birthday clothes, —the law's again it, honey.

But we must eat to live you know, we'll ask the brothers three To feed us, while our pennies go to meet their sister's plea.

Epilogue
Dear Abby, with the taking way, pray take these lines as April Chaff.

For whether we're at work or play we're loyal members of your staff.

And if we travel in your barge, we're mighty sure we'll have no wrecks.

And as we fly we'll scatter large our pennies, quarters, dollars, checks, And as along the road we charge what'er the speed we will not shy.

We'll hustle though the goal looms large, and hope to rest in heaven bime-by.

—Mr. Paul P. Coggins, '21, is in the list of Harvard's best scholars, announced this week, and is included in Group 1, for "very high academic distinction." He was also awarded a detur.

—Granolithic sidewalks are being laid on Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill, Addison C. Burnham on May 17th.

—This is said to be the largest sidewalk order ever given for one citizen.

—An interesting May Fete under the auspices of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian Church, will take place at "Jolly Hollow," the estate of Mr. Addison C. Burnham on May 17th.

—There will be Robin Hood games, and a general good time. If raining the Fete will be postponed until Monday at 4 o'clock.

—Tonight the Survey Committee of the Congregational Church which has been studying the methods and organizations of the church will make its report. The members of the committee are Mr. John V. Mainland, Mr. William H. Rice, Mrs. H. J. Kellaway, Mr. Frank H. Stewart, Rev. Miles B. Fisher, Mr. Edward P. Boston, Mrs. Burton Payne Gray, Mrs. W. H. Greeley, and Miss Louise Walworth.

—In spite of the storm, the service in memory of Sergeant Robert Forbush held at the Congregational church last Sunday was well attended. Col. Burwell was unable to be present, but Major Swan and Captain Edwards both gave testimonies of the life of Sergeant Forbush overseas and Mr. Stewart and the Rev. Edward Noyes spoke of his home life.

—Three of Sergeant Forbush's favorite hymns were sung: "O Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Now the Day is Over."

—Chaplain Rollins, who was to have spoken at the Trinity Church before the Men's Club last Monday evening was called away by the illness of his mother. In his place Mr. George De laune of the 26th and 27th Regt. Artillery of the heavy artillery told of his experiences, as did Col. Dwight S. Brigham, of the Boston and Albany R. R. The latter had charge of the railroads in France. Neither of these three men had spoken in public before, but the accounts which they gave of their work were most interesting and suggestive. Dr. Lancaster also spoke on how they kept aviators fit for fighting, telling of the ways in which oxygen had to be supplied to the men while in the air.

—The dinner of the men's club of the Unitarian Church last Friday was a great success. The room was beautifully decorated with apples, peonies and flags of many sizes. Music was furnished by Mrs. Maddox at the piano. Mrs. Arthur Lewis, violinist, and Mrs. Albert L. Walker, cellist. Ensign Addison C. Burnham spoke on "Naval Aviation" especially with regard to policing the Channel. Lieut. Robert C. Clarke of the heavy artillery spoke on the training and preparation of the men for this work. Lieut. Forrest Goodwin of the machine gun company, told vividly of the St. Mihiel drive; Lieut. Horace C. Hawkes told of aero service on this side, while Sergeant Robert Spalding of the 101st engineers told of engineering work at the front especially in the Toul Sector, and at Chateau Thierry. Lieut. John B. Spalding told of transforming men into soldiers, and Charles G. Clark of the construction of ships. The pastor spoke of Y. M. C. A. work, and gave a beautiful tribute to Donald Curry, a member of the Technology Training Corps who died last December. Miss Hope Parks of the Newton Motor Club also gave a beautiful address. About 100 people were present.

BIRD CLUB

The seventh walk of the Newton Highlands Bird Club was from Riverside along the Charles River to Lower Falls, where the majority took the car, a few keeping on through Quinobquin. The long cold storm had cleared out most of the migrants, and although thirty-one varieties were listed, none were in large numbers and nearly all were resident birds. No new varieties were seen on the first part of the walk, but a spotted sandpiper and also a solitary were found on Quinobquin. The spotted sandpipers have nested there for years. Three of the class reported having seen a yellow-breasted chat on Thursday afternoon on the hill beyond the swamp between Dedham and Winchester streets. There has been a remarkable flight of warblers in the Aqueduct region recently, fifteen different species having been noted by reliable observers within a week. The boys' class goes to Waltham this week.

WABAN NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB THEATRICALS

"Within The Law" was presented at the Waban Neighborhood Club last Friday and Saturday evenings, receiving the enthusiastic support not only of the club members but of the residents in general.

Mr. George Roberts had charge of the production and used a number of the old favorites and also introduced a number of newcomers to the local stage, all of whom made good.

Esther Saville Davis as Mary Turner added another to her many successes on the stage.

Margaret Emery was excellent in the part of Agnes Lynch and Katherine Tougas and Lucille Sawyer filled their parts very creditably.

Lester Cardell, Edwin Davis, Walter Newbert and Carlyle Emery occupied the center of the stage a number of times with marked ability, and the rest of the cast helped to give a performance of which Waban may feel proud.

Mr. George Roberts has received many compliments on his successful production.

Those taking part were Lucille Sawyer, Edwin R. Davis, Lester B. Cardell, Katharine Tougas, George V. Phipps, Esther Davis, Herbert O. Stetson, Margaret Emery, Carlyle Emery, Josephine Moore, Howard M. North, Francis W. Davis, Walter E. Newbert, Theo. E. Quinby, Henry A. Erhard, Andrew P. Newman, Charles C. Blaney.

ENTERTAINMENT APPRECIATED

Those who were present at the supper and dance given by the Special Aid for members of the crew of the U. S. S. Agamemnon will be interested in the following letter:—

"The boys of the U. S. S. Agamemnon who had the pleasure of taking part in that splendid 'chow,' and going to the dance, wish to express their appreciation and gratitude to you ladies and Captain Ware for making their stay in Boston one which will bring back the very pleasantest of memories, as they stand their watches out at sea.

"We all enjoyed ourselves more than you can possibly imagine. We want to thank all those pretty girls, too; they made each and every one of us 'gobbies' feel so much at home that whenever we hear of Boston, we think of the good time we had in Newton.

"With kindest regards to all, I remain very thankfully yours,

"ROBERT E. P. RAIMAN."

ADDITIONAL TRAVEL PAY DUE SERVICE MEN

The Act of February 29, 1919, provides that

"enlisted men honorably discharged from army, navy or marine corps since November 11, 1918, shall receive five cents per mile from the place of his discharge to the place of his original muster into the service"

Therefore, all men discharged from the service since Nov. 11, 1918, who received travel pay at the rate of 35 cents per mile are entitled to further payments at the rate of 1 1/2 cents per mile, decision having just been rendered to this effect by the Comptroller of the Treasury.

Congressman Robert Luce offers his assistance to discharged men either in the matter of obtaining necessary blank form of affidavit or in securing payment of amount due if they will forward affidavit and original or certified copy of discharge papers to his Washington office.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Public Library is at present exhibiting a very fine set of photographs of the work of St. Gaudens for Boston.

St. Gaudens did so much for Boston that every one living near Boston should be familiar with his work.

Among the most famous of his statues are the statue of Peter Cooper in New York, of Admiral Farragut in New York, and General Sherman at the entrance of Central Park.

In our own Boston, the Shaw monument, the most finished of St. Gaudens' works to which he gave twelve years of labor, is too well-known to need description. It is world famous. The librarian of Camp Devens tells us that the copy of this statue at the Library there was much beloved by the colored troops in the camp.

The statue of Phillips Brooks at Trinity Church, Boston, has been much criticized, but the criticism has been largely because of the setting of the statue rather than of the statue itself.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Mr. Morris Brown, Head of the Printing Department, has prepared for the Federal Board for Vocational Education a course in printing which has been published by the American Red Cross.

This is entitled "Rehabilitation Monograph" and was prepared under the direction of the Committee on Courses of Study for Disabled Soldiers.

Dr. J. Edgar Park will address the school on Monday morning upon the subject, "What is Bolshevism?"

The Junior-Senior play will be presented Friday evening. It will be preceded by a program of declamations and songs.

At the Monday morning assembly, May 12th, the school was addressed by Lieut. Sterling of the British Aviation Corps.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre took place Wednesday, May 14th, and this year it was held at the summer home of one of the members, Mrs. E. R. Kimball, Jr., at Ashland. This club, a pleasant all-day outing for the club, as the trip of about twenty miles to the top of a beautiful hill, was made by automobiles, nine of the members taking their motors and carrying in all, forty-three to enjoy the luncheon at noon on the piazza, and followed later by the business meeting and annual reports. The country was beautiful with the trees in blossom, and as the sun was shining, the day proved a great success.

BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts of the Norumbega Council, which includes the towns of Newton, Needham and Wellesley, are to hold a grand rally and demonstration of scout work on Saturday afternoon, May 17th, at Clafin Field, Newtonville.

It is expected that nearly 500 scouts and their officers will be present, and as the winners of the various events will represent the Council at the Harvard Scout Rally on June 7th, the competitions will be fought to the last moment.

The scouts will be inspected and reviewed by His Honor the Mayor, and by representatives of the towns of Needham and Wellesley. The program of events follows that of the past years, but this rally promises to be the best of any held before. The public is invited and the grand stand admission is free to all. The rally starts at 3:00 P. M. and will last until about 5:30 P. M.

Scouts Sell Many Bonds
The scouts of this city have been all working hard on this loan, and while they find it much harder to sell bonds this time, they are making a good record, and as good a showing in proportion to the other canvassers. The scouts took hold after the men and women had twice made a house to house canvass, yet on Thursday last the reports of the scoutmasters showed that the boys had collected something over 60,000 dollars. As some troops had not reported, and as the campaign was not over at this time, it is expected that the scouts will "clean" about $150,000 at least.

Five real German helmets are offered as prizes to the scouts selling the greatest number of bonds, so the race for these souvenirs is exciting. Besides these helmets, a set of the Liberty Loan posters is to be given to the scout in each troop making the best record of sales.

Scout Receives Medal
Scout Henry Plimpton of Troop 5, at Newton Centre, has just been presented with an "ace" medal with five palms, by the U. S. Treasury Department for his splendid work in the sale of the War Savings Stamps. This was awarded by Scout Executive Talbot at the last meeting of the troop Thursday night.

EDITORIAL

Few residents of Newton realize the great asset possessed by the city in the Oak Hill district. The extreme southern line of the city is three miles from the business square of Newton Centre and over two miles from the Boylston street boulevard, the nearest available point for transportation to and from that district. The extreme width of the district is nearly two miles. Within these bounds lies a typical New England country district, with hills and vales, mostly devoted to farming purposes, all of which is within eight miles of the State House in Boston.

There can be no question but what it is good business for the city to do its part towards developing this splendid territory by providing good roads and other inducements to encourage the right kind of people to settle there. Every penny spent in this way will be returned to the city treasury tenfold in the way of taxes within a very few years and become a permanent source of revenue for all time to come.

The aldermen have acted wisely in giving the Planning Board a definite standing on matters affecting the future lay out of the city, such as laying out and widening of street and the taking or purchase of lands for playgrounds and parks. We feel safe in predicting that the advice of the Planning Board will be sane and sensible.

We hope that Public sentiment will be well expressed next Thursday night at the hearing at City Hall West Newton on the matter of a Soldiers' Memorial and a New City Hall. There is already on foot a plan to erect a municipal gymnasium and swimming pool near the High Schools, as the Memorial, the funds to be raised by public subscription. Other suggestions include aviation field, a Memorial arch or monument.

Coupled with the Memorial is the suggestion for a Memorial City Hall, or a New City Hall, in which there should be a Memorial Hall. For many years we have consistently opposed the erection of a new City Hall, as we did not believe the time was ripe for such action. But the present seems to be the right moment to start on this very necessary project. Every one cognizant with working conditions in the present building and every one who passes by the present structure, will agree that a new building is absolutely needed. A new City Hall, with some such feature as the Hall of Flags at the State House, would be a source of pride to every citizen and every citizen would consider himself or herself part owner in such a structure. A municipal gymnasium on the other hand appeals almost solely to the young and would actually become an adjunct of the school plant. As a Memorial it would not typify every class of citizens and would be in effect, the gift of the rich men of the community and not of the every day citizen.

Newton ought to go way over the top in raising its quota for the Salvation Army and the drive next week will undoubtedly meet with the heartiest response from our citizens. Time was when the Salvation Army work was a matter of indifference to many but the record the Army has made overseas has completely changed public sentiment. The doughboy and the Salvation Army doughnut will forever be linked in pleasing memory.

The increase of $100 in the salaries of the police and firemen will be greatly appreciated. The man whose salary is between $1000 and $2000 feels the present high cost of living far more than others and every little helps.

As we expected, Newton went over the top in the Victory Loan campaign as it has in all the other drives which have taken place.

The name of every man in this city who has been in the United States service should be listed at once with the City Clerk.

SOLDIERS' RECEPTION DAY PARADE

Saturday Afternoon, June 7

The Parade committee estimates that at least four hundred automobiles, carrying eighteen hundred Newton boys who wore the National uniform, will form this parade. The route for which will pass through or very near every community center in the city.

The parade will form on Commonwealth avenue between Hammond and Lake street and the couriers and leading cars will start from Lake street, at which point Gov. Coolidge, Gen. Edwards, and other distinguished guests will be received and escorted to the place of honor at the head of the column.

The route of the parade will be,—starting at Lake street,—through Commonwealth avenue to Hammond street; through Hammond to Boylston; Boylston to Langley road, to Newton Centre; through Beacon street and Lake avenue to Newton Highlands; through Woodward and Eliot streets to Newton Upper Falls; through Chestnut and Woodward streets to Waban (square); through Beacon and Washington streets, to Newton Lower Falls; through Grove street and Woodland road to Washington street; thence through Washington street to Commonwealth avenue; through Commonwealth avenue to Walnut street; through Walnut street to Washington street (Newtonville); through Washington street to Nonantum Square (Newton Corner); through Centre and Pearl streets to Watertown street (Nonantum); through Watertown street to West Newton (reviewing stand at City Hall); through Washington and Auburn streets and Commonwealth avenue to Norumbega Park, where guests and men will be received and entertained.

The time-table of the parade will be published later in these columns, together with the provisions for public decoration of the route and suggestions for the decoration of grounds and homes of the residents on the route.

DEATH OF MR. CLIFFORD

The death of Mr. Alvin Henry Clifford, which occurred last week Thursday evening, removes one of Boston's oldest and best known wool merchants. He was born in Gilmanton, New Hampshire, October 21, 1840, the youngest of thirteen children born to Joseph and Clarissa Clifford. He married Marietta Doldt, the elder daughter of the Rev James Doldt of Canterbury, N. H. For fifty-five years he engaged in the wool business, in New York and Boston, most of that time in the latter city, where he won an enviable reputation for strictest integrity.

His genial, kindly manner, his quick response to every worthy cause, and his ready wit endeared him to all with whom he came in contact.

He is survived by his widow, Marietta Clifford, his daughter, Mrs. Dexter Wiswell, and his son, Mr. Paul Clifford of Weston, who was associated with him in business.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Centre street on Saturday afternoon, Rev. H. Grant Person, D. D., of Eliot Church officiating, and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

Chairs so mounted that they can be raised and lowered two feet or more by the occupants, for use in motion picture and other theaters, are shown in Popular Mechanics Magazine. The advantage of these seats is that they lift the users high enough to give them a view of the stage unobstructed by persons passing to and fro in front of them—a frequent occurrence at the "movies."

NEWTON FEDERATION

The first meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation for the new year will be held at the New Church parlors, Highland avenue, Newtonville, Monday, May 19, at 10.15 A. M. Representatives of the University Extension courses offered by the State Board of Education and of the American Women's Hospitals are expected to speak. As this meeting is to complete the organization for the year a large attendance is desired.

Another new club is welcomed to the club circle of the city in the Newton Grade Teachers' Club, which is starting enthusiastically on its career. A meeting was held in the Technical High School on the evening of May 7. After an enjoyable half hour of community singing led by Mr. Brown of Camp Devens, Mrs. W. C. Crawford gave a Current Events lecture. Mrs. Crawford took for her subject, "The Peace Treaty," and had a large and appreciative audience of club members and their friends.

RECONSTRUCTION WORK

Since last October, Dorothy Emmons of Bennington street, Newton, has been serving in Hospital No. 16, New Haven, Conn. This is a hospital for tuberculosis. The men are sent there by the U. S. Government where they are given the most careful attention.

The work is divided into occupational, therapeutic, and vocational therapeutics. It is in the occupational work that Miss Emmons is engaged. The vocational work is done by men. There are all kinds of classes in carpentry, machinery, electricity, etc. One of the most interesting is the class in citizenship which has recently graduated a large class. All work whether occupational or vocational is under the direction of the surgeon who decides what work and how much may be done.

Miss Emmons' artistic training has made her a great value in diverting the minds of the men to sketching, designing, etc. The hours of work are 9 to 11 and 1 to 3.30 daily. Among the different occupations are basketry of all kinds, leather work, book-binding, chair caning, and the making of toys. Some of these are made from tin cans, though the greater number are of wood.

One of the most popular occupations is the making of book-plates, the whole process from the original design to the printing being done at the hospital. Many of the designs show great originality. A Western cowpuncher made a bucking bronco so beautifully carved that it was sent to the Inter-Allied Exposition at Rome. A doctor made a skull and cross bones for his book-plate. One wonders if this was wise from a business point of view.

There is a store connected with the hospital where some of the products are sold. But the first consideration of both doctors and helpers is not the product itself but the health of the men.

Miss Emmons told of a young man formerly an illustrator who had been training to be an officer but who was taken ill before he had gotten his commission. When he first arrived at the hospital he was very much depressed. All efforts to make him interested either in himself or in the life about him failed, until Miss Emmons and a friend persuaded him one day to go sketching with them into the surrounding country. Gradually his natural love of the beautiful, and his artistic sense awoke and before long he was sketching. After a few such trips he was able to do some really fine work. That life had taken on a new meaning for him is shown by his remark one evening, "Well, I guess there is a life outside of the hospital after all."

All honor to those who are thus bringing a new vision to our boys.

THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER

Those who saw the "Prince and the Pauper" last Saturday given for the benefit of the Smith College Unit were indeed fortunate.

The many vicissitudes of the little Prince were admirably played by Mrs. Head formerly Helen Gans of Newton. It is always difficult to play a double part yet Mrs. Head never forgot which part she was playing. One saw the sincerity and honesty of the beggar, Tom Canty, and his deep love for his mother beautifully brought out in the last scene, and, on the other hand, one saw the innate nobility of the real Prince who though clothed in rags, was every inch a Prince.

As a contrast to the little Prince, Miles Hendon, Mrs. Harriman, was admirably done. The bluff, courageous, kind-hearted soldier who took pity on the little lad and would see no harm done to him was a very lovable character. Mrs. Harriman's voice and carriage added materially to the effectiveness of the part.

Particularly difficult was the part of John Canty, the London thief, but Miss Freeman was very convincing in the part even in the death scene.

Altogether the play was well worth seeing and great credit is due to all who took part in it. A word of praise should also be given to the members of the West Newton Music School who furnished the music. Their performance reflected much credit on the school.

CITY HALL NOTES

Street Commissioner Stuart reports on clean-up-week that his department collected 382½ loads or 2042½ cubic yards of ashes and rubbish at a cost of $19,771.

All bids recently received for the collection of garbage were thrown out and new bids requested on a basis of two and three years with the following result:—William H. Mague $12,000 per year for either two or three years; Walter Griffin, $17,550 for two years and $17,000 for three years; Michael J. Canney, $17,750 for two years and John W. Duff, $19,000 for either two or three years. The contract has been awarded to Mr. Mague.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Saturday the tennis team easily defeated Concord H. S. at Waban by winning every set. Crosby, Fairfield and Leste took the singles and Crosby, Hill, Mandell and Sly the doubles.

Steve Palmer is Newton's only entry in the interscholastic games at the Harvard Stadium to be held the last of this month. He has entered the 440. Track enthusiasts will regret very much to learn of the death from tuberculosis of George Brickhouse. In 1917-18 he was one of Newton's best men in the dash and the 300.

Elizabeth Neal of Brookline High School has been awarded the prize for the best story in the story-writing contest between Newton, Brookline and Miss Windsor's School. Only one story was submitted by Newton girls.

On Friday the Junior class held a very successful dance in the Gym. The Boys' Debating Club will hold a dance in the gym on Friday, May 23.

Letters have been received by Mr. Adams from Mr. Meserve to the teachers of the school and the pupils of Room 1 in which he cordially thanks them for their thoughtfulness in sending him flowers during his recent illness. Mr. Meserve is recuperating rapidly and hopes to return to school in about a week.

The Monday morning talks to the boys of the senior class about the various phases of city government are to be continued. Mr. Adams feels that boys who are about to graduate from high school should know something about how the affairs of the city in which they live are conducted. They have heard Mayor Childs, Mr. Bailey, chairman of the board of assessors, Mr. Bishop, city solicitor, and Mr. Harriman, president of the board of aldermen. The speaker for next Monday will be Mr. Daboll, city comptroller of accounts. Mr. Harriman who spoke last Monday told about the organization and duties of the board of aldermen. The board is distinctively a legislative body and not an administrative one. For a city the size of Newton a board of aldermen seems the wisest thing for the large number of men who have served upon it have a fundamental knowledge of how affairs are conducted at City Hall and become much more intelligent citizens.

Mr. Harriman congratulated Newton on its honest and efficient administration. Mr. Adams has received a letter from Miss McGill, who has been doing Y. M. C. A. work with the army of occupation. A few extracts are given below:—"I expect now to be in Newton in time to take up the work of next year in the Newton High School. They have just written me from Holyoke asking if it would be possible for me to stay over for another year. As my year over here nears its end I think I feel the stronger pull toward home and home problems. It has been a wonderful year.—It has been a wonderful chance to be a house mother to hosts of men. They have made this a home for their stay in Diekirch and I do think it has helped to make this foreign land less unbearable since the armistice was signed. So many of them have told me that they thought they were going home at Christmas time and the long wait since then has been most trying.—Tomorrow is set as the day when Gen. Pershing will review the 33rd Division preparatory to their home going. Everybody is agog. The general arrives tomorrow and the review takes place at 1 P. M. on a field about six miles from here at Ethelbuck. It is the same field that has been used for football, baseball and military reviews of less importance than tomorrow's. Everyone not present at the review is supposed to be in K. P. service. We are to witness the review from the hill just above the reviewing ground. With the rest of the 33rd Division we make holiday tomorrow and lunch at noon on the hillside so as to be in place for the event. The division begins to entrain on the 27th (April) and if all goes well a week from that date will be enough to set them all on the way to Brest. I am much attached to the division and feel only personal regret that in all probability there are so few of them whom I shall ever see again. After this division goes home I am going to Paris, then down to Beaune for a tentative visit, then to Coblenz, Germany, if I do not stay at Beaune. The address 12 rue d'Aguesseau, Paris, will always reach me."

HOSPITAL AID MEETING

The joint meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association and the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service was held in the New Church parlors Newtonville, Tuesday, May 13, at 10.15 A. M. The attendance was unusually large.

After the usual reports of the Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Riddle gave a very interesting account of the year's work at the Newton Hospital, speaking of it as a year of marked accomplishment, 2623 patients having been treated. The material aid of our association was deeply appreciated, and the intelligent sympathy of the Hospital Aid had been a great blessing to the Hospital.

A change was voted in the Constitution of the Aid, allowing in place of "one vice-president," "one or more vice-presidents."

Mrs. H. H. Carter who has served the Association as President with unfailing devotion for 15 years, having signified her desire to retire, the following officers were duly elected.

President, Mrs. George H. Talbot; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Mrs. W. M. Flanders, Mrs. Frank A. Day; Treasurer, Miss Rose Loring; Secretary, Mrs. F. E. Anderson; Auditor, The Hon. Alonzo R. Weed.

The list of Directors was augmented by the addition of the following names: Miss Elizabeth Angier, Mrs. G. W. St. Amant, Miss Florence E. Tower, Mrs. Chas. A. Brown, Mrs. Calvert Crary, Mrs. James B. Green-Smith, Mrs. R. G. Howard, Mrs. H. H. Kendall, Miss Eleanor Merrill.

Following the meeting of the Junior League, Dr. John D. Adams gave a very interesting and timely lecture on "Reconstruction Work with Disabled Soldiers and the Curative Value of Occupational Therapy in both Army and Civilian Hospitals."

A delicious luncheon under the direction of Mrs. F. S. Webster closed the day's proceedings.

A FINE RECORD

Lieutenant Louis F. Moriniere, U. S. N., is visiting at his home on Lowell avenue, Newtonville. He has just completed his fourth campaign with twenty-two months overseas' service with the U. S. navy. One morning in September 1917, coming from France to the United States he fired 27 shots at a submarine periscope coming his way while on watch on the bridge and the periscope was not seen afterwards. Lieutenant L. F. Moriniere enrolled in June 1917, as ensign, was promoted in April 1918, to Junior Lieutenant, and in August was promoted to Senior Lieutenant. Lieutenant Moriniere is one of the few survivors of the battleship Maine destroyed in Havana, Cuba, February 15, 1898, and a veteran of the Spanish West Indies and Philippine campaigns.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

The workroom is already well launched in its spring work. It has answered three emergency calls, sending pajamas and pillows to Italy, and over 200 filled work bags to Serbia and Poland. Reports come to us that thread is selling for $50 a spool in Poland, and these bags contained between 6 and 8 spools each, besides other sewing materials.

There still remain over 300 garments to make before summer, besides the regular war relief work, and also many women have responded, we feel sure that there are others who want to help. Rooms open Mondays and Thursdays.

The Special Aid has been asked to collect funds for the American Committee for Devastated France, Inc. Will anyone who would like to contribute to the work of rebuilding the district of the Aisne please send contributions to

There are two distinct types of tomato plants that are usually on sale by the dozen lots about this time of year. During the next few weeks one may see these displayed for sale in the various hardware, grocery and seed stores. The observing gardener will notice that one type is of a stocky, dark green growth about 6 inches tall that stand up well in the box. Perhaps the adjoining store may have some that are light green in color and of a more slender growth. These seem to lack the vitality of the short, dark green type. It is not a question of vigor, however, for if the two types were set out side by side in a garden it is very likely that one would grow as well as the other.

The difference in type is due to the variety of the tomatoes. The stocky, upright plants are usually one of the dwarf varieties. These are a late type that make a bushy growth but are far inferior to the other type in regard to yield.

The tall, light green plants are the ones the home gardener should select for planting. These are the early or main crop varieties and the big yielders.

The mistaken idea about tomato plants is now so widespread that the majority of tomato plants grown to sell are of the dwarf type—the Dwarf Champion being the variety generally raised.

The market gardeners, however, are raising for the home gardener more and more of the earlier varieties each year as the demand increases. People are becoming more familiar with vegetable varieties and as the sterling qualities of the early type of tomato become known they are planting this early light green type.

Tomato plants should be sent out about the last week in May. Plant them about 4 inches deep. If the stem is quite long it is an excellent plan to lay a portion of it in the bottom of a trench dug 4 inches deep leaving 6 to 8 inches of the plant showing above the ground. A long, vigorous root system will develop from the buried stem. A shovel full of well rotted manure should be spaded into the area in which the tomato plant is to be set.

As a precaution against cutworms wrap a band of newspaper 3 inches wide around the roots and stem of the plant. Let the band extend into the ground 4 inches. After a few weeks the paper will rot away and become ineffective but the ravages of the cutworm will be over by this time.

HARMONY on your piano made perfect by FRANK A. LOCKE, the Tuner, 72e adv.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Miss Marion Keep, Editor
Listen to the words of the French lad and do a little thinking—Will you help?
"Once in a blue moon, there's a large deep-voiced Person in Black Called the cure, who brings me real milk—just a little, but, oh, isn't it fine!"
And when I see it coming, warm and white, I'm in such a hurry that I whimper and whine
For pure joy, and the Cure smiles a bit, watching me, and says I'm the hope of France;
But how can a chap be the hope of France when he can't get enough food to have a chance?
With the knowledge each one of us has of the desperate conditions in the states of Europe, we cannot be careless and extravagant in the matter of food. We must choose what we need for health and strength, rather than what our fickle minds might lead us to select.

I cannot emphasize too strongly the use of milk, vegetables and fruits. Milk contains all the necessary elements for the proper nourishment of the body. It is probable that the quality of the milk supply bears a closer relation to the public health than does that of any other food. This is due partly because of the exceptional nutritive qualities of milk and the important part which it plays in the diet of children and others to whom the quality of the food is of special importance and partly because the opacity of milk offers unusual opportunity for adulteration; and the fact that bacteria readily grow in it makes it especially important that the milk be carefully guarded from contamination. Milk is an economical food, especially when compared with other foods of animal origin, a quart of milk being approximately equivalent to a pound of steak or to eight or nine eggs.

Fruits and vegetables are important in the diet for they not only supply us with mineral matter and water but they make our food more bulky, and this is an aid to good digestion. If we use fruits and vegetables and milk freely we are quite sure to get a sufficient supply of vitamins to build up the tissues of the body.

The Cost of Roofing

Figure the cost of roofing by its cost per year's service and not by its price per roll. The kind of roofing that you want is the kind that's easiest to lay, that lasts the longest and takes the least labor to keep in repair. That roofing is Ru-ber-oid.

RU-BER-OID ROOFING

has been manufactured for more than a quarter century by The Standard Paint Company. It was the first prepared roofing on the market. It has hosts of enthusiastic friends in nearly every country in the world: farmers, manufacturers, railroadmen, plantation owners, men who own smelters and chemical works; they have all tested it thoroughly under actual working conditions and have found that it equalled (and in a great many cases excelled) their expectations.

But remember—you cannot tell how long a roofing is going to last by looking at it. It is easy to make a roofing of cheap material that looks just like Ru-ber-oid but it will not wear like Ru-ber-oid. So don't be influenced by "looks" or "feel" but buy the roofing that you know is going to give you honest service for the money that you pay.

Phone us today for samples and prices. We have a stock of Ru-ber-oid ready for your needs.

There is but one Ru-ber-oid.

CONSERVATION

At the annual meeting of the Social Science Club the following significant statement of the situation was presented by Mrs. Fred H. Tucker, chairman of Conservation, as in lieu of her formal report. It sets forth a condition which confronts the world in so picturesque language that it is worthy of being given in full:

What the Conservation Class has tried to do and why, being an Informal Report concerning two members of our Solar System, Mars and Earth.

Should this Report seem too frivolous or too sensational or not authentic come one and all to the Conservation Class and talk it over.

The planet Mars, so the story goes is "carrying on" for Conservation—carrying on a perfectly unanimous and unceasing fight to utilize every drop of water, save and make the most of every grain of soil, cultivate to the limit every useful crop from grass to forests, and doubtless has animal husbandry and the protection of birds and game down to the finest point. Said to say, poor Mars is probably in a losing fight and, if its people are half as bright as they look, they well understand it and have calculated to within a year or so just when the last plucky Martian will have breathed his last and the warrior planet have become as dead as the moon.

We are in no such plight as this. We are assured that, if we behave ourselves properly, the planet Earth will continue to furnish living conditions about as now—except oil, gas, coal and other non-renewable resources—for millions of years. But one sad story is that we are misbehaving. The Conservation of Natural Resources is our most fundamental problem because human life depends upon it. Yet most people don't even know it, or if it is explained to them don't understand or don't believe it or forget it in a day or two. But in Mars when the prices of fish, flesh, and fowl soared on high, when milk, butter, and eggs nearly vanished, when potatoes and even the lowly cabbage became delicacies, they set out at once to know the reason why. They just followed things right back to first causes without stopping too long to scold the marketman or grocer or milkman or even the farmer. And when they did find out, then everybody in Mars learned all about it and the whole people took hold and conspired together on a scientific, comprehensive plan to remedy matters. Of course Mars was too far gone for complete restoration. Her evil day can only be postponed.

Now the Conservation Class has been trying in its tiny way to do what Mars did—find out the facts and the reason why and then what to do. We believe that if everybody thus found out the reason would be so plain that the right thing would be done. But it is rather discouraging at present. For example, Theodore Roosevelt did far more for Conservation than any other president, perhaps more than any other man in America, both in educating public opinion and arousing enthusiasm the country over and also in actual accomplishments. Had he continued to push Conservation all his life with the same energy and singleness of purpose I believe that our whole land would today be not only informed upon the subject but would be carrying out just such a comprehensive, unified policy as that which distinguishes our sister—or is it our brother?—Planet Mars. But Congress refused certain appropriations, and I fear also that Roosevelt's temperament required a new world to conquer about once in so often regardless of the status of his latest enterprise. Conservation was by far the biggest and most worthwhile job he ever undertook and, although but a beginning, he accomplished so much more than anybody before or since that I always said his name would be immortalized by that beginning when all else he did was forgotten. Judge my amazement when upon his death I could find, except in a forestry magazine, not even an allusion in any paper or in Senator Lodge's memorial address in Washington to Roosevelt's greatest, though so incomplete, achievement. Now isn't that disheartening?

Yet it's all this, as just one item will illustrate. I have said that the earth will probably remain about as now for millions of years—that is to say there is no impending catastrophe like another ice age or a collision or loss of solar heat. This does not mean, however, no dangerous deterioration under maltreatment nor support for an unlimited population even with the best of treatment. But how are conditions today? And how many people could the United States, for example, support if we began from this minute on to develop and improve all its resources? When would the limit of population be reached and what would happen then?

Careful estimates show that in 300 years, or about the time elapsed since the first settlers landed here, we shall have a population of one billion, and that will be the limit, do our best, unless the unforeseen comes to pass. Some may say "Little care we for 300 years to come. So what of it?" Well, granted we don't care. Let that go. Do we care what happens today? For I've told only half the story.

The rest is this—that the margin of subsistence will be growing too narrow for comfort long before the estimated limit is reached. People won't live in ease and plenty right up to the moment the billionth baby is born and then presto!—the crack of a pistol and everything stops, seats all taken. Not even standing room. No, the last hundred years will be a hard row to hoe, work or fight, or work and fight, for everybody. The hundred years before will be no soft snap—and how about our own hundred? Does it look good? It isn't just the war, either. While that's to blame for enough, it has also given impetus to some few phases of Conservation. But glance back and note the growing scarcities and rising prices of the last 25 or 30 years. Doesn't it look like a pinch that is pinching harder and harder? And do you see any prospect of better days? We may be comfortable now, you and I, but how about the thousands wretched, for every one of us? What is the matter and why, and what is the remedy and the hardest of all, how get the remedy?

In the Conservation Class, taking a leaf from the Book of Mars, we are trying to find answer to these questions.

RESTRAIN THE CATS

The nesting season for the wild birds has arrived, and the commissioners on fisheries and game once more call attention to the necessity of keeping the family cat in control during the time the eggs are being hatched and the fledglings are helpless, either in the nest or when first on the ground.

It is a matter of common knowledge that on the activities of the insect-eating birds depends, in a large measure, the success of the crops and the preservation of the forests.

It is not so well known how enormous are the inroads on the wild birds by the family cat and the abandoned, hunting house cat. Often the owners honestly believe their cats to be innocent of the practice of killing birds because the work is not done where they can see it.

Careful studies on this subject have been made and the results are surprising. One cat, which was watched carefully, was seen to kill 58 birds in a single season.

The commissioners appeal to every person who owns a cat to make it a personal matter to see that the family pet is not permitted to roam at large in the day or night during this critical period when the success of the hatch of birds depends on the freedom they have from molestation.

The season extends from May 15 to August 15.

Every bird lover is asked to see that homeless and wild hunting house cats are humanely killed.

COMMISSIONERS ON FISHERIES AND GAME.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

An unusual bill of vaudeville—five all-star acts—will be shown at Gordon's Cambridge Central Square Theatre, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Frank Stafford in "A Hunter's Game" will head the bill. Bernard and Scarth, a comedy sketch "The Tail of a Coat"; Jerome & Herbert, singing and talking acrobats; Cheyenne Minstrels, something different in vaudeville; Emily Darrell, a sure scream in her new novelty act; and Harry Rogers, Boston's famous organist.

Lila Lee, diminutive Paramount star in her latest picture "Rustling a Bride" will be displayed at this theatre.

There will be an entire change of program Thursday, Friday and Saturday and a fine Frederick will be shown in "One Week of Life," her latest photoplay.

A beautiful Cut-out Doll, representing Mary Pickford, will be distributed free to all children attending this theatre, Saturday morning, May 18th.

SCHOOL NOTES

Stearns School Manual Training

Tony Proia, aged 13, holds this year's record of accomplishment in the Industrial Arts Department.

This boy has constructed an oak jardiniere stand, a desk of oak for the Eighth Grade, a double picture frame with an ornament shelf, a drawing board and tee square for school use, and several small articles.

Beside this he has done so well in his academic studies that he has been able to assist the instructor during several extra periods in the teaching of another group of boys.

Master Proia's work is particularly neat in appearance and shows great regard for accuracy.

Home workshops of the boys are a feature of considerable interest to this department. Already there are six such shops maintained by the different boys interested.

A special work bench has been designed to meet this particular need and two of them are now being constructed for home use by Chester Hill and Gordon Stewart of the Horace Mann eighth grade. Albert Greaves of grade six has already made one at a cost of $4.50 and is now making some window screens for his mother.

Other home workshops are run by Wilfred Cormier, Wilfred Rodrigue, Alden Holman, Winslow Tuttle, and Wallace McPherson.

The principal output of the workshop has been repairing of furniture and bicycles, chaircaning and bird house construction.

Two of the workshops contain foot power lathes; one has a jig saw; and another is lighted electrically by batteries installed by the boy.

The Mothers' Club

Monday evening, May 5th, the Mothers' Club held its annual banquet, which in accordance with the spirit of the times was called a Victory Banquet. The kindergarten room where the banquet was held and the tables were attractively decorated with flags and apple blossoms. The nut baskets of red, white and blue were made by the children of the school.

Over a hundred mothers and their friends were served by the sixth and seventh grade girls under the direction of Miss Annie L. Weeks, social director of the Stearns School Centre and Miss Doris Logan, cooking teacher. A jolly good time was enjoyed throughout the dinner. The general good feeling was aided by Mrs. Harry B. Stebbins who was a host in herself at the piano, playing popular songs in which the mothers joined with enthusiasm.

The party was concluded in the assembly hall where Mrs. Stebbins again presided at the piano. Here the little waitresses became entertained—singing, reciting and singing. The mothers entered into the fun and danced both modern and old-fashioned dances, finishing with an Irish jig. It was generally agreed that the mothers could still teach these children something in the art of dancing.

Base Ball

The Stearns team defeated the Horace Mann School on the Stearns Playground Wednesday afternoon in a six-inning game. Score 20 to 0.

Bigelow School

The Fourth, Fifth, and Seventh Grades have begun work on their school gardens which are located on Tremont street. These are the only grades that will have school gardens this year. The other grades will study trees and birds.

The Bigelow Baseball team played the Emerson School team Thursday afternoon, May 15, at Newton Upper Falls. In an exciting 14 inning game the Bigelow Baseball team beat the Emerson School team 7 to 6.

The Bigelow School Orchestra is composed of five violins, a mandolin, a cornet, a horn, and a drum. It has weekly practice, and furnishes music for all Hall exercises. The players are, Mabel Williamson, Helen Spring, Lucy O'Connor, Robert Reed, Alfred Hanson; mandolin, Dawson Alexander; cornet, Portia Russell; ballad horn, Mr. Chase; drum, Suzanne Loizeaux.

Pierce School

Pierce School has entered a team in the Newton Grammar School Baseball League. The members of the Pierce team are: William Cronin, Joseph O'Connor, Joseph Troy, Paul Riley, Clement Parker, Nicholas Tedesco, Oswin MacLellan, Richard Stumph, Lawrence Tedesco, James Cronin and James Lawless.

Baseball leagues for the fifth and sixth grades of the school have been formed. Shields will be awarded to the champion teams of each grade. The school gardens of the Pierce School District of West Newton, are being planted by the fourth, fifth and seventh grades. Miss Parker of the Pierce School has been appointed Director of Pierce School Gardens to help Miss Saunders.

The Burr School

Last Thursday the Burr baseball team played the Emerson School team on the new baseball grounds. The score was 13-11.

Miss Ruth Allen recently supervised a play to raise money to support a French orphan. The boys and girls of the school are also trying in every way to help in this good cause.

Claflin School

The Horace Mann-Claflin team played the Mason team at Newton Centre play ground on May 8th. The score was nine to two.

The Claflin School Garden on Walnut street was planted on Tuesday, May 15th, 1919.

The Achievement Club held a meeting in the Claflin School Hall on Wednesday, May 7th, 1919.

Allen School

The Allen School has just installed a wireless apparatus at the school. The baseball team played Middlesex at Concord Wednesday.

Country Day School

The following boys have been elected by the first class as the committee to prepare the Country Day book: Henry H. Fuller, chairman, Ronald W. Cordingley, John A. Amory, Edward G. Lund, Charles K. Cummings, Jr., Edwin S. Webster, Jr., and Ralph E. Stuart.

Members of the various French classes gave a long public program entirely in French of plays, recitations, and songs Tuesday afternoon. The chief features of the program were the plays "La Grammaire" given by Robert Sumner, Richard Dwight, John Houghton, Daniel Low, and John Toulmin of the Third Class, and "La Derniere Classe" presented by Joseph Wheelwright, Philip Fowler, and William Soule of the Fifth Class. The verb contest between the First and Second classes was won by Charles Cummings of the First Class.

The baseball team is to play the first of its series of games with its big rival, Noble and Greenough, at Dexter Field, Brookline, Saturday afternoon. Last Saturday the nine was defeated by Roxbury Latin 5 to 1.

The Fessenden School

The Fessenden School Alumni Association meets at the School on Saturday, at 2.30. There will be three teams in the field, representing the Reds, Grays, and Faculty. Golf and tennis at any time. 6.30 Alumni Business Meeting. 6.45 Supper. Mr. Fessenden will have something to tell of great importance. Plans of the new building will be shown. 8.30 General discussion and talk fest. Those coming from a distance are invited to spend the night at the school.

MRS. STEVENSON

The following resolutions were adopted by the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union April 3, 1919, on the occasion of the death of Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, who passed away suddenly March 21.

Whereas, Katherine Lent Stevenson, our able and much beloved State President for twenty years, has been promoted to a higher service and

Whereas, we think of our promoted sister, as a leader of rare intellectual ability, and one whose intercessory prayers proved to us that she was in constant communion with her Heavenly Father, who guided and strengthened her in all her decisions, and

Whereas, our Newton Union, of which she was a member, felt her to be a leader, a co-worker, a comrade and a counsellor, one who loved her own Union and one whom we all dearly loved as a sister member, and

Whereas, we believe that our State and Nation has lost one of its most intelligent and consecrated workers in the cause of temperance and morals, and

Whereas, her own immediate family has been bereft of a loving companion, a counsellor and comforter,

Be it resolved, that the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union extend to her bereaved family through the representative appointed by the Union the tenderest love and sympathy in this hour of sorrow and disappointment, and the full assurance that our Heavenly Father in his everlasting goodness will comfort and strengthen them.

It was voted by the Union that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family, that they be spread upon the records of the Union and also that they be printed in the Newton Graphic.

SARAH E. K. MICK, President.

LODGES

Cryptic Council, R. & S. M., was honored Tuesday evening at Masonic headquarters in Newtonville by a visit from the Grand Master, the Most Illustrious Wallace C. Keith and suite. An interesting incident of the visit was the presentation to the Council by the Grand Master of the emblems of the order, used by Cryptic Council, when it was first organized and which had been surrendered to the Grand Council when its charter was suspended a generation or so ago.

Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F., will work the third degree next Thursday evening at I. O. O. F. hall, West Newton, in the presence of the Grand Officers of the order.

An energetic committee of which Mr. Thomas F. Murray is chairman, is arranging for a Mardi Gras festival for Gethsemane Commandery Knights Templar to be held on June 5th.

AGAIN AT TOP

Newton High continued its fine work in the Suburban League Wednesday afternoon when it defeated Cambridge Latin, 7 to 1, at Russell Field, North Cambridge. For four innings the game was well contested, with the teams tied with one run each. Newton went ahead in the first of the fifth, when it scored two runs on a rally, and it clinched the game in the eighth when four crossed the plate.

George Owen, the Newton High third baseman, came to bat in the eighth with the bases filled and drove one into center field that took a bad hop by Curley, going for a home run.

Capt. Fred Sawyer started on the mound for Newton and after the game was sewed up. Cowing replaced him. Herlihy pitched for Cambridge. Nine hits were made off him, but mostly timely. The home team made five errors behind Herlihy.

Newton High, because of its win over Cambridge, and Somerville's win over Everett High at Somerville, moves up to the top in the Suburban League standing. Newton High now has a record of seven wins and two losses.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

organizations operating in France, but such work as its resources permitted was, in my judgment, very well performed, and I am only too glad at this time to have an opportunity to express my appreciation of what the Salvation Army has done for us.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) Sinclair Weeks,

Captain, 101, F. A.

Dear Mr. Nichols: Beginning next Monday and continuing until May 26, the Salvation Army is going to make a drive for Home Service Fund—a campaign to raise $13,000,000 throughout the United States—$3,000,000 in New England.

This fund is needed to carry on and extend the Salvation Army's work of rescuing and helping the unfortunate men and women and children. Newton will I am sure do its share in appreciation of the wonderful work of the Salvation Army with our forces overseas during the war.

No series of anecdotes or history of the Yankee Division would be complete unless it included a chapter telling about the Salvation Army activities with the New England Troops at the front, but the same applies to every other combat division.

Observe that I say "at the front." I wish to place all possible emphasis on that point, because that was where the Salvation Army did the major share of its welfare work at the front and did it so well that every officer and enlisted man in the A. E. F. became a friend and a booster of the organization.

Sincerely yours,

Chas. H. Cole.

The following committee has been formed to handle the drive in this city and with the assistance of the Newton Constabulary and Newton lodge of Elks, a house to house canvass will be made next week.

Hon. Edwin O. Childs, honorary chairman; Henry J. Nichols, chairman; Gen. James G. White, vice-chairman; Oliver M. Fisher, vice-chairman; Oswald J. McCourt, vice-chairman; Horton S. Allen, treasurer; George M. Angier, Lieut. D. Webster Anders, Fred H. Baird, Peter C. Baker, Fred M. Blanchard, Joseph A. Bryant, Albert P. Carter, Creed W. Fulton, Benjamin S. Hincley, Robert G. Public Hearing on Soldier Memorial and a New City Hall

About 200 representative ladies and gentlemen attended the public hearing given last evening at City Hall by the committee appointed to consider the matter of a new City Hall and Soldiers' Memorial. President Harriman of the Board of Aldermen, presided, and Alderman George M. Angier and S. H. Whidden and Mr. Matt B. Jones of the Committee were present.

There was a well defined sentiment expressed during the meeting that the project of a Soldiers' Memorial and of the new City Hall, should be kept separate and that the City Hall should not be in the nature of a Memorial.

Mr. Everett E. Kent of the School Committee presented the views of a volunteer committee organized to favor the erection of a Memorial on Claffin Field, Newtonville, to take the form of a large gymnasium, available for auditorium purposes, and with rooms for the various welfare and soldiers' organizations in the city and with two swimming pools, one for each sex. A perspective of the proposed building was exhibited.

Mr. Kent said that this plan was not inconsistent with a new City Hall, but he suggested that possible changes in metropolitan government and changes possible in transportation methods should be considered in this connection. He urged a "Citizens' Hall" instead of a City Hall, saying we could more truly honor the soldiers and represent the ideals for which they fought. Such a building he said would be the "heart of the city," from which life and vigor would flow.

He also believed it should be the gift of all the people for the benefit of all the soldiers and should include something in the nature of a shrine, which would be unmistakably and impressively a memorial. Such a building, he said would teach the young the principles of leadership, of obedience, and the value of team work, none of which could be learned from books.

Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, favored separate buildings, although he said a new City Hall must come soon. The Memorial should be obtained at once while the spirit of the people was for it. He favored Claffin Field in order that the Memorial might be an inspiration for the growing youth.

Mrs. I. O. Palmer made an eloquent address, saying that the spirit and joy of service that the soldiers had learned in this war should be memorialized until it became the spirit of us all. She believed the proposed building would be a memorial of service as well as of beauty and said it had been unanimously endorsed by 709 clubwomen of the city.

Letters were read from Capt. Al-drich Taylor, Mrs. B. E. Taylor, Rev. Harold Marshall and Rev. J. Edgar Park, favoring this form of Memorial. Rev. Brewer Eddy said the older persons do not need such a building, but it is needed by the young people, and there was no better place than the center of our school life. Our army he said stood for clean living and this Memorial underscores the same ideal and we are doing for the whole country when we are doing for our children.

Capt. Henry D. Cormerais was received with applause and spoke of the impression the Melrose Memorial Hall had made on him. He said that while C. Company had 150 men, only one man in five who applied had been accepted and believed we should develop the young in order to be prepared for the future. He favored some place where the men might meet for organizations which would eventually take the place of the G. A. R.

Mr. John H. Gorton thought the proposed Memorial a practical way of serving the country as a whole.

Mr. William D. Nugent said this war was fought to preserve the spirit of democracy and there was no better way of inculcating democracy than to provide a place where every one in the city could touch elbows.

Mr. William F. Garcelon said that the Burr playground would be a source of gratification long after any granite shaft. He favored a new City Hall in West Newton, but not as a memorial, saying that the combination of High School gymnasium, a municipal gymnasium and community headquarters was needed in this city. He wanted every boy and girl taught to take care of themselves physically and be able to meet any emergency.

Mr. J. B. Studley, for the Newton Highlands associations, said the war was not yet over and public opinion not yet crystallized. There was no need for haste and when a Memorial was decided upon it should embody the ideals for which the war was fought. He expressed some doubt as

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Norumbega S. S. District to Hold a Musical Service Here

The Musical Festival of Church Hymns of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association, which is to be held in the churches of Newton on Sunday afternoon, May 25th, marks a definite step along certain new lines. In the first place, the emphasis has been laid upon memorializing for a life possession the great hymns of the church, with an effort to select those which are known even more than out the world wherever Christian hymns are sung. Making the selection on that basis, most of these hymns learned this year are among those which have stood the test of many generations.

In the second place, there has been no thought of taking an excessive amount of time to learn songs of an occasional nature to the exclusion of the ordinary music of the various Sunday Schools, but by planning months in advance, these hymns have taken their place in the regular worship of the various schools, so that they have become assimilated by many hundred scholars in the different schools.

The third point is this: So far as it is known, this is the first time that churches of every denomination in a given locality have agreed upon a definite group of hymns, and all have concentrated their efforts upon learning this group.

Not the least of the values of this plan is this unity of community action for a religious purpose in which the children will see that there are great church hymns common to all Christians and over-riding denominational or local, or even national lines. These are some of the things of greatest value. The Festival itself should be a notable occasion that will fix these ideals in the memory of all who attend.

The Juniors, Intermediates, Seniors and adults will assemble at the Eliot Church, Newton, the Primary departments at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton. The doors will be open to scholars and parents accompanying scholars, at 3.30 P. M., to the public at 4 P. M., and the program, which begins promptly at 4.05 will conclude at 5.20 P. M.

About 1500 are expected to attend the Festival.

DROWNED

Sergt. Ralph Giles Loses His Life at Lake Archer

A very distressing accident occurred on Lake Archer, Norfolk, last Friday afternoon, when Ralph Giles, son of Capt. Edwin T. Giles of 2043 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, was accidentally drowned. He was a sergeant in the Medical camp of the U. S. A., and had been on duty at Base Hospital, No. 34, at Norfolk, for past 10 months. Friday afternoon, about six o'clock, he went to the lake to take out his canoe. His friend, and the only person about at the time, was Sergeant Emmons, who was paddling up the lake about 300 feet away. Suddenly Sergeant Emmons heard a splash and on turning around saw an upturned canoe about 10 feet from the boat. Suspecting that Sergeant Giles was missing he immediately returned, searched for him, and started the alarm. Grappling hooks were secured, and after twenty minutes' work the body of Sergeant Giles was recovered. It is presumed that he slipped on the boat, struck his head, probably rendering him unconscious, and then was an easy victim to the water. Heroic and persistent attempts at resuscitation for two hours was unavailing.

Ralph Giles was for a time Sergeant in the Infantry at Syracuse, where often he had charge of a whole com-

BOY SCOUTS RALLY

Troop 1 of Newtonville Wins Highest Number of Points in District Meet at Claffin Field

The Boy Scouts of the Norumbega Council, comprising the towns of Newton, Needham and Wellesley, held a successful scout rally on Claffin field, Newtonville, last Saturday afternoon. The scouts turned out in large numbers, there being almost 400 present, and all the various contests were close and exciting. Two scout bands were present, one from Newton and one from Needham, and these two organizations furnished music for the marching, and also gave a demonstration which was extremely well done.

The rally started promptly at 3.00 P. M. with marching in review before the mayor of Newton and representative citizens from the towns of Needham and Wellesley, and other invited guests. After the review and an inspection of the troops by the reviewing party, the colors were presented to the Council, Scout Russell Noyes blowing "colors" on the bugle.

The great event of the day was then pulled off, the presentation by Mr. John H. Eddy, President of the Norumbega Council, of the Eagle Badge to Scout Russell Noyes of Troop 1, Newton. This is the highest award that a scout can win, and represents the winning of twenty-one Merit Badges for proficiency in various subjects, such as Camping, Signalling, Civics, Life Saving, First Aid, etc.

Scout Noyes received cheers from his fellow scouts and great applause from the audience.

The Field was then cleared for the various contests, which were in charge of Mr. G. W. Talbot, the Scout Executive, as Clerk of Course. The first on the program was the Antelope Race, which was won by Troop 2 of Needham after a close race with Troop 1, Newton.

In the next event, what is claimed as a world's record in fire lighting without matches by means of a bow and drill, was made. Faster time has been made indoors, but the scout officials around Greater Boston claim that the winner, Scout Knight of Troop 1, Newton, getting fire in 17 and 3-5 seconds, has established a new outdoor record.

Another contest in which good time was made was in the equipment race, won by Scout Warren G. Hill of Troop 1, Newton, a former winner at the Harvard Stadium Scout Rally. In the knot tying contest, a team from Troop

2 Wellesley showed lots of speed, easily beating out all their rivals. Although the rally was won by Troop 1 Newton with a large margin, they were made to fight every minute of the time, Troop 2 Needham pushing them closely in nearly every event. The barrel tilting was an example where the representatives of Needham and Troop 1 Newton battled for a long time until Scout Leonard of Troop 1 managed to get in a "deadly" punch which pushed his rival from his barrel.

Following are the results of the rally in points scored:

Antelope race—Troop 2 Needham, first; Troop 2 Wellesley, second.
Fire without matches—Troop 1 Newton, first; Troop 1 Newton, second.

Samaphore Signaling—Troop 1 Newton, first.

General Service Code Signal—Troop 1 Newton, first; Troop 2 Newton, second; Troop 2 Needham, third.

Leap Frog—Troop 2 Needham, first; Troop 1 Newton, second; Troop 8, Newton, third.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Monday morning Mr. Daboll, City Comptroller of Accounts, spoke to the boys of the Senior Class about the way in which the city's financial affairs are managed and gave an account of the comptroller's duties, which consist chiefly in seeing that the city is not overcharged in any way and that no department spends more than its allotment of money. It is the comptroller's right to withhold payment of any bill which he may think it improper for the city to pay, and Mr. Daboll gave a few instances of bills which had not been paid because they had been improperly contracted.

On Friday and Saturday evening, May 16 and 17, the annual senior play was given in the assembly hall. Every one agrees that the play itself which was written by R. E. Anderson, Jr., and R. K. Turner of the senior class measures up to the standard of other years and that the acting was very good. The action takes place on three different floors of a New York skyscraper. Raymond Richards (Raymond Ford) who is in reality a secret service man, starts lecturing his colored janitor, Agwinaldo Jefferson (William Blandy) on the evils of crap shooting. John Drayton (Harry Watson) who is a Bolshevik leader, disguised as a vacuum cleaner salesman, enters and tries to dispose of his product and at the same time spy upon Richards. He is unsuccessful. Edith Ladd (Emma Wilder) Richards' sweetheart, comes in and denounces him for not having taken an active part in the war. The second scene shows the Bolshevik headquarters. This scene is the best one of the play and demands some clever acting. As Heinrich Vogie (Phillip Wilder) is about to send out wireless messages that may throw the country into anarchy the place is raided by Richards and his men. Their leader escapes, however. The next scene is in Alfred Ladd's (Benjamin Lane) office. Foster, Ladd's janitor, who is none other than our old friend the vacuum cleaner man, again puts some knock-out drops in the water cooler. Edith Ladd takes a glass of water, Richards enters and exposes the Bolshevik leader, and Edith faints. It is thought that she has been poisoned, but by some mistake the water has not been effected, she soon revives when explanations are in order and she and Richards exchange very realistic denunciations. To celebrate the successful production of the play the cast will attend the theatre in a body on Friday night.

During intermission the posters which advertised the play were auctioned off for quite large sums. Very good music was furnished by the school orchestra. R. E. Anderson was production manager, F. B. Donovan, business manager, R. S. Hayes, assistant, and R. K. Turner and A. S. Freeman stage managers.
On Wednesday morning Prof. Roy Davis, Head of the Department of Business Administration at Boston University, spoke to the senior and junior classes about the opportunity in the business world for men and women with commercial or technical educations. He said that fifty years ago those who took commercial courses were looked down upon as unable to take a really good course. Now, after a long struggle people are beginning to realize that to succeed one must get an education that fits for something and not go to college merely to be better educated and more cultivated. Courses are offered at Boston University that will fit for definite positions and there is a large demand for men and women who take these courses.
The tennis team was in poor form Saturday and succeeded only in getting as far as the first match in the Harvard Interscholastic Tournament. It has been decided to cancel the dance which the boys' debating club was to have held in the gym this afternoon.

At a meeting of the senior class on Tuesday it was voted to use the proceeds from the senior play which amounted to six hundred and ten dollars for the erection of bronze memorials in honor of the boys who have died in service. It was also voted to give the Newtonian $120 to make up a deficit caused by the extra expense of the dedication pictures.

ANNUAL MAY PARTY

The May party held Saturday by the Unitarian Church of West Newton in its Sunday School room was most successful. In the Maypole dance were Kenneth Dowd, Mary Rich, Frederick Kershaw, Virginia Hatch, Virginia Blunt, Clifton Wetherby, Alvira Ogden, Richard Harrington, Eleanor Bingham, Robert Harrington, Alfreda Rich, Harry Ford, Margaret Blunt, Allen Carpenter, Margaret Hatch, and William Campbell. The May Queen was Barbara Webster, and the May King, Roger Bachrach. Two aesthetic dances were given by the Misses Carr, Miss Marion Bassett of the Kindergarten Department gave a series of tableaux with the children dressed in historic costumes beginning with George Washington's time and including the present time which was most effective. Between 200 and 300 people were present, and enough money was raised to adopt one orphan and possibly two.

On the committee were Mr. Carl Wetherell, Mrs. Grace Felton Rice, Miss Marion Bassett, and Miss Mary Sprague.
BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—When the Messrs. Shubert decided to make the Boston Opera House, of which they are the proprietors, into a home in this city for the Winter Garden productions, they played their trump card by immediately sending over Mr. Al Jolson in "Sinbad" as the initial attraction. That their judgment was absolutely correct has been proven by the enormous success which this attraction has enjoyed at the Boston Opera House during the past five weeks. Mr. Jolson has earned a field for himself on the American stage. He will sing a commonplace song in a manner which convulses the audience with laughter, and then he will interpolate a line or two most amazingly and appropriately. The scenery and costumes for "Sinbad" are the most gorgeous which have ever been seen in Boston.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Miss Marian Keep, Editor

A visit to the market may help in planning the day's menu. Fresh vegetables seem to be coming in freely from the south and why not add variety to our dinner, by selecting some of these vegetables as luxuries, but foods which help to regulate the body, and keep up strength, surely can not be looked upon too lightly. But if the idea of luxury still clings, at least try and plan one meal each week in which you have one of the fresh vegetables, call it luxury if you will, but better still—a necessity.

Now the prices are lower for asparagus, cucumbers, spinach, parsley, green peppers, beet greens, dandelions and mushrooms; try and select one of these vegetables to serve at your dinner.

The Special Aid was able to answer an urgent call this week for 4 graphophones, records, and knitted articles, for one of the ships going to Archangel.

A few telephone calls brought over 30 records and contributions for graphophones, besides books and magazines, and from the storeroom a number of long sleeved sweaters, gloves and socks. The basket is now absolutely empty with the exception of a few socks. Members are earnestly asked to continue knitting so that when the next call comes it may be answered quickly.

Another call comes also from devastated France for sewing and knitting.

"SAY IT WITH FLOWERS"

Memorial Day

It is customary on this day to decorate with Flowers the graves of the departed.

The sentiment of the day is without limit—the memories of those who rendered patriotic service and of the many cherished mainly in the family circle are alike honored on Memorial Day.

Remember at this time the families whose soldier graves it is not possible to decorate—a few Flowers sent to them will speak volumes and accord with the spirit of the day.

I am well able to supply your Floral requirements.

They are treated under a special process by which they are rendered moisture proof without in any manner changing their appearance. They will retain their shape and freshness long after the ordinary straw has passed into the discard.

WELCOME HOME

Plans for a thoroughly enjoyable welcome home to the soldiers, sailors and marines who have been in the service of Uncle Sam, are rapidly maturing and promise a most interesting program on Saturday, June 7th.

While it is difficult to learn the exact numbers of those who are to be the guests of the city on that day, City Clerk Grant has already received about 800 acceptances and fully 1200 are expected to be present.

Capt. Henry W. Crowell, of the State Guard, is in charge of the automobiles to be used in the parade that afternoon and sends out a S. O. S. to every automobile owner in the city to help furnish the 400 cars needed to carry out the plans for the automobile parade. The automobiles will only be required for about three or four hours and there ought to be an immediate response to Capt. Crowell's appeal.

The Waltham Watch Factory band has been engaged to furnish music at Norumbega Park, where the parade will end about three o'clock and they will play until eight o'clock. The Newton Constabulary band and the Colonial Singing orchestra will furnish continuous music for the ball to be held at the State Armory between eight o'clock and midnight. A splendid and substantial menu has been selected by the committee in charge of the dinner to be given at Norumbega Park at six o'clock and the women's clubs of the city have volunteered to furnish the waitresses for that occasion.

All of the boys who accept the invitation of the city will be given a neat enamelled identification badge and which will entitle the holder to all of the events of the day.

Gen. James G. White, who is in charge of the ball at the Armory expects fully 2000 guests and has arranged to serve the refreshments in a tent to be erected alongside the armory and connected to it with a covered passageway.

Persons who have been in the service and who have not received a notice from City Clerk Grant are invited to communicate with him at once.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR TUFTS MEN

May 25, 1919

A memorial service for Tufts men who died in war service during the world war will be held by The Tufts Club of Boston in Goddard Chapel, Tufts College, Sunday afternoon, May 25, 1919 at 4 o'clock.

The orator will be R. Perry Bush, D. D.

Herman C. Bumpus, President of Tufts College will give an address. The Glee Club will sing.

All sons, daughters, friends of Tufts and the general public are invited to attend this service.

Tufts men who are or have been in war service and who have the right are requested to wear the uniform.

—The last social of the young people's Sunday evening club of the Central Church will be held Saturday night. There will be an evening of games and dancing. The Sunday School orchestra will furnish the music. All young people and their friends are cordially invited.

—Mrs. William H. Rogers of Page street won three prizes at the whist congress held at Atlantic City May 12-17. She won the 2d prize in the Cavendish trophy, a beautiful clock for the highest aggregate in the two pair team tourney, and a beautiful center piece for the highest number of the second best scores.

—Mr. Arthur G. Bosson, a well known former resident of this place, died on May 16 at Los Angeles, Cal., where he had gone in a last effort to regain his health. —The members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church gave "The Elopement of Ellen" Tuesday at the Church. The play is a bright farce in three acts in which the plot turns upon the adventures of June Haverhill, Wellesley, 20, who is doing some special investigation for economic courses during the summer, and poses as Ellen, the hired girl. The character of Ellen was taken by Miss Esther Smith. The other characters were Richard Ford, a devoted young husband, William Rich, Molly, his wife, Marion Duff, Robert Shepard, Molly's brother, Newton Hyslop, Max Ten Eyck, Robert's chum, Clifford Rust, Dorothy March, a guest of Mr. Ford's, Marjorie Soden, and John Hume, Rector of St. Agnes', William J. Cozens, Jr. The Coach was Ralph H. Somers and the Business Manager, D. E. Pilman.

DEATH OF MR. GOULD

Mr. John Allen Gould, one of the best known residents of Newton Upper Falls, died at the Newton Hospital Sunday, May 18th, at 9 o'clock A. M., after a most serious operation, which was performed the previous Thursday. Everything was done to save the life, so useful and valuable in his home and this community.

Mr. Gould was born in Newton Upper Falls and was educated in the Newton Schools. His work in Boston City Hall for some years was faithfully performed and prepared him for usefulness in much broader positions of prominence. His life has been marked by his earnest sincerity of purpose, his faithfulness to duty, his great interest in all the affairs of the village, and his generous response to the various calls for advice and aid. So many of the sterling qualities of character remembered of his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Gould, were repeated in the son.

On September 10, 1884 he was married to Frances T. Sabin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sabin of Gardner, Mass. For more than two years after his marriage he made his home at the Gould Homestead, but after the birth of his son, Gardner Sabin, his purchase of the present home was made, and it has ever been the happy abiding place of a large family and a still larger circle of friends and acquaintances.

Only one short year ago Prescott Wilder, the fourth son, died in France in the service of his country. There are remaining to carry on the labors no nobly begun, the faithful and loving wife, four sons and one daughter, Margaret Sylvester, and five little grandchildren.

Two brothers, William H. of Waban, and Melvin W. of Boston, still survive. Mr. Gould lived to see the return of two of his brave sons, Lieut. Richard Hartshorn and Howard Paine Gould, who entered the service, but Capt. Allen Adams Gould still remains in France, and the home circle and his many friends are longing for a speedy return.

The fourth son, Mr. Gardner Gould, resides in Needham.

He was a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, New England Association of Gas Engineers, the Guild of Gas Managers of New England Boston Engineers' Association, a director in the Merchants' Co-operative Bank of Boston, and the Newton South Co-operative Bank of Newton.

The service at the home on Boylston street, for those nearest and dearest, was followed by a service at the M. E. Church at 2.30 on Tuesday afternoon, at which a large company of relatives, friends and business associates assembled to pay respect to the departed. Rev. Frederick Palladino had charge of the service, speaking words of strength and hope, and the service closed when the congregation arose and sang with courageous voices, "How Firm a Foundation." The organist of the church, Miss H. E. Sturtevant, presided at the organ and played most helpful selections as the people assembled and retired from the church.

The pall bearers were three sons, Gardner, Richard and Howard Gould, and three nephews, Amasa Gould, Melvin Gould and Frederick Sabin. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

The devotion of relatives and friends was shown in the innumerable floral tributes which were banked about the casket. Interment was made in the family lot in Newton Cemetery.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

Mr. Albert E. G. Andrews, a brakeman on the B. & A. R. R., was struck and instantly killed about 9.30 o'clock last Friday nearly in front of the Newtonville station. Andrews was at work flagging for a construction train, and just after the west bound express had passed, stepped on the east bound track on which a fast train was approaching thru the smoke and steam beneath the Walnut street bridge. The engineer of the east bound train was unable to see him and death was almost instantaneous. Mr. Andrews was 34 years of age and resided at Allston. He had just returned from service with a Canadian regiment in France.

THE NORSE CAMP

Down on the shores of Lake Manomet in Bourne, Mass., Mr. E. J.
Ovington of Auburndale has an excellent camp for boys who desire real camp life without many of the frills, such as dancing pavilions or croquet grounds. The boys have real camp life, sleeping on camp cots in waterproof tents and take their meals in pleasant weather in the open air.
Mr. Ovington, who is deeply interested in the Boy Scout movement, takes especial pains in instruction in Scout work. Excellent food is obtained from nearby farms and the camp cook is an expert in that line.
The number of boys taken at the camp is limited to twelve, so that each boy receives that personal attention which is so desirable and which is not possible in the larger camps.

many when all available officers were being shipped overseas. Here his training and experience in drill work gained when he was attached to the State Fencibles of Philadelphia proved to be of great value. Later he was transferred to the Medical and was attached to Base Hospital No. 34.
Here he took special interest in the course of reconstruction and became instructor. Here he also had a studio and did much sculptor work. His interest in his chosen profession as sculptor amounted to a passion. He was planning after his discharge from the army to pursue his studies abroad.
His sudden taking off was especially distressing to his mother, because of the absence from home of all her family. The father, Capt. E. J. Giles, was away in the Balkans. Dr. W. B. Giles, brother, was Surgeon on U. S. S. Comfort, and another brother, B. W. Giles, is with the Army of Occupation. Fortunately, Dr. Giles was reached in time to get to the funeral. Mrs. Giles' brother, Dr. G. W. Ridout, had recently returned from France and was with her in her sorrow.
Ralph Giles was 23 years of age and a young man of exemplary habits of life and held high purposes and ideals.
He was a member of the Congregational Church and was a Sunday School teacher.

The funeral services were held in the Congregational Church and were in charge of Dr. Drew, the pastor, assisted by Dr. Butters of the M. E.
Church. The pall bearers were Sergeants from the Hospital. Quite a number of his comrades, and nurses attended the funeral.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Newton are to hold a rally and demonstration of Scout work on Saturday, May 24, at Cabot Park, Newtonville. The Scouts will be reviewed by members of the Council, Merit Badges and War Service Badges will be given out and there will be an unusually interesting program of competition events between the troops. Troop 1, Newtonville, won the Newton Banner at the Rally held last Autumn in Newton Centre. This Troop will try hard to retain the banner and the other Troops will try as hard to win it. One of the features will be a fire building contest. Fires to be built using no paper and not more than two matches. The Troops will also compete in drilling, signaling, knot tying and relay races. The rally is to start at 2.30 o'clock and will last until 5 P. M. If it rains the Rally will be held in the Newton High School Gymnasium at the same time.
As there are no seats no tickets have been issued, but those interested in the work are cordially invited to come and look on.

FAVOR SEPARATE BUILDINGS

to including gymnasium features in any memorial and suggested that present methods of physical training might change in the next 25 years. A Community building would meet with more favor, he thought, and in any event the City Hall should be a separate building.
Mr. James Kingman said the Newton Planning Board believes there should be no haste in reaching a decision as there may be something better offered. They have an expert now studying the city with a view of recommending the best locations for such a Memorial and expressed some doubt as to Claffin Field being the most available site.

Mr. A. E. Alvord, also of the Planning Board, wanted expert opinion before expressing any recommendation.

Mr. Garcelon suggested that there was no limit on the number of buildings and the Memorial might take the form of a group of buildings, but he thought there should be a gym at the High School any way.

Hon. George Hutchinson said he had been waiting ten years for this opportunity to favor a New City Hall, the location of which he believed should be as central as possible. The present building was inadequate, not a credit to the city and he urged the committee to take action at once.

Mr. Harriman informed the audience that the committee had received suggestions for the present site at West Newton, for one corner of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue and for a site at Newtonville.

—Alderman Sumner Clement suggested that the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street was almost the geographical centre of the city.

—Mr. H. W. Orr favored a new city hall and believed that the present was a most appropriate time to do the work, by employing labor now idle.

He said nothing gained by waiting.
Mr. Harriman suggested that a new City Hall would cost a half million and would add at least 70 cents to the tax rate. There were never so many demands on the city as today and he hoped that any Memorial would be built by popular subscription.

—Mr. Henry Whitmore hoped the City Hall would not be located on Claffin Field, saying that it would be contrary to the wish of the men, now dead, who had given this property to the city. All this land, he believed would be needed for educational and recreational purposes, altho he thought a Memorial building could be properly located there.

Dr. Guy M. Winslow suggested that the city was being heavily taxed and while he believed it would be good judgment to select a site for a new city hall and prepare plans he would then wait a more favorable time for actual construction. He also thought we should consider the ultimate growth of the city. He favored early action on a Memorial, saying it ought not to be left very much after the close of the war.

Mr. Allston Burr wanted haste made slowly, and referred to the fact that the Hemenway gymnasium at Harvard, when built was the last word in that kind of construction, while knowing it was ready for the scrapheap.
He said the proposed Memorial was a splendid scheme but thought something better might be made later, something more fitting and something more lasting.

Representative Leland Powers called attention to the fact that in view of increasing state expenses in the future and the probable loss of income, due to change in distribution of the income tax, Newton stood to lose $2,000,000 in the next ten years and that if Newton was to incur the expense of a New City Hall, the present time would be as favorable as any.

Capt. Cormerais wanted a Memorial for the men to enjoy now and not wait while the enthusiasm wanes.
Alderman Arthur Kendrick said we could not wait for perfection in plans for a Memorial and we ought to have both a New City Hall and a Memorial when we want it. He suggested that as the City Hall was a mere office building its site was of small importance.

Mr. Hutchinson said the state of the public mind ought to be considered

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Mount Holyoke College,
South Hadley, May 19.

If only you could see this place as I saw it the night of my arrival last week, every club woman in Newton would have immediately made up her mind to come to the annual meeting of the Federation the first week of June. It was just at sunset and the slanting rays sent a soft light over the campus, which was dotted with girls in summer clothing sauntering about, not rushing as they do in the day time when skipping from class to class, but strolling about just to enjoy to the full one of the few perfect evenings this spring has brought. The birds were singing their evening songs, the apple trees full laden with blossoms just at the point of perfection shed their fragrance upon the air. Then the full moon came out and completed the glory of the evening.

Preparations are going on satisfactorily for the annual meeting of the Federation and much interest on the part of the college is being shown in the coming of the delegates. Already more than one hundred have been assigned accommodations in the village and the hotel in Holyoke is also well filled, so everything points to a large attendance. Those coming by the special train will reach South Hadley about half-after-four, which will allow time for getting comfortably settled before dinner with time to look about the campus before the opening of the first session at eight o'clock that evening. The program for that session is arranged by the College and will include a greeting from President Woolley and the response by Mrs. Gurney, music arranged by the department of music and an address by Miss Woolley on "The College Woman in the Community."

Wednesday morning the convention proper opens and the two sessions of the day will be given up to reports of officers and department chairmen. Luncheon will be served between the two sessions. At the close of the one in the afternoon students and members of the staff will escort delegates over the campus and after dinner it is hoped there may be a campus sing. In the evening the Federation is in charge of the program, which will be followed by a reception for all attending.

The closing session comes on Thursday morning when Mrs. Gurney will give her final address and the newly elected officers will be presented.

This being the year when there is to be a change in the administration much interest will be centered in the election, which takes place on Wednesday, although the result cannot be announced until the next morning.

It is certain the delegates will appreciate to the full the beauty and the convenience of Student Alumnae Hall for such a convention as the Federation annual meeting. The student organizations are loaning the use of their offices for the credentials and elections committees, while the Eighty-Six Parlor will be at the disposal of the Executive Board for meetings and a general headquarters. A large reception room on second floor known as the New York Room will be for the use of the delegates in general as a get-together place.

The large banquet hall in the basement will be used for the luncheon and for the reception. Clear air and sunny skies are all that are needed to make it the best convention yet. Rain or shine the welcome of the College will be cordiality itself. Better plan to come.

On to Asheville

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, Mrs. Myra B. Lord, and the Club Editor are among the Newton women going to Asheville for the Council Meeting of the General Federation. The party leaves South Station at 9 A. M. on Sunday, May 25. The Massachusetts delegation will be accompanied by delegates from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island.

The meeting opens Tuesday night in Asheville and continues through Friday. Various excursions and social functions are arranged for the afternoon with program meetings in the evening. General subjects to be discussed include: "The Future Policies of the General Federation," "Problems of State Federations," "Mobilizing the Departments of Work for an Americanization Program."

Saturday will be the "play day," when a trip to Mt. Mitchell is planned.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation held the first regular meeting for the season of 1919-1920 on Monday morning in the New Church Parlor, Newtonville, Mrs. Lane, the newly elected president, called the meeting to order at 10.15. A number of reports, notices, and appeals of varying nature were read, showing that the Federation keeps an open door for all worthy causes that may properly claim its attention. Chairmen of standing committees were announced as follows: Education, Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds; Social, Mrs. T. H. Piser; Civics and Social Service, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer; Legislative, Mrs. B. E. Taylor; Press, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow. Mrs. Lane was appointed Chairman of Program, and called for suggestions from members regarding the fall and winter meetings.

"Mary" was present with her complete outfit, and aroused much interest. "Mary" is a pioneer in her own field, being the first fully equipped life-size doll to introduce Girls Health League work officially in city playgrounds. With "Mary's" aid, a trained nurse will teach the older sisters to bathe, dress and feed a baby in the best way known to modern science.

It was announced that books suitable for small children are much desired by a school for colored children which is doing fine work on St. Helena Island. Mrs. Starkweather, 17 Gibson road, will pack and send books which may be left with her.

Dr. Anna C. Wellington who has served eight months in Paris, spoke vividly of the work which has been done by American women physicians in France. Eight of their number have been decorated by the French Government. Their work is now fully organized, and is to be extended to Serbia, where the conditions are worse than at any time in Belgium. Special attention will be given to cleaning up typhus and typhoid. It is their desire that the work shall be financed largely by women. Contributions may be sent to American Women's Hospitals, care of The Old Colony Trust Company.

Several constructive measures possible for the Federation were discussed, especially the establishment of a girls' scholarship fund for Newton, and at the close of the meeting one felt the year's work to be well begun.

AUBURNDALE STUDY CLUB

The annual meeting of the Auburndale Study Club was held on Thursday, May 15th at the Missionary Home. The reports of the secretary and different committees were read and accepted and the following officers elected for the coming year:

President, Mr. J. Emery Clapp; vice-president, Mrs. A. E. Binford; secretary, Miss Ruth Perkins; treasurer, Mrs. Flora L. Weeks; committee chairmen: social, Mrs. J. Emery Clapp; program, Mrs. Harry Ross; membership, Mrs. A. E. Binford; auditing, Dr. E. U. Ufford.

The social program consisted of an instrumental selection by Miss Adrienne Smith followed by vocal pieces sung by several of the young men and accompanied by piano and traps.

The club had the pleasure of hearing two Y. M. C. A. secretaries speak each of whom has done splendid work on the other side. Mr. Harry Webb Farington, a graduate of Boston School of Theology, was made a French Cuirassier for the good work he did among the Pollus. Dr. George W. Ridout had a pastorate in this country before he offered himself for the Y. M. C. A. work at the front. He served in many dangerous places and was nearly captured by the Germans once. Both speakers laid emphasis upon the immense and important work done by the Y. M. C. A. during the war for the soldiers. They claimed that also specific instances may be found where secretaries have not refrained from sight seeing and souvenir hunting in excess, yet it is only the few who have caused charges to be laid at the door of the Y. M. C. A.

The evening closed with refreshments, social hour and music.

THE BIRD CLUB

On Tuesday, the Newton Highlands Bird Class took their first all-day walk, going to Silver Hill. They returned with a list of fifty varieties, among them the Purple Martin. Bobolinks were abundant and several pair of Great Crested Flycatchers were seen. Other new birds were the Indigo Bunting, Scarlet Tanager, both varieties of Cuckoos, Ruffed Grouse and three Vireos, the solitary, the red-eyed and the warbling. Next Tuesday the Class go to Plum Island leaving Boston for the 10.04 train from the North Station. The boys' class went to the old Indian stockade near Bear Hill last week. This week their walk will be postponed.

A NEW FIRM

Henry M. Chamberlain, formerly of West Newton, Arthur P. Chamberlain of Auburn and Frank F. Jonsberg of Newton Centre have formed a corporation under Massachusetts laws under the style of Chamberlain & Davis, Inc. They succeeded to the firm of Chamberlain & Davis, investments, which started in 1914 by Henry M. Chamberlain and Philip W. Davis. Mr. Davis, who hailed from West Newton, was killed last June while in service in France with the American Aviation Corps. The new corporation will specialize in high grade bonds and preferred stock.

HIAWATHA ENTERTAINMENT

An Indian evening was given at the Central church, Newtonville, Tuesday evening by members of the Central Guild. The entertainment was given in pantomime, depicting "Hiawatha's Wooing," "The Wedding Feast," "Ghosts," and "Hiawatha's Departure." The poem was admirably read by Miss Helen Carter. At appropriate places Indian songs and dances were introduced. The songs were acceptably rendered by Mrs. Lewis Moore, Miss Theresa Cram, and Mrs. L. Roberts.

Miss Eleanor Leete, as Minnehaha, Miss Gertrude Speare as the Arrow Maker and Nakomis, and Mrs. Lewis E. Moore as Hiawatha deserve special mention for their work. Others in the cast were the Guild members.

The production was under the direction of the Misses Mae and Mina Cotton who have previously given it elsewhere. Miss Wetherby was coach. Martha Willson, Virginia Talpey, Campbell Delsderiner and Samuel Moore as Indian children added to the picturesque of the scene, while little Edith Anderson as Pau-Puk-Kewis made a quaint and pleasing figure as she danced the beggar's dance at the Wedding Feast.

The lighting effects were produced by Messrs. Raymond and Henry Brewer. Scenic effects were most realistic. Miss Elizabeth Judkins rendered Indian selections on the violin, and Claire Leonard played between the acts. The Misses Cotton were the accompanists.

NEWTON CHURCHES REACH QUOTA

In the great Missionary Centenary campaign of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the financial feature of which is the raising this week of $105,000,000 for world reconstruction, the Newton Group of Methodist churches was the first group in Boston district to go over the top. Several of the churches raised more for the vast Centenary fund than was apportioned to them.

The Newton Upper Falls Church was the second church in Boston district to reach its quota of $10,550 for the 5 year period. Newton Centre Church oversubscribed its quota, subscribing $50,000 instead of the $38,405 it was apportioned. Oak Square Church, Brighton, as well as Newton and Newtonville churches have gone over the top.

The five year quota for the group of nine churches was $142,670 and an aggregate of $164,710 has been subscribed thus far.

NORUMBEGA PARK OPENS

Next Saturday at 10 A. M. Norumbega Park will begin its twenty-second season which gives promise of surpassing in every respect any preceding year. The management are sparing no expense to make this the most popular resort in New England. Catering at all times to ladies and children, the opening day will be children's day when all school children will be admitted to the park and theatre free until 6 P. M.

The Liberty Players, retaining much of its former personnel, will again present all the best available plays. The first offering, which will continue throughout the following week, with daily matinees, will be Klaw & Erlanger's big comedy success, "Here Comes The Bride."

A STUDY IN CAUSATION

Christian Science Lecture at Players' Hall by Miss Mary G. Ewing, C. S. B.

In Players' Hall, West Newton, under auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, Monday evening, May 19th, a large audience greeted the speaker, who was introduced by Mr. Harry I. Hunt, First Reader of the local Church as follows:

One of Webster's definitions of the word "discovery" is "revelation," that is, the making known of something heretofore hidden but which has always been true. With this definition in mind, and glancing over the pages of history, we find three discoveries of truth which mean more to the human race than all the discoveries that have ever been made in the realm of natural science, so-called.

The first of these discoveries or revelations was announced in that wonderful utterance of Jesus of Nazareth to the Samaritan woman at the well of Sychar: "God is a spirit," or, as it is rendered in the original Greek text, "God is spirit."

The second was announced some years later by one of the faithful students of the great Teacher, John in his first letter to the churches, "God is love."

The third discovery, which makes clear and renders available the two discoveries named, was made little more than a half-century ago by Mary Baker Eddy, when she wrote: "God is Mind, and God is infinite; hence all is mind (Science and Health, page 492:25). This final discovery which bases the very science of being, reveals the God of the Bible, the God Who is spirit, the God Who is love, as the intelligence which creates and governs all. Christian Science explains how to avail oneself of these great truths in the overcoming of sin and disease, and to become the messenger of life and health and peace to all who suffer from the woes of existence. In order that this message may reach the world in its beauty and purity, the Christian Science Board of Lectureship has been instituted by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, as one of the agencies for delivering the message. It is my privilege and pleasure to introduce to you the speaker of the evening, a member of this Board of Lectureship, Miss Mary G. Ewing, C. S. B. of Chicago, who will now address you.

Miss Ewing said:—

In my preparation for this lecture I have been wonderfully comforted and encouraged by some verses in the opening chapter of the book of Jeremiah. You may remember that there came to Jeremiah, through the word of the Lord, a clear, distinct revelation of his true origin and parentage, and of his own sanctification and dedication to the work of a prophet. And yet, as he perceived that this imposed upon him the preaching of the truth as to the spiritual origin and nature of man to a people blinded by materialism, he shrunk from the task with a sense of his own weakness. In writing his simple record he makes a vivid picture of the conflict going on in his thought. He may have been young in years, but I have no sense that it was of this alone that he was thinking when he cried, "Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child." And then the Lord answered him: "Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak. Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee." (Jeremiah 1:6-8). And Jeremiah goes on to tell us that then the Lord put forth his hand and touched his mouth, and that the Lord said unto him, "Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth" (Jeremiah 1:9).

And now, knowing that to me has been given the same message, at least in essence, and realizing the urgent need of humanity today to be told the truth about life itself, I, in my turn, must trust God to put into my mouth His words which will touch your hearts and lead you to listen with unprejudiced thought to what I have to say to you; for truly, I come to you tonight with no "enticing words of man's wisdom" but with a message of healing born of deepest and tenderest experience. To bring to any of you who may feel that he is suffering from sorrow, disease, poverty, or sin, some measure of the knowledge of good which he can begin to use practically at this very moment, to loose him from the burden of suffering—this is my privilege, my hope, my confidence. There is healing—tender, compassionate healing—in the first right idea we gain of the true nature of good, and it is possible for you and for me to gain that right idea here and now.

I, myself, am a Christian Scientist to-day because many years ago, in a time of sorrow and fear, when my own dear father had been given up by physicians to die, he was quickly restored to health by Christian Science treatment. At the time of this miracle, this marvel, happened to us we had never heard the words "Christian" and "Science" coupled; indeed, we had more or less the world's sense that in some mysterious and fundamental way Christianity and science were opposite and irreconcilable. At the time of this healing we began to study the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, and for all these years that book—the inspired revelation to this age of the true Science of Life—has been our comforting, enlightening, and healing teacher and friend. It began at once to give us a new and true basis of thought; to educate us out of our petty, limited, and selfish sense of life; to free us from fear of sickness and accident, poverty and misfortune; it emptied our well-filled medicine chest of all our drugs and tonics and plasters; it began to make us happier and healthier and more active and useful; it healed our sickness; in fine, it worked a revolution in our daily living, and the truth that we were learning spread from us to others and began to work the same miracle in other lives. During all the years that have elapsed since then, Christian Science has been our only physician, and the Christian Science textbook has been our daily guide and counsellor. And I rejoice to be able truthfully to declare to you, as one proof of the inspired character of Science and Health, that this great work of Mary Baker Eddy is to me to-day, after these many years of reading and study, more profoundly interesting and helpful than ever before, and that it constantly reveals new beauties and new treasures of meaning.

When the lawyer from among the group of Pharisees and Sadducees, harking back to the materialistic and mistaken sense of Judaism, asked Jesus (Matt. 22:36-40), "Master, which is the great commandment in the law?" our Master replied, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." This is a profound and entirely metaphysical teaching; a setting forth in concise and direct fashion of the fact underlying all manifestation of life; a presentation of the truth about God and man, the absolutely necessary fundamental knowledge upon which, as Jesus says so tersely, hang all the law and the prophets.

I accept wholeheartedly the definition of God which Mrs. Eddy gives in Science and Health (p. 465) in the chapter "Recapitulation." I also accept unreservedly her statement on the same page that these seven terms which she uses to define God—"Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love," are synonymous; that is, that they so literally and absolutely mean the same thing that they are to be used the one in the place of the other. In order to have any adequate comprehension of this, you must remember that Mrs. Eddy does not use these words in the ordinarily accepted, superficial sense, but that their basic meaning has been ascertained and understood and is here presented. As one begins to use these terms interchangeably, it gradually dawns upon his thought that each of them conveys to him, in some degree, the meaning associated with the others, and yet that all are necessary to gain a broad and vital knowledge of the creative power—a complete understanding of the profound significance of the word "God." When the individual accepts this definition of God as a basis of thought (and this is the real key to the Scriptures which Mrs. Eddy has fitted to the willing hand), then there follows logically and inevitably a correct idea of the universe, including man, as the creation of God—a universe and a man expressing the power and might, the beauty and grandeur, of an infinite intelligence which is good.

The great French lexicographer, Larousse, defines metaphysics as "knowledge of first causes and of first principles" (connaissance des causes premières et des premiers principes), and in this sense Christian Science is exact, accurate, demonstrable metaphysics. Mrs. Eddy gave its keynote when she wrote, "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered" (Science and Health, p. 170). Christian Science is the supreme answer to the uttered and unuttered questioning of all time which questioning Pilate voiced when he cried, "What is truth?" Mrs. Eddy's knowledge of the Bible and Principle directly from the Bible, and when, through reason and revelation corroborated by exact and scientific demonstration or proof, she had established her discovery of the system which she called Christian Science, she wrote her great textbook. It may be said of her, as Zacharias said of his son John: "Thou shalt go before the face of the Lord: for to make ready his ways for him, to show science and helthe to his people" (Luc. 1:76-77 Wycliffe). I am quoting this from the Wycliffe translation, that first English version which, as one writer says, we owe "to a faith that the Bible is a book of emancipation for the mind" (McAfee—The Greatest English Classic, p. 12).

Mrs. Eddy named her book through inspiration. It is an interesting fact that she was not familiar with this phrase "science and helthe" in the quaint and exact English of Wycliffe, and did not become acquainted with it until some six months after she had made her choice of title. Comparing this translation, "to show science and helthe to his people" with the corresponding expression in our King James Version, "to give knowledge of salvation unto his people," we become conscious of the intimate relationship in meaning between "health" and "salvation."

The Bible is not one book but many books—veritably a collection of the masterpieces of a mighty literature; the outpouring of the heart and soul of a great people who, in spite of their lack of perception and through all their wanderings in the maze of mortality and material belief, still clung more closely than any other people to the idea of one God, one universal, ever present and ever potent Mind. Moses, their great leader, saw this so clearly that he tabulated the law and furnished the foundation for all modern law, and he caught beautiful though fleeting views of a more spiritual sense of Life and Love. Centuries later in fulfillment of prophecy and revelation came Jesus, that marvelous genius whose understanding and demonstration of the truth of being, as no one else has yet done—Jesus, the loving Way-shower to humanity, to you and to me—who, by the meekness and might of his transcendent life, earned and won the unique distinction of the title Jesus, the Christ, "Jesus the God-crowned or the divinely royal man," as Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 313).

Now the Bible is valuable to us only in proportion to our recognition of the right idea of God. The Bible was written through inspiration, reflection of intelligence; it can only be understood through inspiration, that same reflection of intelligence. The Bible is not only a history of ages of human experience, of a people, but it is a record and prophecy of the experience of each individual human consciousness in its putting off of the old man and its putting on of "the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness" (Ephesians 4:24). It is, indeed, in this aspect that it is most valuable to you and to me.

The merely mortal and material concept of the Bible can do nothing to uplift and heal mankind; but even a glimpse of the spiritual meaning of a single passage, such as the First Commandment, can and does illumine human experience with celestial light and begins at once to destroy the darkness of sin and sickness. If it were possible to have every copy of the Bible wiped out of existence, there would still eventually be rewritten the substance of its message, for it is the outcome of experience, the epitome of the human struggle to find and follow Truth; it is the record of the demonstration of Love. Christian Science destroys cant and superstition and establishes the divine inspiration of Holy Writ through absolute demonstration of its truth.

I am shocked sometimes to realize how careless we still are of this priceless treasure. Do we, who know we love the Bible, read it with even the same attention and interest that we would give to a modern history? Take, for instance, the book of Deuteronomy, the orations and songs of Moses, his farewell to his people Israel; sit down quietly and read it from cover to cover or one sitting and then seek the opportunity to reread it before the first fine impress of its wonder and vigor is dulled. Holding in thought constantly, as you should now be doing, this fundamental right idea of good as the only source or origin of life and action, you cannot fail to be inspired to the point of understanding the treasures of spiritual counsel and comfort which Moses shared with the children of Israel then and which we, as children of Israel (as the offspring of Spirit) share to-day.

To-day, as in all the ages of history, the cry of men is for life, for love, for health, for freedom from the bondage to evil for the coming of that day, which St. John so wonderfully describes, when "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying" (Rev. 21:4). It is the sweet and simple demonstrable knowledge of God which brings to human consciousness the dawning light of this great day. Since we have had revealed to us some measure of this knowledge, can you wonder that we long to share with the world the treasure that has brought peace and joy into our own lives?

The fundamental truth of Christian Science is the fact about causation, that good, Mind, Spirit, is the only active, operative intelligence, or creative energy. From this it follows logically and inevitably that the universe, the intelligence, the product of this intelligence, is spiritual. Once accept this basic teaching and you are compelled to admit its correlative,—the unreality, the impotence, the falsity and entire mortality of evil and matter. The creative power of Mind, of good,—the Fatherhood and Motherhood of God,—is the primal fact of existence; the relationship between the creator and His creation, between parent and child, is unchanging and indissoluble.

Now, do not misunderstand me. I in no way wish to minimize or ignore what the world calls evil; I have no disposition to spread any mantle of charity over ignorance, inertia, discord, sickness, strife, or to cry, "Peace, peace; when there is no peace." It is necessary to this intelligence to understand what is called evil, to deal with it radically and unflinchingly, but I earnestly maintain that no material method has ever been or ever will be devised which will so deal with the woes of the world. Christian Science does heal sickness and sin in all their myriad phases, and it does this by destroying the mistaken ideas which give rise to sin and sickness; it heals by giving the individual this right idea of causation, this true concept of God and man which, when established, in turn makes perfectly clear the baselessness and unreality of the appearance of evil. To go back to our definition of God: if these seven terms which Mrs. Eddy uses in defining God are synonymous, then, on the other hand, the exact opposites of these terms are synonymous, and in grouping them together one finds himself in possession of an accurate and comprehensive definition of evil. As one accustoms himself to think along these lines he will soon perceive that since Spirit, Truth, Love, God, mean exactly the same thing and signify that "substance of things hoped for," about which St. Paul tells us; so matter, falsity, hate, devil, mean exactly the same thing and their fundamental unreality is revealed. You cannot logically avoid the conclusion that there is indeed no truth outside of Love and no love save the mighty Truth, which is the infinite Father-Mother God. Nothing truthful can be unloving or unlovely; nothing loving can be lacking in veracity, integrity, or spirituality.

The truth is tender and gentle, full of compassion and protection, but through its very presence and existence falsity is inevitably uncovered and destroyed. Love is the all-powerful, animating, source of all the good we know, and by being, Love destroys hate; it is not possible to conceive, for a moment, of Love as recognizing, knowing, or being touched by any hate. So Spirit, by existing, precludes the existence of matter. Here again, as I have said before, we are not using the word spirit in its commonly accepted, vague, illusory, and superficial sense, but in its true and fundamental meaning, as practically identical with substance. Our false theories about life and its origin have led us to accept material beliefs about all things, and we have named our mistaken sense of substance, matter, and accepted as real and inevitable its phenomena. Having accepted a false premise, it is impossible to make any correct or reliable deduction, and so it is absolutely necessary to get back to the truth about life itself, in order to have any basis for right reasoning. Truly the teaching of Christian Science—this teaching of spiritual causation so revolutionary to the material sense of things—is absolute and radical, but it comes as Jesus its demonstrator said he came, not to destroy one jot or tittle of the law but to fulfill that law in love.

Our present sense of individual capacity and power, of the meaning of health and happiness, of life and love, comes not to destroy it but to uplift, —our present sense of country and of our love and devotion to it,—all this may be poor and meager, and yet Christian Science, this right idea, comes not to destroy it but to uplift, to purify, to enlarge and deepen our knowledge of its source, and to exalt and beautify our expression of it. It comes to make us happy and well, joyous, honest, loving and lovable, intelligent and beautiful; no good gift is denied to us as God's children.

The great mission of Christian Science is to teach us to think accurately, independently, spontaneously, and to reason honestly from the standpoint of understanding of true causation. This ability to think clearly and correctly, which is ours as a God-given capacity, enables us to understand the law of divine Principle and so to detect and uncover the falsity of the phenomena which are contrary to divine Principle; it also arms us with power to dispose of such phenomena in proportion to our understanding of their ephemeral and unreal character. Now disease is one of these phenomena which lays great claims upon our daily experience and holds the human race in bondage, and I know that I am right in saying that health will never be gained nor will it ever be maintained by any system that fails to eradicate disease. It is unquestionably true that the very foundation of all discordant human conditions lies in a mistaken sense of the source of life itself. Jesus meant this when he said, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." And today, in the accurate and systematic teaching of our Christian Science textbook, we have the explanation of the rule Jesus laid down and the necessary guidance for its proper application to our every need.

Back of all manifestation of evil lies the false supposition of an evil intelligence, of a mind opposed to God, and this false supposition is entirely untrue and inactive as it really is, is still the only source for that which seems to be malicious, destructive, hateful, and hating, and from this supposititious source spring all the principalities and powers of materialism,—the tyranny and domination of sensual and selfish aims and purposes. I urge upon you the persistent refutation of this corrupt and untrue sense of the point of the utter falsity of its origin, from the standpoint of the absolute, scientific knowledge of Life. In this process of acknowledging Truth and denying and correcting error we discover that knowing of the truth which is to make us free, and through this educational process which Christian Science demands we are led to submit our false sense of personal good to the will of Intelligence,—by humble, loving, heartfelt prayer. Jesus once said, "If two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven" (Matt. 18:19); but how sadly has his meaning been perverted when it is possible for men to believe that there is virtue in the concerted repetition of certain phrases at given hours, or that the so-called concentration of thought and desire can be used to bring to pass results in accord with limited, selfish, human purposes. Much that is purely mesmerism in its character has been called prayer, and today one of the greatest reasons for gratitude to the clear teaching of Mrs. Eddy is the enlightenment on this very subject. The kingdom of God can only come on earth, as she points out, through an enriching and governing of man's affections by Principle.

Christian Science has not come to bring peace to material beliefs, but a sword; it has come to give us such a sense of the majesty and might of Principle as will endow us with the courage to battle manfully against the forces of domination of the material mind. Our daily and unceasing prayer should be for that cleansing of ourselves from secret faults, for that fidelity and virtue which marks the man after God's own heart. Prayer in its best sense is truly a communion with God, with intelligence, a quiet and deep recognition of Love's presence and protecting care,—a desire and the effort to use the gifts which good bestows and the consequent denial and rejection of every mortal fault and weakness. Its potency is expressed in right activity. Salvation from evil can only come through a knowledge of good,—a knowledge of good so clear and certain that one applies it unhesitatingly to human affairs and proves its efficacy in destroying the appearance of evil.

He enters heaven with prayer."

—James Montgomery.

Never, I believe, in all human history was there spread before the assembled nations—as in an open book—such an explanation and astounding revelation of the false nature of evil. So Spirit, by existing, precludes the world's affairs. Nor has there ever been such a rallying to the standard uplifted by a more spiritual idea of life and government. We are living in a time of marvelous opportunity, when, as Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 83), "Science only can explain the incredible good and elements now coming to the surface. We are in the midst of the great struggle for liberty that humanity has ever known,—called upon to stand in the very front rank of battle by the side of our splendid allies, to represent a more spiritual sense of good, of life and government, in opposing the aggregate of the mortal belief in a power apart from good. We are under orders. Let us arise in the might of a right idea and stand, each in his own place, filled with faith and courage born of divine Love, and with the wish and will to sacrifice our sense of self for the good of all, let us uphold the standard of freedom. Right alone makes might; there is no love without intelligence and no intelligence except in the great, all-wise Love, that ever present divine basis of government, to which belongs all honor and justice, integrity and liberty.

Behold, here is the parting of the ways, and we who have named the name of Christ—that is, have acknowledged the nature, the character of Truth—are left in a choice in the matter; we must walk the straight and narrow path of loyalty and duty. Today we are, indeed, being weighed in the great balance of wisdom and Love. May we as a nation not be found wanting, but, on the contrary, be found with the capacity and power and will to uphold Principle in every department of life. Do not forget that your "eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord" and that today and here, "He is sounding forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat; He is sifting out the hearts of men before his judgment seat; Oh! be swift, my soul, to answer Him; be jubilant, my feet! Our God is marching on."

Julia Ward Howe.

The true brotherhood of man, real democracy,—these are ideas of Mind which are to be understood and demonstrated, and for this reason Christian Science undoubtedly affords the only consistent and permanent solution of the problems of labor and capital, of temperance and social reform, of the equal rights and responsibilities of men and women, of civil, religious, and racial liberty. The liberator is Love and Love alone, but not a weak and erring sensual affection that selfishly condones or ignores the claim of evil. That alone is worthy the name of love that is identified with Principle,—that is keen and searching and unflinching in its detection of wrong, and unswerving in its demand upon the individual to separate himself from evil and walk uprightly. The sacrifice of false sense, of wayward will and lust for personal power and glory is demanded repeatedly by Love; but in reward for obedience to this demand, Love bestows the crowning reward of sonship in the kingdom of God. This is the proof of the healing efficacy of Christian Science, and it is applicable to every detail of human experience in the life of the individual and of the nation.

We can never show too grateful a love, too humble an appreciation of the mighty spirit and the tender compassion which impelled Mrs. Eddy to seek and to gain this great gift of knowledge, and to pour it, a veritable balm, into the hearts of a waiting world. In the beginning she had to beg and beseech, with tears running down her cheeks, to be permitted to help the afflicted out of their sufferings, but today the warm and pulsating affection of tens of thousands of those resurrected from sin and disease bears witness to her magnificent achievement. We love and reverence her for her purity and devotion to good, for her self-abnegation and her generous and loving sacrifice for our welfare, for the keenness of her vision and her intuitive grasp of the deep things of Mind. We pay her homage and acknowledge her absolutely unique place in the world's history as the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and we heed both the spirit and the letter of her earnest admonition, "Follow your Leader only so far as she follows Christ" (Message for 1901, p. 34).

Do you realize what a marvel it is to human sense that today, in the very throes of the struggle against the powers of darkness and tyranny of materialism, in hamlets and villages, in great cities and in far countries, in great army camps and along far-flung battle lines, in the secret counsels of hundreds of thousands of individual hearts all round the globe, there is being repeated in the wonderful words of our beloved Leader a clear, succinct, inspired statement of demonstrated and demonstrated knowledge of what life actually is. The courage and the joy of it is beyond belief; it rings in our ears with no uncertain tone and finds its echo in our hearts.

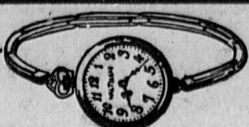

The scientific statement of being (Science and Health, p. 468) is a trumpet call of truth which rallies to its support the thinking men and women of the age,—those worn and weary with the bondage of material sense and the wandering in the desert of mortal hopes and fears. The advancing hosts today follow its clarion note on, on, into the promised land.

In a gathering such as this, one recognizes the impulse of that "hunger and thirst after righteousness" which today urges the world of humanity to seek to understand the infinite Love, the divine intelligence which created and sustains the universe and man. Since God, good, is our Father and Mother, our true fatherland is the great kingdom of heaven, that land of promise which Moses so beautifully pictured to the children of Israel, in words that are figuratively and literally true, when he wrote: "For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; a land of wheat, and barley and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of olive oil, and honey; a land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills they shall bring brass. When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee" (Deuteronomy 8: 7-10). This fair land metaphysically understood, is the universe of Mind's creating,—the secret place of the Most High—a present fact, not a future possibility, and Mrs. Eddy says that "of this kingdom there shall be no end, for Christ, God's idea, will eventually rule all nations and peoples—imperatively, absolutely, finally—with divine Science" (Science and Health, p. 565).

COPYRIGHT REPERTORY THEATRE

—When Mr. Henry Jewett gave Shaw's "Candida" at the Copyright Repertory Theatre during his first season there, both the play and the performance met with a huge success. He will now revive it for a single week, beginning next Monday evening, and it promises a popularity equal to that of its first presentation at that house. "Candida" was one of the first of the Shaw plays to be acted in this country, and it has remained ever since one of his most popular comedies. "Candida" is typical Shaw with all his best satire and his most effervescent humor. Its story involves only a few characters, and they are all drawn with Shaw's surest and sanest touch. Its dialogue abounds in epigrams that are as whimsical as they are genuinely delightful, and its story is rich in paradoxes that would do credit to the late Gilbert of comic opera fame.

Demonstration Home Garden

One day last summer a back-to-the-lander came into our office greatly excited over a new insect he had discovered that was doing much damage to his crops. The county agent was summoned to inspect the crops in order to ascertain the nature of the strange pest. He appeared on the scene just in time to see the insect disappear in its burrow. The insect (?) was a woodchuck.

There is no cause for the home gardener to become alarmed over insect pests for there is a preventative for each one. The right remedy applied at the proper time will keep any pest under control.

The first insect visitors are the cutworms. These pests attack nearly all vegetable crops and do a great deal of damage, especially to plants that have been transplanted to the garden.

The common cutworms are soft-bodied, smooth, cylindrical caterpillars. They vary in color from a pale gray to a dark dirty gray and are sometimes spotted or striped. They live over winter in the soil and appear in the garden about this time of the year.

From now on the home gardener should be on the lookout for these worms as they frequently do severe injury before they are noticed.

Cutworms do their feeding at night. In the daytime they are in hiding in the soil. There are two sure methods of control. One method is to wrap a band of newspaper about the stems of newly transplanted plants. Place the paper band around the stems in such a way that a portion of it will be beneath the surface of the ground when the plant is set.

By this method the cutworm is kept away from the stem of the plant. In a few weeks the newspaper will rot and become ineffective but the ravages of the cutworm will be over by this time.

Another successful practice to combat cutworms is to kill them by means of poison bait. The bait should be sprinkled around the young plant in the evening. Just a little of the poison is all that is required. Poison bait is made by mixing together 1 quart of bran, 1 ounce of white arsenic or Paris green, 3 pints of water and 1 pint of molasses.

There is another insect that the home gardener should look out for when setting out cabbage plants. It is the cabbage root maggot. A practical method to prevent these troublesome insects from getting on the cabbage plants is to place a tangle of paper around the stem close to the ground. An ounce of prevention in the garden is worth a pound of spray materials.

UNITARIAN MAY FESTIVAL

The weather man was certainly in a pleasant mood when the Unitarian May Festival was held Monday afternoon at Jolly's Hollow, the residence of Mr. A. C. Burnham on Bracebridge road, Newton Centre.

It was a wonderful spot for a May Frolie, the trees, the rustic bridge, and the sloping sward all making an ideal setting.

Promptly at four o'clock, the dainty May Queen, Betty Muther, all in white, appeared over the brow of the hill in an open basket wagon filled with May Blossoms, surrounded by her attendants, Patience Widger, Frances Muther, Frances Place, and Virginia Lewis. Simultaneously, the villagers in gay attire appeared and seated themselves on the green to watch the festivities.

The first of these was the Maypole dance danced by ten little girls in white with blue or pink wreaths. Those who took part were Hannah Bond, Phyllis Earle, Marjorie Muther, Caroline Lewis, Eleanor Hosmer, Rosamond Edwards, Mary Frances McKee and Eleanor Hawes. The music consisted of a violin and piano and was under the charge of Miss Maud Maddox, while the dancers were trained by Miss Hazel Sands. Mrs. James Bartlett Melcher, chairman of the committee had charge of the very effective costumes.

Following the Maypole dance came the milk maids in bonnets and yellow skirts making an attractive bit of color in the landscape. These were Alice Clement, Ruth Bailey, Mary Bond, Mildred McKee, Virginia Baxter, Eleanor Beers, Mildred Brown, Cleone Priscilla Cobb and Elizabeth McKee. Only the cow failed to understand what was expected of her and in her excitement wound herself around the stake to which she was tethered until some one came to her rescue.

Anon came the woodsmen in brown, with pointed caps and shoes and green leggings and carrying staves. These were Richard Powers, Edwin Smith, Lewis Bailey, Brooks Piper, Lawrie Muther, and Adelaide Lincoln.

A charming nature dance by Lida Hubbard then followed. She was dressed in flimsy garments of various colors giving an iridescent effect. She tossed up into the air blue, orange and white balloons laughingly running after them.

Then came a shepherdess Elizabeth McKee, in a dainty costume of blue and white, closely followed by two men, Lida Hubbard and Adelaide Lincoln with whom she coquetted, dancing up first to one and then to the other, finally leaving them and running lightly away while they pursued in vain.

Maid Marion, Augusta Bradford, now appeared with gay cap and feather, riding a handsome steed and attended by Adelaide Hawes.

Finally came Robin Hood and his merry men in Lincoln green carrying bows and arrows. These were Caroline Bovey, Lallia Curry, Hope Carlisle, Ruth Darling, Rhoda Piper, Esther Clement, Josephine Wells and Elizabeth Hawes. Friar Tuck Alice Fellows and the Jester Margaret Hahn stood watching the scene or walked about among the villagers.

The program concluded with the Archer's Dance by Robin Hood and his merry men. This was very effective. The audience composed mostly of children was most appreciative not only of the program but of the ice cream and lemonade as well.

Board of Aldermen

Only routine business was transacted Monday night at the meeting of the aldermen, at which Vice-President Cole presided for a part of the time, and from which, Aldermen Kendrick and McCarthy were the only members absent.

Hearings were held on locating an electric light pole on Carver road, on gasoline permits for J. A. Milligan, Whitlow road and Liberty Motor Mart on Washington street, on pole locations for the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. on Homer street and Walnut street and on the Crafts street and establishing a new line on Rossmore road, no one appearing in any case.

Mayor Childs recommended $6,458.60 for collection of garbage for the remainder of the year under a new contract, and for $125 additional for Memorial Day expenses, both of which were granted. On his recommendation $10,000 Street Improvement bonds were authorized and the appointment of James J. Murphy as a Public Weigher was confirmed. The Mayor's invitation to the board to serve on his staff as chief marshal on Memorial Day, was accepted.

Harrison W. Mellen of Lake avenue and John C. Carley of Elliot avenue were drawn as jurors for the Cambridge Superior court.

Petitions of John Segerson, F. Paul Welsh, H. H. Read, Amato Pescosolido, for auctioneer licenses, of Felice Olivieri of Boyd street, N. L. Bliss and S. H. Mitchell of Moreland avenue, Dr. H. W. Thayer of Walnut street, C. Cuttolo of Watertown street, and Fred R. Furbush for private garage permits, the North End Garden Association to allow children to appear at entertainment in Players Hall, of Rev. J. Edgar Park to allow children to appear at entertainment at the Second Church, and of the Newton Sewer Machine Co. to keep and sell gasoline on Crafts street were granted.

Other petitions were received for the laying out of Sawaco road, for street sprinkling on Pulisfer street, and Albemarle road, and for sewers in Cabot and Wetherell streets.

Leave to withdraw was granted on petitions of Martha R. Speri for victualler license, at 628 Commonwealth avenue, of Tony Lap for auto truck licenses, of A. Avantaggio for victualler license, Washington street, of Solomon Ruben for junk collector license, and of W. J. Gibson, Austin street, and W. W. Trowbridge, Chestnut street to erect multiple garages, and for curbing on Murphy court.

Hearings were assigned on June 2 for taking land for sewers in Parkview avenue, Priscilla road, and for sidewalks on Hammond street. Soldiers relief of $24 per month was granted Mrs. Della Delehanty and street sprinkling authorized on Albemarle road, Pulisfer street, Brooks avenue, Foster street and Nonantum street. Land was taken and sewers ordered built in Manomet road and Avondale road, and $340.95 appropriated for Laborer's pensions.

$7500 addition was voted for New Stoddard work, while a companion order for $2500 for new curbing was referred to the Finance committee, although Alderman Foknal could see no reason for the delay. An order for $22,000 for work on South Meadow brook was also referred to the Finance committee.

$10,600 was voted for drainage on Austin and Mt. Vernon streets after ex-president Blanchard, who was in the chamber, was requested to express some objections, as he has recently purchased a house in the neighborhood. Mr. Blanchard cleverly retorted that the only objection he could find was the length of time it had taken the board to make the appropriation.

There was some discussion of the report of the Finance committee that it was inexpedient to create an additional sergeant of Police. Alderman Angier said that this should have been discussed as a budget matter, and not come up at this time. He said that Newton had more police officers per capita than any other city in the country. Alderman Hollis objected to the report and it was recommended.

MOTHER GOOSE

Enjoyable Entertainment Given at Second Church West Newton

That Mother Goose lives eternally in the hearts of children was clearly shown in the appeal which the tableaux given at the Second Church, West Newton, on Friday evening made to the children. The Mother Goose Tableaux arranged by the very able chairman, Mrs. Walton Redfield, and her committee were given in the setting of a large picture frame, and were most effective in costume and pose.

The first picture presented was that of a Salvation Army Lassie with the words: "She has done her duty, have you?" Then followed Mother Goose with her "Mother Goose" song. The Mother Goose tableaux arranged by the very able chairman, Mrs. Walton Redfield, and her committee were given in the setting of a large picture frame, and were most effective in costume and pose.

In order the Mother Goose representations were Mother Goose herself, Three Little Kittens who lost their mittens, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," "Old Mother Hubbard," "Little Miss Muffet"—with a most realistic spider—"Little Jack Horner," "The Old Woman who lived in a Shoe"—the shoe filled to overflowing with dolls standing in the foreground, "Curly Locks, Curly Locks." The lines, "You shall feast on sugar and cream," were recited with an evident relish which captivated grown-ups as well as children.

As a kind of interlude those Mother Goose Rhymes which have been put to music were sung between the presentation of the pictures.

"Humpty Dumpty" was very popular, as was the "Queen of Hearts" who wore a most wonderful costume. "Little Boy Blue" slept peacefully on, though told that the cow was in the meadow and the sheep in the corn, while the tragedy of "Jack and Jill" was very effective. "Tommy Tucker" sang for his supper. "The Cat played the Fiddle"—a most extraordinary cat of rather large proportions—while the cow was seen in the background jumping over the moon. Red Riding Hood was easily recognizable, as were Mary and her little lamb, and Bo-Peep. Jack Spratt and his wife quite obviously "kept the platter clean," while the "Ride to Banbury Cross" and "Pussy Cat, Pussy Cat" were also effective.

The group of the mother and two children illustrating "Bean Porridge Hot" was charming, as was "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." Old King Cole seemed to thoroughly enjoy his pipe, and Marjorie Daw and her companion their see-saw.

Perhaps the most effective of all was Baby Bunting waiting in his little nest for father to find a rabbit skin "to wrap the baby Bunting in." The performance which lasted two hours, concluded with the reappearance of Mother Goose to say "Good-night." Judging by the size of the audience, the little Red Bank in whose interest the performance was given must have gained many pennies with which to do its splendid work next year.

Salvation Army Lassie, Lillian Johnson.
Mother Goose, Leora Bacon.

Rice of Newton Centre, sponsored the 5500 ton, fabricated steel ship "Boston Bridge" which was launched last Saturday at the yards of the Newark Submarine Corporation at Newark Bay, N. J. This ship was named in honor of the Boston Bridge Work of which Mr. D. H. Andrews, the grandfather of Miss Rice, is president, and which has been engaged in the construction of parts for the ships fabricated in this yard. The big ship slid down the ways at four o'clock, as the crowd cheered and the band played the "Star Spangled Banner." HIGH SCHOOL OF OUR LADY

A very pleasing entertainment given by the students of the High School of Our Lady in the School Hall Tuesday evening, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The three-act play, "An Unexpected Result," was well presented by the High School boys. A very artistic dance was given by the girls. The individual numbers, readings by the Misses Margaret Flanagan, Agnes Campbell and John Mahan; also the vocal solos by Paul Ryan and Walter Kearns were appreciated. The three-act play was under the direction of Mr. Charles York, while the dance was taught by Mrs. Rose Campbell Nicholson.

The cast included John E. Murphy, Lewis F. Kearns, James P. Atkins, Thomas L. Ryan, Francis B. Driscoll, Wm. P. Sweeney, Edward T. McCruden, John J. Hart, Richard J. Leonard, John I. Vahey, John J. Murphy, Frank J. Mulligan and Edward A. Hickey.

TO HONOR NURSES

Public Meeting to be Held Sunday at Newton Hospital

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock there is to be a public meeting on the grounds of the Newton Hospital in recognition of the work done by Newton nurses during the war, and the people of the city will have an opportunity to show by their attendance at the meeting their appreciation of the work that was done.

What the nurses did at home during the influenza epidemic when Newton was practically the only city in the state in which the nurses of the city were able to take care of the cases and to give help to outside cities and towns. Newton was able to take care of itself because of the number of young women training to become nurses and no record would be complete that did not include the services rendered by the undergraduate nurses as a part of their regular training at the Hospital. The Hospital handled cases until it was so crowded that it was necessary at the height of the epidemic to establish the Red Cross Emergency Hospital as a branch of the Newton Hospital to take care of cases which could not be admitted to the Hospital because of lack of room. In the first week of the epidemic when men were sent to the Hospital from the Naval Hospital twenty-three nurses at the Hospital were victims of the influenza. In the state records Newton stands at the top for the way in which it met the epidemic and the record was made possible because of its nurses and the preparedness for emergencies of the part of the officials of the Newton Hospital.

The Training Annex established at Newton Centre to make it possible for the Newton Hospital to increase the number of young women under its training has enabled it to train sixty one or forty more than could have been taken care of if the Annex had not been established. The young women who have been under training did not have a chance to work in camps or foreign hospitals but they have been faithful in the work of preparing themselves to serve as trained nurses and had the war continued some of them would this year have been ready to serve as graduate nurses. As it is, because of the Annex, the number of Newton Hospital graduate nurses will be materially increased this year.

Many of the graduate nurses of the Hospital who would have liked to serve abroad or at the army or navy camps in the United States were unable to do so because duty made it imperative they should stick to the work the war found them doing. Of the graduates who could serve the Hospital records show that 89 served with the army and navy either at home or abroad and that 23 volunteered for service during the epidemic of influenza. Of the 89 who served with the army or navy 44 were engaged in service abroad; 7 in service both at home and abroad; 31 were engaged in service at home, 15 with

The exercises were held in Newton Catholic Clubhouse, and were attended by a large number of members and visitors. The council had 78 men in the service and only one, Walter Merrill, failed to return. John J. Hickey, G.K. president, among the guests was Col. John S. J. Herbert of Worcester, who made such a gallant fight at St. Louis for the organization of an American Legion. He urged all returned soldiers to join the Legion as it meant much to them to have such a body to look after their interests. Judge W. J. Day, Judge M. F. Kennedy, Daniel J. Gallagher, D.D., Fr. Slattery, Fr. Keller and Mayor Childs were the other speakers. James P. Gallagher was toastmaster. There was community singing, and selections by Edward Quilty, J. H. Barwise and Walter Kearns.

Capt. James A. Waters was chairman of the general committee and the chairman of the various subcommittees were as follows: Thomas F. Hesston, tickets; George M. Cox, transportation; Daniel H. Harrigan, catering; John E. Kelley, entertainment; Walter F. Hayden, cigars; Thomas M. Spellman, decorations; John J. Nolan, printing; James H. Cain, publicity. GIRL SCOUTS' FIELD DAY

Interesting Exercises in Cabot Park and Many Merit Badges Awarded

The Girl Scouts of Newton held their Spring rally on Saturday, May 24, on Cabot Park, Newtonville. About 250 Scouts took part in the demonstration and all entered into the different contests with keen interest and many of the events proved most exciting. The Rally began at 2.30. After First Call and Assembly played on the bugle by Scout Marion Maxim, Troop 1, the Troops marched onto the field and lined up before the reviewing stand. Colors were sounded after which the Scouts pledged Allegiance to the Flag and repeated the Scout Promise and Laws. The Troops then marched off the field and the various contests began.

Marching—Troop 5, first: Troop 3, second: Troop 2, third.

Semaphore—Troop 3, first: Troop 4, second: Troop 5 (Senior Division), third.

Knot-tying (for girls under 12)—Troop 4, first: Troop 1, second: Troop 2, third.

Knot-tying (for girls over 12)—Troop 1, first: Troop 3, second: Troop 5 (Senior Division), third.

Wig Wag—Troop 2, first: Troop 4, second: Troop 3, third.

Troop 3, second: Troop 1, third.

Fire building—Troop 5 (Juniors), first: Troop 4, second: Troop 5 (Seniors), third.

Obstacle race—Troop 5 (Seniors), first: Troop 6, second: Troop 5 (Juniors), third.

The fire building contest was the special feature of the afternoon. Each Troop had a team of two girls. To each of these teams was given a small bundle of wood and two matches and at a given signal the girls untied the wood, opened their knives and proceeded to make a fire and make it burn. The winning team made a splendid fire in a very short time, the secret of its success being the way the girls shaved their wood for the beginning of their fire. Four of the six teams competing in this event got their fires going, two of the teams using only one match each.

After these events were over, Merit Badges were awarded. The Scouts in the different troops have been working hard all the Spring on this Merit Badge work and over one hundred and fifty awards were given out. The girls winning the badges were:

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

The following sermon was delivered last Sunday at the Second Church by Rev. Thomas Chalmers at the baccalaureate service of the Allen's Military school of West Newton.

"The Moral Worth of War"

"I bear in my body the scars of the Lord Jesus."—Paul.

War is the school of heroism, of self sacrifice, of the science of the deepest living and of the art of great dying. All this is learned in battle by the commonest man. The best of men sometimes learn little of it elsewhere.

These words from one who believes in the military education of youth may sound bloodthirsty. They are not so meant. The warfare that springs from national or dynastic ambition, from some great ruler's egotism or from base lust of power or love of destruction is of hell. We hate it. We loathe it. But the war that comes when men spring to arms to rescue justice, truth, honor or freedom from the devouring, flaming breath of the monster, and when the tramp of the troops, the rhythm of a great emotion for humanity makes even the earth to resound with high purpose, such a war is not hell. It may be hunger, deprivation, suffering, bloodshed, death; but it may be as far away from hell as is heaven itself. Ease, indolence, luxurious living—all this may not be heaven. If it is within reach of the oppressor, to whom it rearses to put forth a hand or lift one word of hope or courage, it is though comfortable, may itself be hell.

The pacifist believes that war is wrong of itself. We believe that it is right or wrong according to the cause the host is battling for. We believe in every conceivable same method to make war impossible or unlikely. We believe in the league of nations. It would be folly of the strangest sort if the peoples who have spent these recent years in curbing and finally throttling the power of a great destroyer should make peace and go home without a rather detailed arrangement among themselves and other right minded nations to safeguard the world against some future similar tragedy. I think the ordinary man who helped see this war to a finish is ready for just such an arrangement as he finds in this covenant of the league of nations. He fails to see prospective disasters from this world league such as he has first seen because of the absence of such a league. Every possible thing should be done to event war, except one. There is one thing which should not be done. The spirit of heroism should not be stamped out of the heart of man. The pacifist who carries his propaganda to that extent is bleeding his race. He is draining off the red blood of self denial, and injecting the serum of selfishness in its veins. With all our love of peace we may yet again and again have to fight. Shall we not this fair earth over to the bolshevik because we love peace and ease to much to meet him with at least his own reckless unconcern of personal consequences? Then he will become our master and we his slaves. If social justice, liberty and fair dealing are to survive on the earth, it will be because the powers of dissolution know that pain and death have no terrors for us when the fight is joined. The threat that comes rolling across the world today from Petrograd and Moscow and Budapest and Munich is a threat designed for timid men. It is a species of blackmail, as when a man with an unjust bill sends word to his peaceful neighbor: "Pay me this bill or I will haul you into court."

In Rome in the time of Paul lived men in ease and luxury. Paul bore the scars. Epictetus bore scars too. Give me the scars of Paul and Epictetus, not the ease and luxury of those selfish souls whose names perished with the passing of their breath.

What shall we say of those who died in this great war? Shall we weep, shall we lament at the sound of their merry laughter comes back to us from other days, as we see their smiling faces in our dreams, only to wake again and again and to know that those peals of laughter are to grow fainter with the years? No, we shall not weep for them. Like the virgins of old, their lamps were trimmed and burning when the bridegroom came. The greatest opportunity of the age came to them and they were awake and had oil in their lamps. They went in to the great feast and left us behind. They sleep in Flanders fields. They kept their rendezvous with death; and here we are making and keeping or breaking our daily appointments of one kind or another and bound to die some day in bed with spoons and bottles on the table and a thermometer under our tongue.

"He died in the service"—No greater glory can come to man. But the battle of life is still on, and there are scars of service to be won yet.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Ruth Eleanor Donohue, the little daughter of James Donohue of Church road gave a party Tuesday afternoon to her little friends to honor her 7th birthday. Those present were, Eleanor Gulon, Virginia Chivers, Dorothy Taylor, Jack Stanley, Ruth Howlett, Priscilla Moore, Marcia Collins, Adell Crogman, Elise Crogman, Mary MacPherson, and Margaret Webber.

Games of all descriptions were played. Marcia Collins won 1st prize in the peanut hunt; Ruth Howlett, 1st prize in the donkey game; and Margaret Webber took the booby prize. Little Miss Ruth played "Smiles" on the piano and gave some very pretty fancy dancing.

Then came the march to the dining-room, to the music of the Star Spangled Banner played by Mrs. Donohue. The table was decorated in the patriotic colors. The birth cake was decorated with tiny flags and the ice cream was in the shape of fruit in the spun sugar. Miss Ruth was the recipient of many pretty and useful presents. After a few more games, a tired out happy lot of Ruth's friends wended their way home wishing Ruth a "very great many of such days." Mrs. Henry Collins and Mrs. Wallace MacPherson assisted Mrs. Donohue.

EDITORIAL

This is a wonderful Memorial Day, the first the present day and generation have actually experienced as a personal "Memorial." Heretofore we have watched the impressive efforts of the Grand Army as if they, in no way, affected ourselves. But today, with nearly a hundred of the young men of this city lying in their graves as the result of war, the significance of the day takes a deeper grip on our hearts and minds and we can realize, possibly for the first time, what the day stands for and commemorates. It is also a new Memorial Day, in that, for the first time, the Grand Army of the Republic, must share it with men of other days and generations. For over fifty years, it has been peculiarly a day for the veterans of the Civil War, but from this time forward, it will be honored for all our valiant dead, and will take a deeper personal hold on everyone of us in consequence.

On account of the holiday, which requires us to go to press a day earlier than usual, we are unable to issue a ten page paper, and considerable news matter must be held over until our next issue.

Ruth Fried played the piano, David Fried the violin, and Louis Fried the violin. After the exercises a reception was given the guests followed by a buffet luncheon.

PLAYGROUND NOTICE

The playgrounds in Newton are now under supervision Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, and mornings and afternoons on Saturdays. These are the days when it is best to send the children to the playgrounds. They are taught careful use of play apparatus, as swings, teeters and slides. It is not always safe for very young children to play around the apparatus when the older children are present and when there is no supervision, since little children are apt to run around without recognizing the danger of swings when another child is swinging. When the instructors are there they keep their eye on the different groups and if necessary teach the children to know when and how to approach from the safe end. As soon as the schools close there will be supervision on the playgrounds every day.

MAYTIME

And Night steals o'er the land
We wander in the moonlight
To join the spectral band
Of gliding, dreamy shadows
White-flecked with phantom snow,
And the daintily tinted petals
Like confetti wrapt below.

With perfume of the flowers
And the echo of our footsteps
Mar the silence of the hours.
The rich pageantry of Nature
Unfolds mysteries everywhere,
Wrests the soul from doubt and failure
To a world all pure and fair.
